BEVERLY HILLS, June 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Another great nation owes Lindbergh a debt of gratitude for an entirely new reason; he helped aviation for us when it was at its lowest ebb. Well, marriage among prospective monarchs in England was never at a lower ebb than when Lindbergh set them his excellent example. He drove us to the air and England to the altar. I knew the Prince was about through as a sport when I heard he had taken up golf. Now we will see if the photographers muff this wedding. They will follow every sedan that leaves London from now on. Its a great linking of Windsor Castle and Minneapolis.

Hongkong Water Shortage Acute

Less Than Month's Supply Available as Result of Lengthy Drought

Chinese Receive Daily Dole; Ships Add to Scant Stores of Fluid

HONGKONG (China) June 12. (AP) Unusual and in some cases distressing scenes are being enacted daily throughout Hongkong's island because of the water famine which resulted from a drought of ten months broken by only occasional showers. The settlement is dependent on rainfall and since last September this has totaled only 19.39 inches, only a fraction of the average.

Reservoirs which normally hold more than a billion gallons of water, are virtually depleted. The same conditions exist on the mainland. Under severe restrictions which have been put into effect, the quantity at present available is equal to less than one month's supply.

Large emergency tanks are being constructed on the water front and also in congested sections of the Chinese districts. Into these tanks steamers are pumping water imported from Manila, Shanghai and other Chinese ports. Thousands of

Cloudburst Destroys Lights and Much Property at Camp in Africa

Wild Beasts Invade Region of 'Trader Horn' Location; Carey Loses Clothes

[Copyright, 1929, by Chicago Tribune.]

CAPETOWN, June 12. (Exclusive) A thrilling drama of the kind usually enacted on the screen, but which they did not expect to play in real life, suddenly descended upon the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer company "on location" in East Africa last Thursday when a terrific cloudburst broke loose at 1:30 o'clock in the morning and imperiled the lives of the actors, in addition to causing damage estimated at $7500.

According to full reports which have just reached here, the company headed by the film star, Harry Carey, was engaged in making a film in the vicinity of Murchison Falls, sixty miles up the Nile from Victoria Nyanza.

CAMP FLOODED

When the torrent began to fall upon the camp, the adjacent valley containing the dwellings of many of the actors became a whirling flood sweeping toward the Nile, carrying tents, cameras, films, provisions and personal possessions, including Carey's personal wardrobe, with it. The members of the company were drenched and were without shelter or provisions.

Since the raging torrent had incapacitated completely the wireless station, the colony was cut off from the outside world until the company's steamer made its usual trip up the Nile bringing supplies. Until the electric lamps of the power plant could be repaired, the actors said they had had to battle for their lives for three days, most of the time in darkness.

INVASION OF BEASTS

When the lighting plant again functioned there was revealed a weird scene of confusion and desolation, according to members of the party. The Nile, which had risen six inches had infested the area with wild game while many crocodiles and hippopotami had come up the river.

The company, which is filming the Trader Horn picture, is composed of thirty-five whites and 100 natives.

FORMER DRY AGENT SLAIN IN AMBUSH

Dixie Officer Who Waged Fight on Moonshiners Found Dead in Auto

HUNTSVILLE (Ala.) June 12. (AP) R. Hugh Craft, former prohibition enforcement agent and Madison county deputy sheriff, was shot from ambush as he drove from his farm home near Gurley to Huntsville early today.

Craft's body was found slumped over the steering wheel of his car in a thickly wooded section at a spot half-way between Gurley and Huntsville. The left side of his head had been almost torn away by a charge of bird shot fired from a shotgun. In addition, a pistol bullet had been fired into his forehead at close range.

Footprints of two persons were found in the soft ground at the place from where the shotgun is believed to have been fired. Bloodhounds traced the tracks from Craft's automobile, which was wrecked against a tree trunk when its driver was shot, to a roadway across a mountain. The officers believed the slayers entered an automobile where the trail was lost.

During the several years he served as a prohibition agent and until his retirement a few weeks ago from the county forces, Craft waged an active campaign against moonshiners.

POOR LUCK STILL DOGS SEA FLYERS

Weather Turns Bad After Repairs Are Completed on Swedish Plane

REYKJAVIK (Iceland) June 12. (AP)—Ill luck continued today to dog the attempt of Capt. Albin Ahrenberg to pilot the seaplane Sverige to America by way of the Arctic route. Following upon several vain attempts to get away from Reykjavik yesterday, all frustrated by small mechanical defects, the aviators made a fresh flight early this morning, but it turned out to be only a trial.

The main trouble today was with a defective radiator. Mechanics had repaired it after yesterday's failures, but the repair failed to hold. This time the radiator was removed from the plane and brought ashore.

Mechanics said they could complete repairs to the radiator in a few hours. But meanwhile the reports showed that the weather around Ivigtut, Greenland, the next scheduled stop, was becoming unfavorable. This factor made it unlikely that any further attempt to cover the more than 800 miles over ice and water on the next leg would be made until the weather clears.

Oxford College Professor May Succeed Howard

WASHINGTON, June 12. (Exclusive)—Sir Gilbert Murray, regius professor of Greek at Oxford, may be the next British Ambassador to the United States.

In diplomatic circles today it was suggested that Sir Gilbert may succeed Sir Esme Howard, present British Ambassador, some time late this summer. It has been understood generally that Ambassador Howard will not leave until next February, when he is scheduled to retire from the diplomatic service.

Kermit Brings Home Specimen of Rare Panda

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12. (Exclusive)—Kermit Roosevelt arrived here from the Near West today with the first complete specimen of a panda ever brought out of the jungles.

The huge animal, shot by Kermit and Theodore Roosevelt in the Tibetan wilderness, weighed 300 pounds and resembles a bear. Unlike the bear, it does not hibernate and has forty-two rather than forty teeth.

Civilization's only other glimpse of a panda, or part of a panda, was in 1869 when a French priest took a fragment of pelt to Europe where it is now in a museum. The animal is extremely rare.

Ocean Flights Start Today, Pilots Assert

OLD ORCHARD (Me.) June 12. (AP)—Definite announcement that a take-off for Europe will be made at about 5 o'clock tomorrow morning was made late tonight by the members of the crews of the monoplanes Yellow Bird, bound for Paris, and the Green Flash, whose destination is Rome.

This decision was reached after receiving favorable weather advices.

SEATTLE, June 12. (AP)—Believing their dead leader will arise from the grave within seventy-two hours, followers of Daniel Salwt, 84 years of age, head of the Seventh Elect Church of Israel, refused tonight to surrender his body to city health authorities.

He died last night.

BAPTISTS CHANGE SPEAKER

Bishop McConnell Protested as Too Modern to Address Denver Convention

DENVER, June 12. (AP)—Bishop Francis J. McConnell of the Methodist Church, Brooklyn, chosen several weeks ago to be the keynote speaker at the annual meeting of the Northern Baptist convention which opens here Friday, has been relieved of that honor as a result of protest filed by nineteen ministers because of Bishop McConnell's "modernism."

Dr. Avery A. Shaw, president of Dennison University at Granville, O., has been chosen as the guest speaker.

Practically all of the protestants against the appearance of Bishop McConnell are ministers of Denver and Colorado, many of whom were serving pastorates in the State when Bishop McConnell was a minister here before his elevation to bishop.

BOOK BASIS OF PROTEST

Basing their protest against Bishop McConnell and his "modernistic" beliefs on his book, "The Christ-like God," published two years ago, the protestants declare:

"We cannot help feeling that the recognition by the Northern Baptist convention of one who is widely known as holding these views expressed on page 15 of "The Christ-like God," would seem plainly to give approval to this position and erroneously represent what we find to be the unmistakable and unequivocal declarations of God's Word as properly held by the great Baptist denomination." Concluding the printed protest the appeal for a new speaker says:

NAMES KEPT SECRET

"We appreciate the embarrassment which such a change of speaker for the keynote message of our convention would involve, but we believe the great issues of the hour must not be obscured by lesser considerations."

The protest against Bishop McConnell, according to the ministers who signed it, resulted from adverse reports received from all over the country as a result of his selection.

"From many sources outside our State," reads the protest, "voices have been raised against the selection of the keynote speaker for the coming convention."

Four of the ministers who signed the protest and presented it to the program committee declined to have their names made public.

LAW GRABS BANKERS IN NUDE SWIM

Seven on Way to Attend Convention Pause for Dip and Trouble Begins

SACRAMENTO, June 12. (AP)—Clad only in nature's raiment, seven prominent San Joaquin county bankers, cavorting about like nymphs in the waters of the Sacramento River near Clarksburg, ran shivering and embarrassed into the watchful arm of the law late today, nearly ending their motor boat trip to the Sacramento convention in handcuffs.

Only the fact that Sheriff Monroe of Yolo county sympathized with their efforts to escape a beating sun, and was impressed with their convention credentials, saved the officials from treking off to the lock-up.

The staid bankers figuring in the river escapade were:

Arbor Barth, president of the Bank of Manteca.

Louis Wright, manager of the Manteca branch of the Bank of Italy.

George Finkbohner, vice-president of the Bank of America, Stockton.

Clarence Stewart, vice-president of the Union Safe Deposit Bank, Stockton.

R. L. E. Berhardt, vice-president of the Stockton Savings and Loan Bank.

Jack Raggio and Eugene Waite, officials of the Stockton office of the Bank of Italy.

The bankers had chartered a speed boat in Stockton earlier in the day to transport them to the State bankers' convention in Sacramento.

Near Clarksburg they suddenly decided to take a dip. There were no more preliminaries and the party was on en naturel. Some one on the shore telephoned to Sheriff Monroe.

PLANE GIVES AND TAKES MAIL AT SEA

Liner Leviathan Figures in Test Made Sixty Miles Off Atlantic Coast

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP)—A plane today successfully carried mail to and from the United States liner Leviathan when the ship, bound for Cherbourg and Southampton, was sixty miles off Ambrose Channel lightship.

Two aircraft took part in the experiment. One, an amphibian, was equipped with radio, and the other, piloted by Lieutenant-Commander George R. Pond and L. Van Rawlings, had suspended from it a long cable with a steel ball on the end.

This ball, when the mail was picked up, was caught in a triangular canvas net which led it into a cup to which the mail sack was attached. The sack was catapulted at the moment the ball went into the cup.

The amphibian, carrying in addition to the pilot a representative of the United States Lines and two radio operators, kept in communication with the ship and directed the operation.

CHURCH WAR END HINTED

Mexican Accord Signs Bright

Catholic Prelates All Smiles Following Conference With Portes Gil

Washington Reports Indicate News of Peace Awaits Word of Pope

MEXICO CITY, June 12. (AP)—After a conference between President Portes Gil and representatives of the Mexican hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church looking toward a settlement of the government-church religious controversy today the apostolic delegate, Mgr. Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores, Archbishop of Michoacan, and Bishop Pasqual Diaz of Tabasco, emerged from Chapultepec Castle with their faces wreathed in smiles.

None of the parties to the conference would discuss it but Archbishop Ruiz did go so far as to admit that there had been "an exchange of ideas." When photographers aimed their cameras at him he said:

"Don't photograph my heart, because then you would have a secret which for the time being I cannot divulge."

STATEMENT GIVEN

When this quotation became public the Monsignor was asked by a close acquaintance whether he really said it and he answered, "I certainly did."

Later the Archbishop issued the following statement:

"With regard to the negotiations I can only say that they have commenced. President Portes Gil showed himself very friendly and I am much pleased with his reception and his attentive consideration."

The statement was given out after he had been asked if he would like to send a message to his many friends in the United States and to the American people in general. Bishop Diaz was silent about the conference, referring all questioners to his superior.

CONFIDENCE REVIVES

The pleasure which the Archbishop experienced from today's conversation with the President has given rise to optimistic hopes on the part of churchmen. There is a general opinion among them that if an agreement has not been reached already it will be worked out in the near future.

Only the two prelates and the President took part in the conference. P. Elias Calles, former President, arrived at the castle while the meeting was in progress but chose to depart rather than to interrupt it.

President Portes Gil received the newspaper men for a few minutes after the conference. He was in a happy mood, but would make no statement except to confirm the fact that the negotiations had begun.

ACTUAL AGREEMENT BELIEVED EFFECTED

WASHINGTON, June 12. (AP)—The satisfaction expressed by the participants in today's religious conference in Mexico City gave rise to apparently well-founded reports in Washington tonight that an actual agreement has been reached between the prelates of the Roman Catholic Church in Mexico and the Mexican government.

It is believed in informed circles that the conference was the climax of a long series of negotiations and that there now is lacking, before the general religious worship can be resumed in Mexico, only the approval of the Pope. Communications asking for his approval are said already to have been sent from Mexico City.

In previous conferences between the Mexican state and the church the arbitration leading toward settlement of the seventy-two-year-old religious troubles have been conducted directly between the Vatican and the Mexican government. In the present case the overtures were made solely by Mexican citizens, with the approval of the Pope.

Most of the preliminaries leading to today's parley were conducted from Washington. Repeated rumors, still unsubstantiated, however, have it that Ambassador Morrow and Ambassador Tellez played leading parts in the negotiations.

RUM CREWS IN MERGER

Border Runners Form Trust

Lawbreakers Organized to Defy United States Government

Great Lakes Will be Trail as Enforcers Threaten Detroit River Line

DETROIT, June 12. (AP)—The Detroit Free Press tomorrow will say a giant combine of Great Lakes rum runners was formed today to challenge the antismuggling agencies of the Federal government from Buffalo to Mackinaw.

The Free Press will say a secret meeting of big operators from all points of entry along the Canadian border was held at Ecorse. A shuttle system was worked out whereby the traffic will be diverted to Lake Erie or Lake Huron whenever enforcement units are concentrated in the Detroit River.

PLANS WORKED OUT

Headquarters have been established at strategic points along the border and equipment at these points will be held in readiness to go into operation whenever the locality is comparatively free of Federal interference.

"The operators," the Free Press will say, "have devised an extraordinarily widespread and apparently efficient intelligence system whereby the leaders of the giant combine are always aware of what stretches of the border are under the heaviest guard and at what point danger from interruption is, for the moment, relatively remote.

LARGER BOATS

"To replace the speed boats which would be of little use to combat the heavy seas on Lakes Erie and Huron, runners are refitting tugs, ranging in length from sixty to eighty feet. These craft are being almost completely rebuilt. Larger motors are being installed to give them greater speed.

"The leaders in the new rum merger apparently feel," the Press will say, "they will be able to clean up goodly profits before the government has reached the point where it can or will place an armed guard shoulder to shoulder along the entire length of the international boundary line."

TWO HUNDRED AGENTS MOBILIZED IN AREA

DETROIT, June 12. (AP)—Two hundred additional agents reinforced prohibition and customs forces in the Detroit area today.

The agents were transferred from posts in every part of the United States. More than fifty of the number arrived yesterday and took up their posts with the customs border patrol and prohibition forces. Officials have declined to reveal the exact number of agents to be mobilized here.

Reinforcement of the dry agencies is the first step in the government's announced program to stem the tide of smuggled liquor from Canada. Decision to augment both land and water forces was announced in Washington last week. Details of the program were mapped out Monday at a conference here between Seymour Lowman, assistant Secretary of the Treasury, National Prohibition Commissioner Doran and other authorities responsible for prohibition enforcement in the Detroit area.

Dawes May See New Premier in Scottish City

LONDON, June 12. (AP)—Gossip in political circles tonight on the disarmament question centered on the possibility of a trip by Gen. Charles G. Dawes, new United States Ambassador, to Lossiemouth in Scotland after his arrival in England Friday.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald is spending a brief holiday at Lossiemouth preparatory to the opening of the new Parliament and it is thought that Gen. Dawes may interview the Prime Minister regarding the visit Mr. MacDonald is expected to make to Washington to see President Hoover in connection with Anglo-American questions.

LOWLY PAIR IN ROYAL JOBS

Ex-Policeman and Former Cab Driver to Wear Fancy Doodads and Aid British King

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, June 12. (Exclusive)—Nothing is more symptomatic of the change which has come over British politics and society than the appointments to court offices made by the new Labor government. The appointees are Jack Hayes as vice-chamberlain of the royal household, and Ben Smith as treasurer of the royal household.

Hayes is a former policeman who was dropped from the force a few years ago for taking part in the London police strike. Smith is a former cab driver. It is Smith's duty to supervise all of the King's official expenditures and his office is in Buckingham Palace, bringing him into almost daily contact with the sovereign.

ORNATELY DRESSED

Hayes, who becomes one of the great officers of state, is official bearer of messages from the King to Parliament. On such occasions he wears magnificent court dress with knee pants and a coat covered with gold braid. He wears a sword and carries a cocked hat under one arm, while in the other hand he carries a wand of office. A huge golden key is tied around his waist with a chain.

When the former policeman enters the House of Commons to deliver a royal message, he will proceed up the floor bowing every few steps to the speaker, and read his message at the table. He will then make his exit, walking backward and continuing to bow every few steps as he does so. It is imperative that he count these backward steps in order that he make the correct number of genuflections.

MUST ATTEND KING

Royal Policeman Hayes also must attend the King and Queen at all state functions dressed up in all his doodads.

Premier MacDonald arrived at his old home is Lossiemouth, Scotland, today, to spend his vacation. The Prime Minister intends to remain ten days and it is said he will make no definite decision with regard to his projected American visit until he has seen American Ambassador Dawes, who is said to be bringing an invitation from President Hoover.

RECESS TAKEN AT OIL MEETING

Course as to Conservation Still to be Determined

Resumption of Deliberations Awaits Hoover Call

Governors Enter Protest on Parley Interruption

COLORADO SPRINGS, June 12. (AP)—Preliminary conversations among representatives of the country's oil-producing States, with a view to regulating production and eliminating waste in the industry, were brought to a close today, to be resumed at the call of President Hoover.

The Governor's petroleum conservation conference, suggested by Mr. Hoover, recessed without having framed a policy or drawn an instrument on which an inter-State compact for regulation of the industry could be based, but the conference expressed its willingness to proceed with the question of conservation of the country's oil resources at the pleasure of the President.

Recess was taken on a motion of the representatives from the three largests producing States at the conference table—California, Oklahoma and Texas—which resolved that the main objective of the meeting best could be attained by further study of the problems involved. The four governors participating in the conversations read into the record a resolution suggesting the appointment of a commission by the executives of oil-producing States and by President Hoover to consider the entire subject of conservation of oil and gas resources of the nation and report on their findings with recommendations for legislative and administrative action.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

The text of the resolution adopted by the three-State group follows:

"The official delegates from the States of Texas, California and Oklahoma after a consultation among themselves, instead of making a recommendation for immediate action believe that in view of the facts developed during the sessions of the conference concerning the main objectives sought to be accomplished by it, and believing that a further study of the problems involved likely would attain better results, adopt the following:

"To continue the work of the conference of the governors called by the President and now in session, it is the judgment of the conference that a recess be taken subject to reassembling on call of the President of the United States. The governors of the several oil-producing States are requested to be present on such reconvening of the conference and that they each bring with them or send to the conference three official delegates."

GOVERNORS PROTEST

The four governors protested against a recess and their resolution recites that the governors "deem it advisable that a representative or representatives not exceeding three in number from each of the oil-producing States, to be designated by the Governor of each State, and a representative or representatives of the government of the United States, to be appointed by the President, constitute a commission to consider the entire subject of the conservation of oil and gas resources of the nation."

This commission under the terms of the proposal would report its findings to the national and State governments with recommendations as to the general policy found proper, including both legislative and administrative action deemed advisable. The resolution says that in the development of a sound general policy co-operation and co-ordination of State and national authority are "not only desirable but essential," and that uniform legislation should be enacted to bring about conservation and elimination of waste in the oil industry.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN STAND

The subject on which the Rocky Mountain area was united—either rescinding or modification of President Hoover's executive order closing public lands to entry for oil and gas prospecting—is treated in the governors' resolution in this fashion:

"Exploration for the purpose of locating additional oil supplies is not to be limited since no waste of the product is involved thereby. We declare information of the location and probable extent of such supplies to be of value in dealing with the whole question."

Further, it continues, "in working out a national policy, due consideration of the situation in the so-called public land States as well as in those States in which oil development is being carried on from privately owned lands, and under present conditions, justify consideration of the effect of Order 338 (the Hoover public domain conservation order) of the Department of the Interior to determine the advisability of substantial modification."

OPINIONS CALLED FOR

Immediately after the three-State resolution had been adopted by the conference Gov. Reed called for an expression of opinion from the respective States on the principles outlined in the governors' resolution.

"Texas, Oklahoma and California have spoken," said Chairman Requa.

"And dissented," added Gov. Reed.

Fred G. Stevenot of California immediately objected.

"California does not dissent," he said. "We are inclined to agree with some of the principles set forth."

C. L. McCartney of Texas also rose to disagree with Mr. Reed.

"Texas," he said, "does not dissent, either. I do not propose that Texas shall be maneuvered into that sort of a position. We agree with some of the points brought out in the stand taken by the four governors."

The third protest to Mr. Reed's observation came from Oklahoma when James Veasey, delegate, declared that Oklahoma does not dissent from most of the principles of conservation and procedure toward conservation set forth.

COMPROMISE FAVORED

"If we accomplish anything," he added, "it will be by compromise, and not by dogmatic assertions. The three largest producing States will support the principle of conservation as much as any out here. We recognize the public's interest in this question.

"I have voted on either of these resolutions with propriety and conviction. There is a clear implication in our (three-State) resolution that we would devote ourselves to a study of this conservation question. What we want, however, is actual accomplishment and not paper declarations."

Gov. Emerson, conference secretary, said that when Texas, Oklahoma and California reported their resolution, it was evident to him that the conference was accomplishing little. While, he said, Wyoming is not interested in a compact for the restriction of drilling, he, as a member of the conference, is ready to proceed with the compact discussions at any time in the interest of conservation.

The conference voted confidence in Chairman Requa and expressed its thanks to him for efforts he had made to canvass the sentiment for and against the proposed inter-State compact.

While the conference reached no conclusions, Chairman Requa observed that its nature was entirely preliminary to subsequent efforts to bring the oil-producing States into an agreement for the regulation of the petroleum industry so far as its production and economy are concerned.

Gov. Emerson of Wyoming, said after the conference, that Chairman Requa had expressed sympathy with the public lands States regarding their problems occasioned by the order closing the public domain to entry for oil and gas prospecting.

GOVERNORS MEET

Gov. Emerson made the announcement following a meeting of Govs. Erickson, Montana; Adams, Colorado, and himself with the conference chairman to discuss Mr. Hoover's executive order of March 12, last, excluding the public domain from entry. Advisers from the Rocky Mountain area also attended the meeting.

"Mr. Requa," said Gov. Emerson, "expressed sympathy for the area, and said that he will report the attitude of the Rocky Mountain State governors to Secretary Wilbur when he goes to California.

"He indicated that he will be glad to do what he can to aid us."

REQUA IN STATEMENT

Mr. Requa tonight issued a statement expressing satisfaction with the accomplishments of the session.

The conference, he said, "undoubtedly will be followed by another meeting, and at that time some of the delegates of the various States no doubt will be prepared to suggest a very definite plan of procedure."

The statement follows:

"The petroleum conference at Colorado Springs, called by President Hoover accomplished some very definite results. In the first place, thanks to the wide newspaper publicity, it focused the eyes of the nation on one of the most pressing and vital national industrial problems. During the conference a great deal of information was forthcoming that cannot help but be of great and lasting benefit.

MERELY PRELIMINARY

"This was merely a preliminary conference. It was not expected that it would formulate any final and definite plan. That it did, however, obtain the co-operation and support of the delegates is evidenced by the unanimous adoption of the resolution sponsored by the States of Texas, Oklahoma and California suggesting that further study of the problems would be desirable and that the conference recess subject to the future call of the President of the United States and urging that the Governors of the oil producing States be then present with three delegates from each State.

"In addition to this, the Governors of Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana presented a statement vigorously attacking waste and urging remedy. In view of the fact, however, that Texas, Oklahoma and California produce 85 per cent of the oil, the four Governors above mentioned were agreeable to vote for the resolution presented by the three States, merely asking that their views be inserted in the record.

"I think in short, that the conference has accomplished all that could be expected of it and is a distinct step forward. It undoubtedly will be followed by another meeting and at that time some of the delegates of the various States no doubt will be prepared to suggest a definite plan of procedure."

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12. (AP)—Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, painted a depressing picture of the petroleum industry as he passed through here tonight en route to his home in Palo Alto.

The former president of Stanford University said the industry "in its present extravagant methods" of production is racing toward calamity. Within ten years the nation's oil reserve will verge on exhaustion unless radical steps are taken toward conservation, he asserted.

The secretary announced he plans an inspection tour of the Boulder dam country, and of the Owyhee, Gooding and other reclamation projects in the Northwest. His return to Washington is planned for next month.

HOUSE BALKS ON RECESS

Notice Served Senate Must Set Date on Tariff Bill Vote to Get Summer Vacation

WASHINGTON, June 12. (AP)—An ultimatum was delivered today by House leaders against any recess this summer except for periods of three days at a time unless the Senate agrees to a definite time for a vote in the fall on the tariff bill.

The House declaration threw the program of Senate Republican leaders completely out of line and threatened to keep both the Senate and House here throughout the summer while the Senate Finance Committee toils away on revision of the House tariff bill, preparatory to Senate consideration of it.

Senate leaders had abandoned plans for an all-summer recess early this week after Senate Democrats decided against agreeing to a definite time to vote on the tariff bill.

The Democrats, however, did give informal assurance they would permit the tariff bill to be enacted before the regular session opens in December and upon this, Senate leaders were preparing to get away next week until August.

The decision of the House leaders, however, has upset this plan.

Tonight the harassed Repuolican leaders of the Senate were seeking to work out an arrangement with the House permitting a vacation until August, if the census-reapportionment and farm-relief bills are first enacted and a vote taken on the Hoover recommendation for suspension of the national origins immigration quota basis.

Despite the gloomy outlook, some Republican leaders were sanguine enough to hold to plans for a recess beginning next week and carrying through for about six weeks. They believed the House will reject the export debenture proposal and that the Senate will approve the compromise farm bill by the end of the week.

Leaders were hopeful tonight that tomorrow might bring votes on both the immigration resolution and on the conference report on the census-reapportionment bill, already approved by the House.

Direct Yosemite Highway Asked

SACRAMENTO, June 12. (AP)—Roads linking Yosemite Park directly with Fresno and Madera were asked of the State in a conference held here today between officials of Fresno and Madera counties and Bert B. Meek, director of the Board of Public Works.

Meek said that the State is interested in developing "feeder roads" to the State highway system and that the proposal made by the two southern counties will be given serious consideration.

TARIFF CAUSES SENATE BLAST

Watson Statement Touches Off Fireworks

G.O.P. Leader Tells of Move for General Revision

Borah Promptly Declares He Will Vote to Adjourn

WASHINGTON, June 12. (AP)—A statement by Senator Watson, Republican leader, that general revision of the tariff was contemplated, touched off the first extended discussion of the subject in the Senate today and prompted a declaration by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, that Congress should adjourn at once.

The debate, which followed the initial session of the Finance Committee in opening one month of public hearings on the House tariff bill, was participated in by half a dozen Senators, including both the Republican and Democratic leaders.

Boarah's statement came after Senator Watson had expressed the opinion that it would be impossible to limit the revision to duties on farm products, which the Idahoan favors.

READY TO ADJOURN

"It is perfectly apparent that there is to be a general tariff revision and there is no prospect of concluding that before the regular session in December," declared Borah.

"That is true," said Senator Watson.

"Then I am ready to vote to adjourn this Congress at once," declared Borah.

The Republican leader said he did not regard President Hoover's program as restricted to rate changes in favor of agriculture and that he personally favored "as general a revision as was manifested in the House bill."

He told Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, however, that pending conferences he was not prepared to say how far other Republican Senators would go in that respect.

He also told Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, that he had not been informed of President Hoover's views on the House tariff bill.

"PSEUDO-REPUBLICAN"

Senator Frazier, Republican, North Dakota, saw in the Republican leader's remarks a "disagreement" with the views of the President on the extent of revision and said he was inclined to place Senator Watson in the "pseudo-Republican" class.

The Borah-Watson discussion revealed definitely the opposition of the Republican independents to the House tariff measure and threw a new fear into the administration hearts in the Senate. Twice the Democrats and Republican independents have shown their power. Twice they have overridden President Hoover on the debenture plan in the farm bill.

Senator Borah went so far today as to propose that the Senate confine the tariff bill solely to agricultural rates. He recalled that the session was called for from relief. He asked what relation the tariff on cement had to agricultural schedules. Senator Watson countered with an inquiry as to the relation to agriculture of the tariff on shingles demanded by the Northwest.

Six witnesses appeared before the Finance Committee today and divided on the question of valuation as a basis for assessing ad valorem duties.

William Burgess of Trenton, N. J., a former member of the tariff commission, favored adoption of the United States value basis instead of the foreign value now used, declaring the present system permitted wholesale evasion of duties through undervaluation of imported goods by foreign producers.

John G. Lerch, representing the American Tariff League, New York City, and Horace B. Cheney, of the Silk Association of America, Manchester, Ct., also favored the United States valuation method, while J. W. Bevans, and Otto Fix, of the National Counsel of Importers and Traders opposed it.

FRANCE PROTESTS TARIFF

Ambassador Claudel Delivers Note to State Department Which Hints Retaliations

WASHINGTON, June 12. (AP)—A formal note from France protesting against the proposal to increase tariffs on certain French products imported into the United States has been delivered to the State Department by Ambassador Claudel.

The note reiterates arguments of the French government that France is not benefiting from the provisional favored nations agreement made between the two governments after the United States protested against the Franco-German trade agreement of 1927.

The French also contend that many of the proposed rates will impose tariffs on French goods which do not compete with American products. Items cited in the note under this category are of a more or less minor nature and include several luxury foodstuffs.

MOVE SURPRISES

While it had been reported that the French were considering sending such a protest, the delivery of the note caused some surprise in official and diplomatic circles since the French-American tariff discussions had been considered of a somewhat different character than those of other nations and had been the subject of lengthy negotiations in Paris. A series of notes and other communications had been exchanged through the American Embassy in Paris, and the present communication is the first of the immediate tariff situation which has been delivered by the French Embassy here.

OTHERS PROTEST

Formal protests against the tariff also have been filed by Spain, Italy and Persia, and retaliatory action has been urged in these countries as well as France.

Threats of retaliatory action have been of a world-wide nature. Chambers of commerce in Italy, France and Spain have urged adoption of measures by their governments against American products. Full reports on all such movements, as well as those from several countries proposing a world economic combine against the United States, are being forwarded to the State Department by American missions abroad.

CALIFORNIANS WIRE JOHNSON

they will be satisfied if the House is recorded directly on the issue, and the Senate will then accept the farm relief bill as President Hoover wants it.

MAJORITY VARIES

Estimates as to the size of the House majority against the debenture plan run all the way from fifty to 125 votes. Snell of New York, chairman of the Rule Committee, said today he believed the amendment would be defeated by eighty votes. Deckinson of Iowa, who leader of the Republican farm bloc certainly ought to have a reliable line on the matter, predicted the margin would be 100 votes. He declared the Iowa delegation would go against the debenture, despite the fight for it by the two Senators from that State, Brookhart and Steck.

A poll of the Minnesota delegation is said to have revealed only two sure votes for the debenture. Most of the eleven Minnesota Representatives are for the debenture, but not at the cost of defeating the entire farm-relief program, and this consideration is believed to have swayed other farm State delegations the same way.

TAMMANY'S STAND

Both sides of the House debenture contest worked early and late today calling absentee members back to the capital for tomorrow's test. There is considerable speculation as to how the New York Tammany delegation will stand. It will depend, probably, on whether its Representatives decide to vote their convictions, which would line them up solidly against the debenture, or deem it more worth while to throw their weight against the administration as a matter of politics. Senator Wagner, one of the Tammany leaders, voted in the Senate against the debentures.

The plan for tomorrow's procedure is to have Representative Haugen of Iowa, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, make the motion sending the farm bill back to conference with the Senate with instructions to the House agents to insist once more upon elimination of the debenture amendment. This will bring the direct test which the House for several weeks has refused to take on the ground that the Senate had no right to initiate such revenue legislation and which the Senate has demanded as its price for finally receding on the amendments.

House Republican leaders hope that, after they have disposed of the debenture, enactment of the farm bill will be completed within a few days and the way will be cleared, at last, for the much-longed-for recess over part of the hot spell.

While the House leaders marshalled their forces, new threats of reprisal for Mr. Hoover's opposition to the debenture plan were heard in the Senate. Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, proposed to let the farm bill pass without the debenture clause and then insert the provision in the tariff bill. He said if debentures were rejected by the House the time had come to organize a fight to the finish."

PREACHES TREASON

Addressing himself to "the progressive members" of the Senate in both Republican and Democratic parties the Iowa Senator, who was one of the President's chief campaigners, said that in order to make inclusion of the debenture plan in the tariff bill possible we should at once organize to put up a progressive candidate in every Congressional district and for Senator in every State who will fight for his program.

"And if the bill should be vetoed," he added, "we should follow this with a progressive candidate for President."

WATER FAMINE HITS HONGKONG

Chinese line up there to get their daily quota of the precious fluid.

All shipping companies are co-operating in this unique importation. Most of them are carrying water without charge.

One of the difficulties confronting the Hongkong administration is the fact that a fresh dry season will be due early next autumn. An average rainfall now only would serve to meet the regular needs of the colony.

Special prayers were given today in the Catholic churches here, asking for rain. The Chinese are beseeching their rain gods and other benefient dieties to cause downpours. The newspapers are waging stringent campaigns against water wastage.

KIP'S WIFE PREPARING FOR FIGHT

Mrs. Rhinelander's Lawyer Reveals She Tried Year to Start Suit

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP)—Counsel for Alice Jones Rhinelander, daughter of a negro cab driver, today disclosed plans for a counter-offensive against their client's husband, Leonard Kip Rhinelander, who was reported preparing a suit for divorce in Las Vegas, Nev.

William B. Cunningham, one of Mrs. Rhinelander's attorneys, said that for more than a year he and his colleagues have sought to serve Rhinelander with a summons in a separation action but had been unable to locate him.

"It is likely," he said, "that with Rhinelander now located, we shall go forward immediately with the separation action."

Mr. Cunningham said Mrs. Rhinelander's counsel will confer tomorrow and decide whether to defend the Nevada divorce suit. He pointed out a Nevada suit would be "utterly worthless" here.

Rhinelander, a member of one of New York's oldest families who startled society in 1924 when his marriage became known, was reported from Las Vegas to have lived in Nevada since January 1 under an assumed name and to have virtually completed the six months' residence necessary to start a divorce action.

BANDITS KIDNAP IDAHO OFFICIAL

Lieutenant-Governor Left Tied Fast to Tree

Two Rescuers Beaten by Four Highwaymen

Auto Wrecked in Wild Dash Made by Robbers

OROFINO (Idaho) June 12. (AP)—W. B. Kinne, Idaho's Lieutenant-Governor, was abducted by four automobile bandits this morning and left tied to a tree in the mountains after his car had been wrecked in a wild dash about the countryside. He returned home uninjured tonight.

Meanwhile one of the two men who attempted to rescue him from the robbers was in a hospital with a bullet in his leg and a badly battered head and the other was leading a large posse of Sheriff's officers, Boy Scouts and citizens in a man hunt.

The Lieutenant-Governor was attacked shortly after leaving Lewiston, Idaho, where he stayed last night.

TELLS OF ATTACK

"I had driven about a half-mile past Arrow," Kinne told the Associated Press, "when four men, all brandishing pistols, stepped out from the side of the road and stopped me. They climbed into the car, forced me to get into the rear seat.

"When we neared Orofino, and the car was traveling about sixty miles an hour, a tire went out and the car hurtled off the road and overturned. None of us was hurt badly, but the car was wrecked.

"The men forced me to walk out into a field, and as they did so another car pulled up. Two men, who I learned were W. L. Tibbey of the Idaho Building and Loan Association, and Paul Kille, a lumber worker, got out of the car and as they walked toward us, the four men turned their guns on them. Both men resisted.

"In the battle that ensued, several shots were fired. Kille was shot in the leg and clubbed over the head with guns until he went down. Tribbey was beaten badly."

TIED TO TREE

After the bandits had overcome the two would-be rescuers, they ordered the three men into Tribbey's car and drove into the mountains near Greer, the Lieutenant-Governor added. In an isolated spot some distance from the road the robbers tied their three victims to a tree, leaving one of their number on guard. They drove off in Tribbey's car.

The bandits are described as being between 18 and 25 years of age, and "very desperate men." All carried pistols.

Kinne said he gathered from their conversation that they were en route to Pierce, a small town in that district, to commit a robbery, and their reason for stopping him was to get an automobile rather than money. They took $200 from Tribbey and $14 from Kinne, however.

PLEA VOICED FOR JERSEY WIFE KILLER

Attorney Seeks to Save Torch Slayer from Paying Law's Extreme Penalty

ELIZABETH (N. J.) June 12. (AP)—A plea by his counsel for a verdict of second-degree murder concluded the third day of the trial of Henry Colin Campbell for the slaying of Mrs. Mildred Mowry, his bigamously married wife.

"No appeal is made that the prisoner go from this court a free man," said Francis A. Gordon, counsel for the man who, it is asserted, shot Mrs. Mowry last February 23 as she rode in his automobile beside him, and then dragged her body to the roadside, soaked it with gasoline and set it afire.

Gordon asserted that the State has not proved premeditated murder and that the testimony of numerous alienists showed Campbell was in such a mental state as the result of continued misfortune and use of narcotics that he was unable to judge the consequences of his act.

Prosecutor Abe L. David, who will sum up the case for the State tomorrow, said he will ask for a first-degree murder verdict.

MRS. TINGLEY RECOVERS

OSNABRUECK (Germany) June 12. (AP)—Physicians of Mrs. Katherine Tingley, noted theosophist, today said that they believed she will be able to start for Sweden about the end of June, being well on the road to recovery from injuries sustained in a recent automobile accident.

MABELLE'S PRINCE RENIGS

Wandering Royal Wooer Decides Mrs. Corey's Bid Too Low and Leaves Her Waiting at Church

PARIS, June 12. (AP)—Prince Louis of Bourbon, wandering cousin of King Alfonso of Spain, has changed his mind about marrying Mrs. Mabelle Gilman Corey, who had agreed to provide him with a home and $1000 a month for pocket money.

Mabelle Gilman Corey

Prince Louis decided he would like to have a better allowance, he wrote to a friend in Paris who received the letter today.

Mrs. Corey has not heard from him in nearly two weeks, since the time originally set for the wedding, but she said this afternoon that the engagement had not been broken though the wedding had been postponed until autumn.

SHE BLAMES WEATHER

She blamed the postponement on the weather, saying it was too hot in the summer at San Remo, Italy, where Prince Louis is now staying, for the Infanta Eulalie, mother of the Prince, to attend the ceremony. The Infanta Eulalie is an aunt of King Alfonso and looks far younger than her 64 years.

The Infanta Eulalie told the Associated Press that the wedding had been "indefinitely postponed" and indicated her doubts that it ever will take place.

The career of her son, Prince Louis, has been a source of poignant sorrow to his mother. He was first expelled from Spain and then his Spanish titles were taken away from him. Subsequently he was expelled from France after hiring a car on the Riviera to bring him to Paris without having any cash in the royal jeans to pay the fare.

The Prince is now at San Remo, where his mother bought him a house. His relatives in Paris say his presence there has been objected to by Princess Beatrice of Battenberg, mother of the Queen of Spain, for San Remo is a small place and it is difficult for two royalties to avoid meeting one another.

CAN'T LIVE IN PARIS

Mrs. Corey lives in the chateau de Villegenis, at Verrieres-Le-Buisson, southwest of Paris. Prince Louis would not have been able to live in the chateau in any case, for the French expulsion order bars him from France.

Mrs. Corey has known the erratic Prince twenty years. One of the Prince's relatives said she declared she wished to marry the Prince "in order to save him."

"But now it seems that Louis does not care for redemption," this relative remarked, adding that the Prince had written that he was "through with this affair."

STUDENTS STILL HOLD UNIVERSITY

Mexico City Strikers Give No Sign of Surrendering Main Building

MEXICO CITY, June 12. (AP)—The main building of the National University was in the hands of striking students this afternoon. They took possession of it yesterday, locked the doors, hoisted a red flag and demanded the resignation of Antonio Castroleal, rector of the university.

No effort was made today to dislodge the strikers and they gave no indication of any intent to evacuate the building. They changed guards each eight hours and have organized a directing council which sits in one of the classrooms.

The whereabouts of the university's rector was not known publicly. It was understood here that the students' demand for his resignation had not been communicated to him.

The student action was in protest against delay in putting into effect the measures giving autonomy to the university which were passed by the extra session of Congress a week ago. A committee has been drafting a decree to put this law into effect but has thus far not reported to President Portes Gil.

WASHINGTON, June 12. (AP)—The Radio Commission today assigned to Pan American Airways, Inc., seven frequencies for short-wave communication with airplanes and granted the company permission to construct ground stations at its Miami (Fla.) and Brownsville (Tex.) airports.

The commission at the same time granted the company twelve new licenses for airplanes to use these frequencies and renewed licenses for five others.

The commission also assigned two frequencies to the Boeing Air Transport, Inc., at Sacramento, Cal., for plane communication and granted the company an experimental construction permit for a portable radio station using six channels to direct flight of airplanes.

Santa Maria Air Lines, Inc., was given four airplane communication frequencies. The State Aircraft Corporation of Glendale, Cal., was given three airplane frequencies and a permit for a portable station. The National Air Transport, Inc., received two frequencies.

Enochs was relieved of duty after charges were preferred by Maj.-Gen. Hanson E. Ely, commander of the Second Corps Area.

WORLD COURT'S STATES TO MEET

International Law Gathering Fixed for 1930

League Council Takes Up Many Problems

MADRID, June 12. (AP)—The Council of the League of Nations today decided to convoke a conference at Geneva on September 7 of all states adhering to the statutes of the Permanent Court of International Justice.

At this conference amendments to the statutes and recommendations formulated by the committees of jurists which met some time ago will be examined. Among the most important matters for consideration are changes designed to permit the accession of the United States to the World Court.

The Council also decided to call a conference in Holland during the spring of 1930 on the codification of international law. In addition to members of the league the following countries will be invited: Brazil, Costa Rica, Egypt, Ecuador, Danzig, Iceland, Mexico, Monaco, San Marino, Turkey, Russia and the United States.

REPORT ON WAR GAS

A report submitted by the Rumanian representative regarding ratification of the 1925 protocol for the prohibition of the use of asphyxiating and poisonous gases in war stated that thirteen countries had ratified the protocol and that nine others had signified their intention to accede to it.

The Council adopted a resolution for the protection of children throughout the world, stating:

"With respect to assistance, the foreign minor has the same rights as the minor national, the interests of the minor always being the first consideration."

The Council asked all nations including nonmembers, to forward reports concerning juvenile courts.

The question of establishing a special wireless station for the league was referred for further inquiry. The Council adopted a resolution to request the governments to consider favorable suggestions of the press experts' conference relating to telegraphic communications and equality of treatment for national and international journalists, to the reduction of rates, the issuance of universal identity cards and improvement in the distribution of newspapers.

TRAFFIC IN WOMEN

The British delegate then presented a report calling for general international action on the traffic in women and children and obscene publications.

Announcement was made that an agreement had been reached between Germany and Poland relating to the application of the minorities convention to entries in minority schools. Mutual congratulations were exchanged on the agreement.

BORDER REPRISALS HINTED

California Senators Told Mexico May Bar Mail Trains After Dark as Retaliatory Move

WASHINGTON, June 12. (Exclusive)—Mexico is prepared to retaliate against the United States if American border closing hours are not liberalized, according to telegrams received today by Senators Johnson and Shortridge and relayed to the State Department.

The messages said in effect that unless this country agrees to keep the border gates open on a twenty-four-hour basis, Mexico threatens shortly to invoke regulations barring American mail trains from crossing the international line after the hours established for American civilians.

NOT OFFICIAL

The authority for the asserted information contained in the message was not given, but it did not come, apparently, from any official Mexican source.

A prohibition against American trains entering Mexico after the 6 o'clock and 9 o'clock closing hours in effect now on the border between California and Mexico would seriously affect mail schedules, as trains from California to Yuma, and from that point on to eastern United States, cross into Mexico several times before getting away from border country.

No comment was forthcoming from the State Department as to the way the warning from San Diego was received. The State Department was ready a few days ago to recommend lifting of the Mexican border restrictions, but President Hoover personally called a halt for further investigation, which resulted in a decision against any change.

SWING OPPOSED

The campaign for liberalization of the Mexican border regulations has been promoted chiefly by Tia Juana interests, which, periodically, have attempted to open the border for twenty-four-hours-a-day crossings. The latest movement met with the opposition of both California Senators and Representative Swing, in whose district the Tia Juana and Calexico "gates" are located.

Swing, a few days ago went to the White House to protest to President Hoover personally against any defeating of present restrictions. Upon leaving the executive office, he declared that California is against a "wide-open" border situation, and believes the President understands the matter thoroughly, and shares his views. It was about this time that the President set his foot down on an order extending the border hours.

"Wonderful" Declares Los A. Contractor

"Sargon is the finest medicine ever put in a bottle! That's a rather strong statement from a conservative man like me, but I never saw anything to equal the way this remarkable treatment built up my strength and energy and made me feel like a new man.

"Sometimes I've often wondered how I ever managed to keep going as long as I have, I had been in such a run down condition for the past year. Before the day was half started, I would feel tired and worn out. It seemed like I didn't have any strength at all and I could hardly drag through a days work. My appetite was poor and my food didn't seem to give me any nourishment. I used to take laxatives all the time, my liver was so sluggish. I became nervous, couldn't sleep well, and was greatly worried over my low state of health.

"I wouldn't have believed there was a medicine in the world like Sargon. My improvement, almost from the first, was absolutely remarkable! There's something about this medicine that picks you up and tones up your whole system to good health. My appetite is fine, my food tastes more nourishing and I'm so full of life and energy that I can keep going all day without tiring. I'm not nervous any more and I get up, after a good night's sleep, feeling active and alert. Sargon stimulated my liver and I never have to resort to laxatives to keep myself regulated. I am so much better in every way that my work is a pleasure.

"Anybody that's feeling about half-sick and run down should lose no time starting on Sargon, because it does everything claimed for it and more. I don't doubt any of the wonderful things I hear about this fine treatment now and I'm recommending it to all my friends. I'll be only too glad to have anyone that wants to, to see me about Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills."

The above sincere statement was made recently by W. A. Norton, well-known building contractor, who lives at 854 West Adams St., Los Angeles. Mr. Norton is a prominent member of the First Baptist Church. He has lived here since 1900 and is well-known and respected.

Sales of Sargon are setting new records all over the country. The special Sargon representative at the Owl drug store, 6th and Broadway, is explaining the merits of this revolutionary new medicine to hundreds daily. Sargon may also be obtained at the Owl drug stores in Los Angeles and all other cities. There is a Sargon dealer in every town.—[Advertisement.

TANAKA VOICES HOPES OF CHINA

Japan Desires Only Peace There, Premier Says

Policy of Aggression Flatly Given Denial

Nippon's Regard for America Also Stoutly Upheld

[Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

TOKIO, June 12. (Exclusive)—The whole-hearted co-operation of Japan and the United States in China and of these nations with the other world powers having interests there was pointed out to me as one of the greatest aims of Japanese foreign policy by Baron Giichi Tanaka, Premier and Foreign Minister of Japan, in an exclusive interview.

I had come to him for a first-hand opinion on that important problem in world politics.

Such co-operation, Premier Tanaka suggested, will not only preserve the spirit of peace in the Pacific created at the Washington conference eight years ago but also will work to benefit both China and the powers.

FRIENDLY TO CHINA

Premier Tanaka stoutly denied that Japan had any aggressive designs on China or was in any way opposed to its continued national existence.

"A strong China with a government capable of enforcing its will over the entire area will be a blessing for Japan," the Premier declared.

"We welcome that day. For a strong China, freed of the turmoil and the chaos which has plagued it for so many years will enable Japan to further its trade, will increase our prosperity and rid our nationals in China of the constant fear under which they have lived for so long.

"Japan's position in the Far East," added Premier Tanka, "is that of a guardian of the peace. We have no desire to abandon that role. Our economic interests in China, such as they are, do not in any way conflict with the political ambitions of the Nationalists except those which will destroy our treaty rights. At that we must draw the line. And we do insist that the lives and property of Japanese citizens living in China be given proper protection."

VIEW ON TREATIES

Asked what attitude his government probably will take on the subject of doing away with unequal treaties, particularly those guaranteeing extraterritorial rights, Premier Tanaka replied:

"We have no fundamental objection to the ultimate abandonment of extraterritorialty. I do not believe, however, that the time is yet ripe for such a reform. It must await the end of disorder in China and the development in that country of a capacity for extending justice to all persons, native or foreign."

Premier Tanaka said that the recent conclusion of negotiations with the Nanking government followed by the withdrawal of Japanese troops from Shantung did not represent a "retreat" in the policy pursued by his government as many domestic critics have charged.

"Our policy now as ever," he said, "has been based on a desire to live at peace with the people of China. In this we have pursued a perfectly straight course. Certain people, however, invented a theory regarding the government's policy at the time it came into power and now, in order to fit the theory to the facts, talk of a 'retreat.' There has been no retreat because there never was any necessity for retreating.

SOUGHT ONLY PROTECTION

"We sent troops into Shantung because the lives and property of Japanese nationals there were in danger. The emergency is over now and we have the solemn assurances of the present government that our nationals will be given adequate protection."

When asked if there is any political significance in the recent visit of the Duke of Gloucester who came in May to present to the Emperor of Japan the Order of the Garter, a visit that was interpreted in some quarters as a sign that Japan and Great Britain are moving in the direction of an entente to offset possible American economic and financial competition in China, Premier Tanaka branded the rumor as absolutely without foundation.

The visit, he declared, was merely the expression of a friendship between the two island empires which has never grown cold. It has nothing whatever to do with Japanese-American relations which are, and will remain on the most cordial basis possible.

"If there is one thing which is dominant in our foreign policy," Premier Tanaka declared, "it is the maintenance of friendly and cordial relations with the United States.

"Situated as we are on opposite sides of the Pacific we are linked by economic ties which grow more important year by year and are of mutual benefit to both nations.

"Deprived of our trade with the United States, our situation might easily become desperate. We never have and we never shall embark on any policy which will in any way endanger our existing friendship with the United States."

Shipside Plant for Precooling to be Erected

SACRAMENTO, June 12. (AP)—Lyman King, chief of the division of service and supplies of the State Department of Finance, announced today that a shipside precooling plant will be constructed on the San Francisco water front to accommodate the 1930 shipments of California fruits.

While negotiations for the acquisition of Mission Rock are in a virtual stalemate because of the State's inability to come to a satisfactory price agreement with the owners, King announced that four other sites owned by the State are available and satisfactory. King did not say where these sites are.

Charge accounts may be arranged. Freight prepaid to all shipping points in the United States and Hawaii.

JAPAN'S FOREMOST PAINTER MAY VISIT

Gyokudo Kawai

never dreamed of in our occidental psychology.

UNKNOWN TO WEST

The call, the mystery, the phantasy of the Orient; these things exist to a degree that one who has not visited Japan can never appreciate.

Nightingales, the sweet warblers of Japan, are resting on a turquoise rock laved by an emerald pool. Below is a spray of hawthorne, veiled by an azure gauze. It is a transparent morning mist. At first glance one imagines it is a monochrome in black. But as one gazes longer one senses the variant shades, all the hues of the rainbow. It is an illusion, a dream. I cannot distinguish between what the artist has painted and what my fancy paints.

Now I turn to the unfinished panel for a royal palace. In the foreground are grouped a cluster of Japanese cedars, with bamboo, rushes, rocks and a splashing stream below. On the banks white azalias are in bloom and a peasant in straw raincoat is making his way among the stones.

NOT OUR ART

I try to study the composition, from an occidental point of view. It is not a landscape in the Western sense. There is no trail leading in and leading out. But there are unmistakable traces of the conelike formation in which the figures of the Italian holy pictures were grouped. I cannot liken it to aught that I have seen in Western art for I have never seen the like.

I stood enraptured before these panels until the master, touching me lightly on the shoulder, turned me aside. In the alcove of the studio on a little red-lacquered table was a tea service and some Japanese sweets.

I sipped the tea and conversed through my interpreter with the master. He sketched briefly his life story, told me how he studied as a boy under Barei at Kioto, then came to Tokio, where he studied under Hashimoto Gaho, one of the masters of the Meiji era.

DREAMS OUTSTRIPPED

At that time he figured that if he could get two yen—about one American dollar—a picture he could devote his life to art. Kamatou tells me that he now receives as much as $5000 for his larger panels. He has accumulated a fortune and his daughter is an heiress. But he lives simply, without ornate display. Both the Buddhist and the Shinto religions exhort the limitation of desires. Lavish display of wealth is a vulgarity that a cultured Japanese would never commit.

When we rose from tea I was escorted to an upper chamber—to the holy of holies. There was a raised platform like a shrine. The master informed me that he would show a few of his treasures of oriental art, panels painted by the Japanese primitives, disciples of Chinese masters, dating back to a period before America was discovered.

PICTURES ENSHRINED

In this oratory no pictures were visible. The paneled walls were bare. But the master brought forth a panel by Kokotonago, founder of the Kano school. The painters of Japanese primitives were Buddhist monks. They depicted only sacred subjects.

Then he brought a panel by Unkoku. He had attempted to portray two lions. Buddha once sat on a lion while he instructed his disciples. But there are no lions in Japan and Unkoku, who had never seen such a beast, must paint them for the faithful.

NONDESCRIPT BEASTS

These lions are crouching. They have heavy, arched eyebrows, no manes and features that recall those of an Irish terrier. Their mouths are wide open, with upper lips curled back, even rows of teeth like a man and curling whiskers not unlike a Mameluke's mustache. Their tails, resembling the brush of a fox, are curled over their backs. Their great ears resemble those of a human being.

One might term them grotesque, but they are painted in dramatic sincerity, and it is from them that the isolated Japanese formed their ideas of lions, tigers and elephants.

MAY VISIT HERE

Komatsu gently reminded me that I was exceeding my time, that I had accepted an invitation to a luncheon at a baron's palace, so I turned reluctantly away. Gyokudo informed me that he might visit Los Angeles next spring. He is one of three famous Japanese painters whom Baron Okuro is taking for a visit to Italy to study the oil paintings of the Renaissance masters.

Union Organizer Held in Slaying

GASTONIA (N. C.) June 12. (AP)—Fred Erwin Beal, southern organizer for the National Textile Workers' Union, today was formally charged with murder in connection with the death last Saturday of O. F. Aderholt, local Chief of Police, who was wounded in a fight at a tent colony maintained for strikers from the Loray Cotton Mills.

Beal is held with seventy other persons in connection with the shooting Friday night in which the Chief, three other policemen and a union organizer were wounded.

Dirigibles of 100-Passenger Capacity to Span Seas

PHILADELPHIA, June 12. (Exclusive)—Transoceanic flights within the next few years in dirigibles six times the size of the Los Angeles and carrying hundreds of passengers safely and comfortably, with fares, cargo and mails being dropped off in airplanes housed in flying hangars within the airships, were predicted by Commander C. E. Rosendahl of the United States Navy, in charge of the Lakehurst air station, speaking before graduates of Haverford School.

"The two airships which are being built for the Navy in Akron will be three times the size of the Los Angeles," Commander Rosendahl said. "Each will be equipped to carry five full-sized service type airplanes, with provision made for them to be launched and picked up in midair.

"These dirigibles will have a range of 10,000 miles at a cruising speed of 56 miles an hour, and at a top speed of 85 miles an hour a range of 6000 miles. They will be able to stay in the air for weeks at a time. With refueling, as in the case of the airplanes Question Mark and Fort Worth, the crew might stay up until it was gray-haired.

SCOPE OF AIRSHIP

"In the present stage of aerial development the airship should be confined to long-distance transoceanic flights, while the airplane should be restricted to short distances overland and not over the sea.

"There is a comparatively low limit of size beyond which the airplane loses its efficiency, but with increased size the airship gains in speed, strength and carrying capacity.

"Both plane and airship have their definite place in air service and should be used to complement each other. There can be no comparison between the two as regards carrying capacity in long flights, as the dirigible is immeasurably superior.

NEW BRITISH CRAFT

"Two dirigibles being built in Great Britain each will carry 100 passengers and will offer passengers the chance to dance in ballrooms with a capacity of fifty persons. The Germans are planning a ship of the same size, but are concentrating on the idea of increased cargo-carrying space and facilities for only a few passengers. In the present stage of airship development I believe Germany has the right idea and the airship should be used primarily as a cargo carrier.

"With virtually the entire world's supply of helium being confined to the United States this country has a fundamental monopoly in air transport, for our airships can be made safe. Other nations would use helium in place of hydrogen if they could get it."

Stressing the safety of airship travel Commander Rosendahl pointed out that before the war and just after it 37,000 passengers had been carried in German dirigibles without a single air accident.

GRAF ZEPPELIN TOO SMALL

"No transportation system in the world can compete with such a record," he said. "The Graf Zeppelin was too small a ship for trans-Atlantic service, being built as large as the only hangar left standing by the Allies in Germany would permit," he said, "but despite its recent failure due to unprecedented and unexplainable mechanical failures of its motors it had proved the efficiency and safety of travel by dirigible."

The Shenandoah, which had Commander Rosendahl on board when it was destroyed in a storm over Ohio, was obsolete by the time it was completed, he said, though it had made a cruise of 9000 miles before the accident. The first trans-Atlantic flight of the Graf, on which he served as an American observer, was just a routine affair with nothing out of the ordinary save for the damage it suffered due to an inexperienced elevator control man, he said.

Senator Watson and Others Sued by ex-Klansman

INDIANAPOLIS, June 12. (AP)—Senator Watson of Indiana, M. Bert Thurman, Republican national committeeman from Indiana, and six other Indiana Republicans are named defendants in a $50,000 suit for damages filed in Federal Court here by William A. Rogers, former Ku Klux Klansman.

Rogers charges conspiracy against his reputation, in connection with the asserted forgery of an affidavit representing him as admitting his testimony before a Senate investigating committee that Senator Watson had shown him a Klan passport was false. A Federal grand jury investigation of Rogers for perjury, based on the affidavit, resulted in the return of a "no bill." During the intervening period, Rogers sets out, he was "subject to constant threats, intimidation and espionage, and damaged in business and reputation."

UTILITY INQUIRY ADDS TO RECORD

Graustein Says Power Cash Not in Papers

College Professors Paid, Commission Finds

Science Booklets' Sponsors Told at Hearing

WASHINGTON, June 12. (AP)—The already voluminous record of the Federal Trade Commission's investigation of public power utilities was increased today by statements requested from the International Paper and Power Company and the National Electric Light Association.

The International Paper and Power Company was declared by Archibald R. Graustein, its president, to have given no financial aid to its subsidiary, the International Paper Company, in the latter concern's investments in newspapers.

PROFESSORS PAID

Approximately a score of college and university professors were listed by the National Electric Light Association as having received payments from it for research work of a technical nature or for expenses for attending public power utility conventions.

The association's exhibit said it had disbursed approximately $46,000 to the professors from 1921 to 1928, of which $32,959.83 was for research and other technical work.

BOOKLETS AIRED

Another exhibit was a declaration by C. G. Abbot, director of the Smithsonian Institution, that only fifteen of the institution's 1147 scientific publications during the last ten years had been financed by outside interests. He made this statement in reply to testimony before the commission that the majority of these publications had been financed by private concerns.

Dr. Abbot said in his letter to the commission, however, that the pamphlet written by S. S. Wyer, Columbus, O., engineer, on Niagara Falls power possibilities, had one 10,000 copy issue financed by the Duquesne Light and Power Company of Pittsburgh and another 10,000-copy issue by the National Electric Light Association.

CHINA PONDERS RUSSIAN BREAK

Effect of Raids on Soviet Consulates Discussed

Quick Withdrawal of Envoys Urged by Some

Others Favor Establishing Firmer Relations

NANKING (China) June 12. (AP) Severance of diplomatic relations with the soviet government was discussed at an important conference this morning between Gen. Chiang Kai-Chek, Foreign Minister C. T. Wang and others.

The situation arising out of Chinese raids on soviet consulates in Manchuria, particularly that at Harbin on May 27, was considered in detail. Some of those at the meeting believe that asserted Communist propaganda found there necessitates an abrupt withdrawal of Chinese representatives in Russia.

Others held, however, that establishment of relations on a firmer basis would solve the problem satisfactorily and prevent further asserted subversive activities on the parts of the Moscow agents.

These contended that although "Russia is carrying on its propaganda in Mongolia, Chinese Turkestan and other Chinese territories the Nationalist government is unable officially to protest through Chinese representatives at Moscow inasmuch as China already has unofficially broken its relations with that government."

These same leaders, however, are understood to believe that before the relations can be restored officially "the Russians must agree to retrocession of the Chinese Eastern Railway to Chinese authority and to dissolution of the labor union of that railway."

9-inch coil springs prevent sagging in the center of the bed—with the Bell-Bed, both sleepers have the advantage of fresh air, for the bed opens "straight-out."

Note the thickness of mattress that can be folded into the Bell-Chesterfield Bed and the fact that the seat of the Chesterfield is not used as part of the bed; and that it is regulation bed-height above the floor. ..if every one past 40 knew what his Doctor knows

THE verdict of doctors is: One of the most common ailments of men and women after 40 is with the kidneys. An increasing number, estimated now at 60% of all past this age, have evidence of kidney disturbance in some form.

The reason, they say, is through overwork of these vital organs. To eliminate 75% of poisons from the system, is their daily task. In youth, they can carry this load. But constant wear and tear begins to tell at 40. Kidney cells wear out. Then comes improper functioning, gradually undermining health.

In combating this increasing menace to health, eminent medical advice prescribes six glasses of a pure mineral-free water each day. Waste matter in the system is soluble in water; is absorbed and quickly carried off. Thus the load of kidneys is lightened. Stimulated, they resume their normal function of excretion.

Ordinary water fails, in large measure, in these results because of minerals it contains. These deposit in kidneys, adding further to congestion. Thus doctors prescribe Puritas water, mineral-free to flush kidneys clean without adding to their burden.

Puritas is scientifically distilled and aerated. All minerals and impurities are removed. Thus it is impurity-free—the purest water obtainable.

You will notice in Puritas a flavor entirely distinctive from other waters you know. Its taste becomes more enjoyable as you drink it.

For health protection, order Puritas water today. Telephone TRinity 1861 and prompt delivery will be made anywhere in Southern California. A Puritas iceless cooler furnished free.

"Your Health After 40" is a free booklet written by a noted specialist, with the entire approval of high medical authority. Mail the coupon for your copy now.

CENSUS FIGURES WILL BE AIRED

Public to Get Data Quickly in 500 Districts

Checks Will be Made Before Totals Computed

Women Favored as Workers for Enumeration

WASHINGTON, June 12. (AP)—Population statistics of the 1930 decennial census will be announced publicly in each of 500 districts immediately after they are gathered, instead of being tabulated first in Washington.

William M. Steuart, director of the census, explains that this procedure will be followed for the first time with the forthcoming census, in order that inaccuracies may be detected before the figures are tabulated for the permanent record.

At least 100,000 enumerators will be needed to canvass the nation's homes for the census, he says, and between 6000 and 8000 more will be employed here later.

WOMEN FAVORED

Selection of women for the jobs is favored by the directors.

"Women have been employed in the work for census of the past," he says, "and with great success. They have tact."

Though applications for positions as enumerators will be filed with the Census Bureau here, supervisors in the 500 districts into which the country will be divided, will be responsible for organization of the staff. The plan is to employ one enumerator for each 2000 estimated population.

PUBLIC MAY COMMENT

"Publication of the figures in the districts," Director Steuart expects, "also will enable me to carry out the provision of the law of a penalty on deliberate inaccuracy. The supervisor will not be paid for the work in his district until after results of his staff have been published and opened to public comment."

On the basis of estimates of the average periodic increase in population of the country, it is believed that about 123,000,000 individuals must be listed for the new census.

"The law provides that enumeration must be completed within two months," Director Steuart points out, "but in the past it has been necessary to extend this time somewhat. The 6000 to 8000 persons who will be needed to tabulate results here will be employed from one to three years."

ELEVEN VOLUMES

The first volume published, recording each individual separately and carrying correlated figures on occupation and other items, will appear sometime during 1931. Other relationships shown by the census—the increase in average length of life, for instance, and the increases in marriage and divorces—will be tabulated and published later.

It took eleven volumes of 1000 pages each to contain the results of the last national census.

MANY REQUESTS

Out of a literal barrage of requests that various kinds of information be obtained through census enumerators, Director Steuart has selected only one new item thus far. Census workers will inquire for the first time whether each person enumerated is a veteran of any war, and of what war and which encounters.

"We were asked to obtain all manner of information—even how many Americans owned radios, and what kinds," he said, "but we sifted the requests to eliminate all except essential items."

FITZGERALD'S
FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF MUSIC

CONCLUSIONS
By David Bingham

Conclusions are reached through experience. In an experience of nearly thirty-seven years we have learned many things about pianos. During these years that are gone we have represented practically every high grade piano while these instruments were at their best. Now we offer the Hardman in the full knowledge and belief that it is infinitely finer than any piano of any time at any price. Our opinion of the Hardman is corroborated by those who, after thorough comparison, have installed them in their studios and homes. The Hardman has taken its place at the head of all pianos in the musical life of Los Angeles not because of anything its makers have said or we have done. It has taken its place of commanding eminence because it deserves to be there. It is the ultimate of pianos.

Chicago Shakes and Shivers as Mercury Falls

CHICAGO, June 12. (Exclusive)—A shivering breeze whipped into Chicago out of the east this morning to send the mercury dipping to a chill 50 above as an aftermath of the rampaging wind and rainstorm that wrought much damage in the city late yesterday. The thermometer did not rise all day.

The city was pumping out flooded basements, repairing shattered chimneys, picking up blown-down electric wires and restoring signs today after the violent storm of yesterday. One man was killed trying to find shelter from the rain under a boxcar and large sections of the city were without lights most of the night.

BANKERS OFFER AID IN TAX ROW

Session With State Chiefs Held in Sacramento

Financiers Seek Stability of Local Situation

Young Expresses Faith in Sincerity of Aims

SACRAMENTO, June 12. (Exclusive)—Officials of the California Bankers' Association today pledged the support of their body in seeking to stabilize the bank-tax situation in this State, in a conference attended by Gov. Young and members of the State Tax Commission.

The banker delegation, headed by Will Morrish, San Francisco, president of the association, agreed that there can be no permanency of taxation without equity to all corporations and institutions involved, and agreed to take definite steps looking toward Congressional amendment of Federal statutes which would permit the State to tax the income from tax-exempt securities or devise some other equable system of bank taxation.

The matter is to be referred to the American Bankers' Association but the State body will lend whatever legal assistance may be necessary.

YOUNG'S STATEMENT

After the meeting, Gov. Young stated that the bankers expressed themselves as desirous to be taxed under a reasonable and equable system.

"They were in agreement that the situation as it now exists, with the Supreme Court holding that the State cannot tax the incomes from tax-exempt securities, is neither fair nor equitable, said the Governor "and are as desirous as are we as State official to correct the situation.

"The bankers will co-operate with the State to obtain a fair amendment to the Federal statutes if such amendments are necessary."

The Governor stated that a revision of estimates of the monetary loss to the State because of the Supreme Court decision places it at approximately $1,500,000 and of that amount not more than $1,000,000 would have been derived annually from the banks.

THOSE AT SESSION

Those in attendance at the meeting, in addition to the Governor and Morrish, are W. R. Williams, San Francisco, chairman of the legislative committee of the association; Vincent Butler, San Francisco, tax adviser; C. J. Elliott, Los Angeles; C. Smith, San Francisco, all representing the bankers; Will C. Wood, State Banking Superintendent; A. R. Heron, State Director of Finance; Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan and Ray L. Riley, State Controller.

Riley leaves tonight for the East to confer with Congressional representatives and Federal officials on the situation.

INVESTMENT RECEIVERS REQUESTED

Railroad Brotherhood Company Stockholders in Fear of Collapse

CLEVELAND, June 12. (AP)—A petition asking appointment of a receiver for the Brotherhood Investment Company, a $10,000,000 subsidiary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, was filed in Federal Court here today by Elmer and Bertha Smith of Pittsburgh, minority stockholders.

The petition cites that the company is solvent, but asserts it is in immediate danger of collapse if it is not properly handled.

Judge Paul Jones set the 20th inst. as the date for hearing on the application.

Officials of the company said tonight that there is no justification for the petition. The investment company has $16,460,894 in assets and $10,860,326 in liabilities, the officials said.

LAST VETERAN WITH NEW JAW SAILS FOR CANADA

LONDON, June 12. (AP)—Maj. James Gillies, the last member of the Canadian Expeditionary Force to return to Canada after the World War, is on his way home today, more than ten years after the Armistice.

Maj. Gillies, who went to the front from Regina, Sask., in 1914, left yesterday aboard the Calgaric equipped with a new jaw. His own jaw was shot away in October, 1918, in the fighting around Cambrai.

"These wonderful surgeons have given me a new jaw bone," he said before his departure. "Everything is new. For nothing was left below my lip. I am grateful from the bottom of my heart.

"My new chin, however, drafted from other parts of my body, is very sensitive to cold, and I shall not be able to go through a winter in Canada. I therefore shall return to England in six months' time."

PEACEFUL WAR ON RUM URGED

Fight to Disarm Dry Agents Grows More Intense

Second Victim of Federal Men Dies of Shot

Dead Detroiter Bootlegger; Slayer Vindicated

WASHINGTON, June 12. (AP)—New demands that the weapons of prohibition agents be silenced and that the government provide funds for the dependents of those killed through misuse of firearms were made today as Washington received news of the death of a second victim within the week.

The only reply from the Treasury Department is that disarmed officers cannot cope with desperate smugglers who depend upon gunplay for success. They again called attention to an order which forbids agents from using weapons except in self-defense or to prevent the commission of felonies and said that to make the regulations more stringent will render ineffective the efforts of their agents.

The second death—that of Archibald Eugster, 21 years of age, Detroit youth—occurred almost simultaneously with the announcement by the Treasury Department that the border patrolmen responsible for his shooting and that of Henry Virkkula at International Falls, Minn., will be held personally responsible if they are found to have used their arms except in self-defense or to prevent commission of a felony.

WOMAN PRESENTS BILL

Meanwhile, Representative Florence P. Kahn, Republican, California, introduced a bill to provide $25,000 for the dependents of persons killed by prohibition agents who "wantonly or negligently" used guns except in self-defense.

The proposal of Mrs. Kahn, who is opposed to the prohibition law, would make general the same legislation introduced yesterday by Representative Schafer, Republican, Wisconsin, to care for the Virkkula case.

In declaring investigations of the two shootings will be pressed, Assistant Secretary Lowman said officers had been warned in a year-old order of the department that they would be held strictly accountable for the results of any use of firearms that resulted in fatalities. Although he said the two patrolmen could demand the transfer of their cases to Federal courts, he added that this will in no way change the charges of use of firearms that might be lodged against them.

INQUIRIES STARTED

Lowman also said members of Congress have made vigorous demands upon the department to disarm agents.

Investigations of the two shootings already have been initiated by the Treasury and Justice departments and Lowman said the official report of the International Falls affair already is on the way to Washington.

Representative Clancy, Republican, Michigan, who urged a full examination into circumstances of the Detroit shooting, has gone to that city to aid in questioning witnesses. Protesting to the Treasury Department, Representative Pittenger, Republican, Minnesota, added his voice to those who are demanding full investigations of the International Falls affair.

DETROIT SHOOTER HELD NOT TO BLAME

DETROIT, June 12. (AP)—Prosecutor James E. Chenot and Representative Robert J. Clancy tonight absolved James Cox, customs border patrol inspector, of all blame in connection with the fatal shooting here yesterday morning of Archibald Eugster, 21 years of age, on the banks of the Detroit River.

Chenot gave out a statement exonerating Cox after Frank Cooper, one of Eugster's companions the night of the shooting, admitted that he, Eugster, and others were running thirty-five cases of liquor across the Detroit River from Canada.

Representative Clancy talked with Walter S. Petty, Assistant Collector of Customs, and afterward declared this is not another instance of the slaying of an innocent man.

Eugster declared, in a statement to officers before he died, that he and his companions were on a fishing trip when Cox shot him down.

Cox in a statement today declared he recognized Frank Cooper, one of the slain youth's companions, as the operator of the beached liquor boat, and Raymond Malicki, another member of the asserted fishing party, as Cooper's companion in the liquor boat. He said he did not know whether Eugster was in the boat. Cox asserted he fired only when the youths ignored his order not to come near the boat he was guarding.

NEW INQUIRY IN VIRKKULA DEATH OPENS

INTERNATIONAL FALLS (Minn.) June 12.—While funeral services were held at Eveleth today for Henry Virkkula, slain by a border patrolman on a hunt for liquor smugglers, another investigation into the shooting was launched on orders from Washington.

Oscar Dahly, Federal customs collector at Duluth, reached here today to start his investigation which, he said, will be entirely independent of three others already under way, directed by the County Attorney, a special agent for the Treasury Department and the chief customs inspector here.

NEW TRIAL FOR KENTUCKY PAIR DENIED

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) June 12. (AP)—A new trial was refused today to a Federal prohibition agent and a deputy sheriff who are under sentence to two years' imprisonment for the killing in 1925 of a man whose moonshine still they were raiding.

Federal Judge Dawson, before whom the men were tried at Paducah, Ky., in April, 1929, in overruling the motion, which was based on a plea of new evidence discovered and the fact that jurors had read newspaper accounts of the trial, said that he did not believe any juror could fail to convict the men.

The defendants, Roy Miller, and Deputy Sheriff Clarence Gossett, both of Hopkinsville, Ky., are said to have been the only officers ever convicted in a Federal Court for a killing in a raid.

DONOVAN PLANS NEW RIVER PACT

Colonel Hopes to Solve Water Division

Boulder Conference Takes Recess for Day

Breakfast Session Fails of Any Progress

WASHINGTON, June 12. (Exclusive)—After a series of conferences today, the Boulder Dam conference recessed until Friday after Col. William J. Donovan announced that the meeting will take up a plan on that day designed to reduce the water division problem to its "lowest common denominator." Col. Donovan, the government's representative in the conference, refused to comment further on the "formula" he will present Friday.

The reason for the recess over Thursday is to allow Col. Donovan to appear in the New York courts in legal cases.

Indications today are that adjournment will be taken Friday night or Saturday. Col. Donovan said he knew nothing of the attitude of the commissioners on this subject, but that it is altogether up to them to say if they will stay in Washington, now beginning to smolder in the summer heat, and thresh the thing out further, or go home, digest the numerous water division plans offered them, and meet again on call.

From sources within the delegation, however, it is understood that at least two delegations are planning to leave either this week-end or early next week.

Before the conference this afternoon Col. Donovan drifted around from State group to State group, talked to some earnestly, or went into executive session with the different State chairmen. There was a breakfast conference which lasted from early in the morning until noon. No particular formula, set-up or plan was discussed. The talk was general and no conclusion was reached.

The breakfast session was held at Col. Donovan's house. Those present were John J. Bacon, chairman of the California conferees; Representative Swing, coauthor of the Swing-Johnson bill, which called the tri-State conference into being; Senator Hayden and Conferee Roos of Arizona; State Engineer and Colorado River Commissioner G. W. Malone of Nevada, and Col. Donovan.

The "set-up" now under discussion, for the most part, is the Malone plan. This formula treats all of the water in the lower Colorado and its tributaries including 1,500,000 acre feet heretofore allotted the upper basin as a unit and then splits the unit between the States. Col. Donovan indicated today that the figures in the Malone plan might be prominen in the "lowest common denominator" plan he will submit on Friday.

There will be no "RADIO REVOLUTION" in 1929

TO THE RADIO PUBLIC of Southern California, as a representative member of the radio industry, I make this pledge based upon a thorough personal analysis of every "new" radio exhibited at the National Radio Show in Chicago, from which I have just returned:

> There will be no "Radio Revolution" in 1929. Modern radio arrived with the perfection of the basic principles embodied in the Sparton Equasonne, almost a year ago. This basic design is fundamental, established. You may continue to enjoy the Sparton Equasonne radio which you now own or plan to own, or you may buy any standard, recognized radio receiver on the market today, with complete confidence that it will not be outmoded or be made obsolete by anything revolutionary that any manufacturer has now developed or may develop in the reasonably near future.

I make this statement for the reason that rumors, reports, vague generalities, unfounded claims of various kinds which unsettle the confidence of the public, not alone are unjust to the industry which I represent, but also are extremely unfair to a public which has every right to enjoy now, without doubt or question, the very splendid service which the best of modern radio receivers are prepared to give.

The Truth about The "New" Radio

At Chicago, minor improvements, alterations, refinements were shown here and there. Receivers which had been lagging behind have been brought up to date, and in them the most radical changes are found. But these changes are toward and not away from the generally accepted modern standard established with the perfection of the new Sparton Equasonne circuit, almost a year ago. The new year brings us nothing revolutionary in radio reception.

This is said in commendation, not in criticism. For, when any science reaches that degree of perfection which was attained with the development of the new Sparton Equasonne circuit, the public has a right to believe and expect that nothing revolutionary is likely to happen to disturb its enjoyment of or its confidence in the major achievements of that science.

It is a cause for general congratulation that this point has been reached in the radio industry, just as it has been reached in the automobile industry. Neither industry can or will stand still. But a change in a tube or a socket or some other gadget no more will affect the basic, fundamental design of radio from now on, than will the change of a spark plug or a carburetor affect the fundamental, basic design of the automobile.

Radio Values are Stabilized and Standardized

Radio values have become stabilized and standardized. Major manufacturers have promptly and fully given the public the advantage of price economies which volume production has made possible. This year will see no radical price reductions, except among receivers that have been out of line with the general standard of values.

Radio's splendid achievements as represented in the recognized receivers which were exhibited at the National Radio Show merit the most complete confidence upon the part of the public. And the public may enjoy these achievements now with assurance that nothing revolutionary is likely to disturb this enjoyment.

And, having said this, let me add once more, that it is my firm conviction that this new Sparton Equasonne is still the greatest radio the world has ever known at any price...and don't you buy a radio until you have heard it.

FINE old names in clothes have gone. Needle-and-scissor names. Custom-bench names in clothing manufacture.

2 decades did it!

Twenty years have done it! And the last ten most ruthlessly! Machines "made" millions. Why shouldn't they make clothes? So the clothing industry plunged into machine production.

A few shrewd business men began it. A dozen honest makers of good clothes were forced to follow. Tailoring costs were whittled to a third! Flags waved! "Cut making costs...cut tailoring costs... cut piece-work costs" ... was the battle cry of economy.

Another battle cry arose in three Foreman and Clark upstairs stores in California ... the first of this coast-to-coast chain! .... "Cut selling costs—cut distribution costs—cut middleman costs .. cut rental costs .. cut credit costs ... but don't cut the honest cost of true hand-tailoring!" Take 3 profits out of clothing distribution but don't take a single hand-sewn stitch out of a collar! Let machines punch sales-cards in our retail stores but not button holes in our clothes! It was outright rebellion ... and it won! It won a quarter of a million men—half a million —now three-quarters of a million ... adding store after store and factory after factory to F & C resources.

CHILD WELFARE SURVEY DECIDED

Hoover Desires Investigation to Better Conditions

Wilbur Will be Its Leader; Director Picked

Federal Agencies Enlisted to Help Study

INDIANAPOLIS, June 12. (Exclusive)—A national survey of child welfare and protection, using all resources of the Federal government to aid a fact-finding commission of experts, has been decided on by President Hoover, it was announced here tonight.

Dr. Harvey E. Barnard, a close friend of Hoover and Indianapolis chemist, will be director of the commission, which will be headed by Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, former president of Leland Stanford University, now Secretary of the Interior. Dr. Barnard, former State food and drug commissioner and wartime aid of Hoover in Indiana, has made several trips to Washington recently to confer with the President regarding the new work.

TWELVE ON BOARD

The commission will be an extra-governmental body of approximately twelve persons, including William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor; Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the United States Children's Bureau; Hugh S. Cumming, surgeon-general; Dr. S. J. Crumbine of New York, general secretary of the American Child Health Association, of which President Hoover is the head; Judge Frank Pickering Cabot, justice of the Boston juvenile court; Henry Breckenridge, New York, former assistant Secretary of War and attorney for Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, and Dr. William F. King, secretary of the Indiana State Board of Health.

Members of the commission with the aid of the equipment and employees of the Federal government departments, will be assigned to their respective fields to report eighteen months later at a general meeting.

BACK TO GRANDFATHER

The commission will study the child-welfare problem in all its ramifications, going back as far as the grandfather in investigations. The fields to be covered include the prenatal period, care of the infant, mental and physical well being, nutrition, environments, abnormal and psychopathic children and juvenile courts.

When the reports are ready finally each probably will be in the form of a book and will result in drafting of model child-welfare laws and setting up of health organizations throughout the nation.

RENO, June 12. (AP)—Jeremiah Atylmer Bunting of Berkeley, known as the "king" of the South Sea Islands, was married here Monday to Josephine Laura Greco of San Jose. The ceremony was performed by Reverend Father P. J. Moran.

Bunting and his bride came to Reno by airplane and after the ceremony took a plane back to the Coast.

Federal Fight to Break Radio 'Trust' Expected

WASHINGTON, June 12. (AP)—The decision of the Federal Court at Chicago against fifty-two oil companies under antitrust proceedings was viewed today by Oswald F. Schuette, executive secretary of the Radio Protective Association, as a mandate to the Department of Justice to begin proceedings against the "so-called radio trust."

In a statement, Schuette declared that the patent license agreements under which five companies "undertook to destroy competition in the radio industry are far more specific violations of the antimonopoly laws than the agreements under which the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and fifty-one associated companies have been found guilty of using their patents to monopolize the oil-cracking industry."

Writer Expires After Rescuing Boy Companion

SAN DIEGO, June 12. (AP)—Collapsing on the beach from overexertion after rescuing his juvenile companion, Jack Baker, from the breakers in the cove at La Jolla, Leighton Osmun, 48 years of age, playwright, died today of a heart attack.

Osmun was a native of New Jersey. He came to La Jolla about a year ago with his family.

His brother, Richard Osmun, said tonight that he had been writing up to the time of his death. He was the author of "East Side, West Side," "Peter Weston" and other plays. Besides his brother, Richard Osmun, he leaves his widow, Dix Drummond Osmun; his daughter, Sarah Osmun, and another brother, Kent Osmun of San Pedro.

Chicago Bans Play Based on 1849 Romance

CHICAGO, June 12. (AP)—The modern version of Frankie and Johnnie's love affairs back in 1849 is too bold for a Chicago stage, so tonight the cast of John Kirkland's play, "Frankie and Johnnie," packed up and moved out of the Adelphi Theater.

Municipal authorities led by Police Commissioner William Russell forced the closing of the play after a two weeks' run in the Loop Playhouse. The authorities contend it is indecent.

Commissioner Russell indicated another play now appearing here, "Harlem," also might be closed unless it is toned down. It purports to portray life in New York's negro quarter and has a negro cast.

Actress Fights to Stop Suicide

NEW YORK, June 12. (Exclusive) Miss Ruth Moore, an actress, played the most realistic role of her career early today when she attempted to prevent her uncle, James Hathaway, 50 years of age, from committing suicide, according to the police.

Miss Moore struggled with her uncle for several minutes on a Claremont-avenue sidewalk for possession of a revolver with which he had succeeded in shooting himself through the temple, the police said. During the struggle, Hathaway fired four shots into the air. He finally was disarmed by a taxicab chauffeur and a patrolman.

Stubborn Brush Fire Conquered

PERRIS, June 12. (Exclusive)—Fire wardens and a crew of men late tonight are holding in check an alarming brush fire which burned over 350 acres of the watershed three and a half miles from here. "This isn't a problem faced alone by the raisin growers. LUCKY STRIKE

CIGARETTES

To maintain a slender figure, no one can deny the truth of the advice: "REACH FOR A LUCKY INSTEAD OF A SWEET."

Malicious Propaganda

No amount of malicious propaganda, an insult to public intelligence and good faith, can sway public belief in this fact: Lucky Strike is a blend of choice tobaccos whose toasted flavor thrills the taste, whose toasting process eliminates impurities, and, as 20,679* physicians testify, makes Luckies less irritating. Toasting elevates Lucky Strike to a plane of quality which no other cigarette can approach. The constant care of experts assures the quality of Luckies. Its choice by millions proves its superiority and is the truthful answer to selfish claims.

Harry R. Lay, commanding the base. The Chaumont, en route from San Francisco, arrived here at 4 p.m. today and is to sail for the Asiatic station at 10:30 a.m., Saturday.

A total of 516 marines are to march on board the Chaumont Friday, a majority of whom are being sent from here as replacement troops for members of the Fourth Regiment. Some are going as replacement forces for marines at Guam, the Philippine Islands and Peking, China. Returning marines from the Fourth Regiment at Shanghai will arrive at San Diego in about two months, Col. Lay said. Col. Charles H. Lyman, formerly stationed here, is in command of the Fourth Regiment.

In addition to the marine detachment to leave here Saturday several bluejackets also are to be on board the Chaumont when it departs. Report at Eleventh District Headquarters here today states that practically 150 men from the local destroyer base, thirteen from the training station and two each from the naval air station and Balboa Park naval hospital are to go to the Far East.

Speakers Spank Police Methods

GLENDALE, June 12.—Third-degree methods used by police officers in wringing confessions from persons suspected of crimes were condemned by Superior Judge Tappaan, in an address last night before the Glendale Bar Association at Oakmont Country Club. Judge Tappaan showed that in early times an accused person had the right to have a judge present to see that he was treated fairly and that this condition prevailed down to modern times, when police began to use third-degree methods to force confessions.

Judge Tappaan added that many innocent persons are forced to admit participation in crimes of which they are innocent under the brutal treatment of the police.

Joseph Ford, former district attorney and the man who secured conviction of the McNamara brothers for the bombing of the Los Angeles Times Building, declared that the third-degree evil could be stamped out if the standards of police and detective bureaus could be raised to attract a higher class of recruits.

FORMER JAILER IS DIVORCED MAN

SANTA ANA, June 12.—Charges of desertion and nonsupport, linked with the assertion that her husband had been involved with the notorious theft of stored liquor in the Courthouse in 1925, won a divorce decree for Mrs. Claudine Irvine in her suit against Joe Irvine, former assistant county jailer, Superior Court records revealed today.

Superior Judge E. J. Marks heard the case late yesterday and granted Mrs. Irvine a divorce and custody of her baby daughter. In her complaint Mrs. Irvine alleged that her husband had deceived her regarding his asserted connection with the liquor theft, that resulted in Federal prosecution of four men, including two deputy sheriffs.

The Irvines were married in 1925 and separated in 1927.

NOTED EDUCATOR DIES AT WHITTIER

Dr. Charles Edwin Tebbetts

WHITTIER, June 12.—Dr. Charles Edwin Tebbetts, aged 74, internationally known as one of the foremost educators and ministers of the Friends Church in America, died at his home here yesterday. Funeral services will be held at the First Friends Church, Whittier, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock and interment will be at Pasadena.

Dr. Tebbetts was the first president of Whittier College, having assisted in the reorganization when the college was an academy. He served as president from 1901 to 1908. He was a member of the faculty of Penn College at Oskaloosa, Iowa, from 1877 to 1887. He was a graduate of Haverford College at Philadelphia. After he retired from the presidency of Whittier College, he served for eight years as general secretary of the foreign missionary board of the Friends Churches in America and was a member of the Five Year Meeting of Friends, at Richmond, Ind.

His work as secretary of the American board brought him in contact with many eminent churchmen and educators both in America and abroad, he having traveled extensively in Europe and South and Central America, where his work received high commendation.

He contributed largely to church papers and educational periodicals, and was universally recognized as one of the outstanding men of the Friends Church, but was perhaps as well known among the majority of other Protestant churches as he was among the Friends, owing to his wide acquaintance and the work which made him contact other educators.

He spent much of his youth in the Middle West, having been born at Muscatine, Iowa. With his family he came to Pasadena in 1887. At one time he was pastor of the Friends Church at Pasadena and later served in the same capacity at Whittier. He was married in 1879 to Miss Imelda Painter, daughter of John Painter, one of the pioneers of Pasadena, for whom the Painter Hotel was named and an avenue dedicated at Pasadena.

He is survived by one daughter and two sons. They are Mrs. Edith Tebbetts Clark (Mrs. David Clark,) Dr. Herbert E. Tebbetts, both of Whittier, and Walter Tebbetts of Boston.

Miss French told police that her party, including two men, left Los Angeles for a ride to the beach after dinner yesterday evening.

The men were not injured, and they were said to have disappeared after taking the women to the hospital. Miss French was reported to have told Officers Edwards and Carr, investigating the accident, that one of the men was Bill Haddock, 605 East Sixth street, Los Angeles; but that she did not know the name of the other man. BURBANK APPROVES RESERVOIR PLANS

BURBANK, Jun 12.—Plans for Burbank's second largest reservoir, which will be known as No. 5 and will contain approximately 2,500,000 gallons of water, were approved by the City Council last night.

City Engineer Mini, in presenting the maps and detailed drawings of the new storage tank, declared that when it is completed, Burbank will have about 12,500,000 gallons of water in reservoirs. The largest tank now holds 7,000,000 gallons.

The reservoir will be located north of Sunset Canyon Drive between Magnolia Boulevard and Palm avenue and will replace the smallest tank in the city which now holds 160,000 gallons. As yet no estimate has been made of the cost of the new basin. According to J. H. McCambridge, superintendent of public service, the city consumes about 130 gallons per person per day or approximately 290,000 gallons to an estimated population of 22,500.

The new reservoir will have an eighteen-inch outlet and will supply the hillside section of the city with better service, Mini stated. Bids on the basin will be considered by the City Council on July 2, it was decided last night.

Santa Barbara Murder Trial in Progress

SANTA BARBARA, June 12.—That the extreme penalty will be asked for Pedro Baca, accused of the murder of P. Abril, by the District Attorney's office, was indicated when the impaneling of the jury was continued before Judge Van Zante in Superior Court today. Deputy District Attorney A. B. Bigler and Dist.-Atty. Clarence C. Ward, as well as Attorney Atwell Westwick, for the defense proceeded with extreme caution in selecting jurors, the prosecution using nine pre-emptory challenges, while the defense used eleven.

Although fifty jurors had been summoned, the venire was exhausted before court closed yesterday, and Judge Van Zante ordered forty more to be summoned this morning. Eleven jurors remained in the box when the court adjourned.

Most of the jurors on which the prosecution used its challenges were opposed to capital punishment. Mr. Bigler is in charge of the case, as the asserted crime was committed in the Santa Maria district.

Baca is accused of murdering Abril in Betteravia in February, 1928. The crime was committed following arguments over gambling, the District Attorney maintains. Baca was arrested in Culver City several weeks ago.

Commission to Learn 'Why' for Curb Markings

SAN DIEGO, June 12.—San Diego merchants in the congested area are required by the city traffic commission to show cause within thirty days from the 10th inst. why curb reservation markings in front of their establishments should not be abolished, it was announced today by Louis C. Maire, chairman.

Petitions may be addressed in the form of communications to the commission or personal appearances may be made at commission meetings in the Council chamber, City Hall, afternoons at 2:30 o'clock, it was stated.

"There is no cause for undue alarm regarding legitimate parking spaces," declared Maire. "It is the desire of the city government to utilize as much space as possible for the use of shoppers who benefit the merchant with their trade.

"As chairman of the traffic commission I want it understood that unloading zones will be granted by reason of necessity and not because of 'pull' or favor."

BURBANK MERCHANTS' METHODS CRITICISED

BURBANK, June 12. — Sharp criticism of Burbank merchants who have permitted outside dealers in fireworks to operate in their places of business and under their names in order to circumvent the exclusive permit given to the Burbank post of the American Legion for the sale of the Fourth of July products was uttered by nearly every member of the City Council last night. Councilman Stroud declared that he knew of several firms here who had planned on such subterfuge in order to "get around" the fireworks ordinance and "double cross" the Legion post.

Mayor Bruce, who has the sole right to issue the permits under the ordinance passed recently which limits the sale of fireworks to firms having been in existence for the past three months in the city, will investigate thoroughly any application of such a right before he issues the grant. Both Stroud and Lapsley were particularly emphatic in their denunciations of this practice and stated that if such a violation is discovered that the offender be severely prosecuted.

CELEBRATION AT OLD MISSION

Part of San Juan Capistrano Restored

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, June 12.—The dust of more than a century of ruin and desolation was shaken off today at the Mission San Juan Capistrano, once the jewel of the Franciscan missions that dotted the coast line between San Diego and San Francisco.

If the intrepid Father Junipero Serra could have looked down upon the scene he would have glimpsed the red tile roofs, the compound and patios in much the same manner as the early Californians glimpsed them from the surrounding hills in the dim past.

The reconstructed part of the mission, a task to which Reverend Father St. John O'Sullivan dedicated himself more than fifteen years ago, was itself dedicated today with the blessings of the bishop of the diocese of Los Angeles and San Diego bestowed upon it by Rt. Rev. John J. Cantwell. Masses were celebrated and following the solemn religious ceremonies the gay note of triumph was restored by a California barbecue.

But amid the scenes there stood a man whose heart beat with the joy of accomplishment in the task to which he gave the best years of his life and to which he will devote the remaining years of his service. This man, Rev. St. John O'Sullivan, came to the mission on a stretcher. Doctors had said he would die from disease. He did go there to die, but the cry of the ruins and the sight of the desolation of what was once such a magnificent mission so impressed him that he resolved to live and restore it.

Today he saw that day of beginning and his mind went back to those early times when the dust of years lay upon the sunbaked heap and the winds from the mesas swept over the white bleached walls of the great stone church.

Those were days of struggle leavened with intense devotion for the young Kentucky padre. He induced the people of the countryside to return to the mission many of the properties that had been taken away. He offered new bricks for the adobe that had been carted off. He sought books in libraries, books that had belonged to the mission San Juan Capistrano.

He repaired the graves of the faithful padres of the early days and put new ropes on the bells, tarnished and cracked. He cultivated the garden and refurbished the sanctuary. He installed new life and hope into the fast-fading outpost of Father Serra.

He put a fence around the mission and collected a small fee from tourists who desired to inspect the grounds and look upon the ruins. He wrote a booklet concerning the mission and devoted the proceeds from it to furtherance of his work. He even packaged the seeds from the flowers in the gardens so that a few more dollars might be added to the fund for reconstruction.

He borrowed money, and he paid it back. Sometimes he didn't know from just where the money was coming to repay the notes, but the money came and the ruins became more erect, the roofs were patched, the tints in the walls were restored, the religious pictures cleaned, the flagging in the patios repaired, the records of the early fathers stored in steel safes, the weeds burned, the general surroundings refreshed and revived.

Despite the duties of reconstruction Father O'Sullivan, now ruddy of cheek and firm of grip, maintained his position as religious counselor of his flock, extending his tenderness in burials, his blessings in births and his benediction on marriages.

Through all the years he has maintained his interest in the community of San Juan Capistrano as well as in the mission properties. It was Father O'Sullivan who named the new Capistrano-Elsinore highway Ortega highway, after the early day explorer.

And so today those who know Father O'Sullivan best gathered to do him honor and to look upon the result of his handiwork. Prominent laymen of varied religious faiths joined to hail his indomitable spirit and to point to him as a servant who has done his work well, truly "the padre of reconstruction."

Band Argument Comes to Close

MONROVIA, June 12.—So far as the City Council is concerned the heated debate waged on the municipal band question is closed, as Harold H. Scott, director of the local musicians, has been notified that his band referred to in his offer on May 20, in a letter to the Council, is the only one considered for the concerts this summer in Library Park.

Other bands making bids for the summer concerts were Harold Roberts's Golden State Band and J. R. Bayley, local band leader.

Petitions circulated by members of the municipal band and their followers and indorsements by clubs and organizations throughout the city were filed with City Clerk Dupar preceding a meeting of the Council when it was thought that the trustees favored out-of-town musicians.

ONTARIO, June 12. (AP)—Daniel Warner, 50 years of age, of Santa Monica, was injured fatally in an automobile-truck collision this afternoon. Warner's car overturned, crushing him, after it was struck by a truck. He died in the hospital of a punctured right lung and internal injuries.

THOMAS HEADS HOSPITAL

Former City Director in Charge of Institution; D. S. Roome Named Superintendent

PASADENA, June 12.—As a further step in the reorganization of the Pasadena Hospital, Carl C. Thomas, former City Director, has been placed in charge of the institution as acting chairman of the board of directors, and D. S. Roome, hospital auditor, has been named general superintendent, it was announced today.

Thomas will assume the responsibilities of Joseph P. Howe, president of the hospital association, whose resignation was tendered to the directors yesterday. Roome, the newly appointed superintendent, succeeds W. F. Vail, who resigned from the hospital staff Monday when his position of manager was abolished in line with an economy program.

The services of fifteen minor hospital employees are reported to have been dispensed with today. Reassurance was given that the directors do not contemplate dismissing department heads at the present time.

The hospital board has tabled President Howe's resignation in the belief that he may change his decision upon his return from an African hunting expedition.

Chairman Thomas called attention to the fact that Howe's letter of resignation was to have been presented during his absence from the city only in the event that the institution's basic policies were changed. As the principal changes are said to constitute merely changed methods of effecting economies, the board is of the opinion that Howe may reconsider his action when he learns the details of the reorganization.

CONTRACTS PREPARED FOR ROAD

Two Sections of Maricopa Highway Ordered by Tricounty Board

VENTURA, June 12.—Contracts for two more sections of the Maricopa highway will be awarded within a few weeks, under a decision made this forenoon by the tricounty board in session here.

One will be for the six-mile grade up the north side of Pine Mountain, a 500-foot tunnel under the summit of the ridge and some further grading south of the tunnel mouth. The other will be for a three-mile grade up to the summit of the West Casitas Pass, between Ventura and Carpinteria.

Engineer C. W. Petit's estimate for the first-mentioned job is $128,000, only to and including the tunnel, and for the Casitas grading, $50,000.

All that remains to be done before the bids are officially asked by the board is for a few changes to be made in the Pine Mountain plans, because of the adoption today of the tunnel idea, and obtaining the approval of the State Highway Department. Mr. Petit was instructed to rush these changes in the specifications and go with them to Sacramento as soon as possible to obtain the State's O.K.

Then the board will be called in special session by President T. S. Clark and bids advertised for.

The construction of these two units will not be completed, it is anticipated, before a year from this time. By then additional funds will be available from the three counties and the State, and also, it is believed, from Federal government Forestry Service, so that contracts may be let at that time for the final sections of the highway.

The tunnel will be 500 feet long and 20 feet wide, concreted on the inside, and will save one and three-fourths miles of winding road that otherwise would be built to reach the summit, and also will tend to shorten the length of the road on this side of the ridge.

Court Rules for Defense

EL CENTRO, June 12.—Counsel for Charles L. Gillett, Imperial county Sheriff who is now awaiting trial on three grand-jury indictments involving charges of theft and fraud and one accusation, won a nominal victory this morning when Judge A. C. Finney ruled that the defendant should go to trial first on the indictments.

Dist.-Atty. Elmer Heald, urged that the hearing on the accusation involving general charges of malfeasance in office should be given the preference when the case is called to trial on the 24th inst. The court denied this request after Gillett's attorneys had pointed out that the accusation merely involved removal from office and that if the Sheriff is found guilty under the theft indictments he would automatically be forced out of his position and the county be saved the expense of ouster proceedings later.

COMPANY AGREES TO LOWER TRACKS

INGLEWOOD, June 12.—As the result of the visit and inspection made here today by G. J. Kuhrts, president of the Los Angeles Railway, and Chief Engineer Harris of that road, lowering the tracks of the company in Lennox, and between Arbor Vitae street, the Inglewood city limits, and Belleview avenue, the Hawthorne city limits, is assured, it is announced by Sam Greene, chairman of the Inglewood Chamber of Commerce highways committee.

The party, with other members of the committee, including May M. Stevens, manager of the Lennox branch of the Los Angeles-First National Bank, and Herman Holden, editor of the Lennox Tribune, inspected the track and right of way which the committee had previously petitioned should be lowered and improved, and Mr. Kuhrts promised that the work would be done at once.

The improvement, as agreed upon will not only include the lowering of the tracks, but also bringing the present right of way to uniform width of forty feet, bordered by a curb and with a neat gravel and sand ballast. The county will be asked to pave the margin with concrete.

TEMPORARY SITE FOR ORPHANS' HOME

ONTARIO, June 12. — While a campaign for providing funds to build the Pacific Christian Home for Orphans in Ontario is being carried on, officials of the organization are now considering a temporary orphanage here, according to Harold P. Houchen, member of the newly appointed executive board for the institution.

The board has recommended purchase of a site as soon as possible. The Church of Christ of Southern California will sponsor the orphans' home. On the executive board are Rev. Samuel E. Witty, pastor of the Ontario church; Homer E. Bartlett, treasurer; W. H. Williams, Chino; A. L. Hamilton, Dr. J. A. Vance, E. L. Woodruff and Harold P. Houchen.

Trade in Local Area Continues Generally Quiet

Business is quiet in the Los Angeles area, and retail sales are generally restricted to hand-to-mouth buying, according to the weekly review of Los Angeles business compiled by Bradstreet's. The review follows:

"Wholesalers and jobbers report business quiet, with sales restricted to immediate needs. Sales for the month of May in most lines fell below those of a year ago. Competition continues to grow keener, and, while prices have decreased in a number of commodities the volume is hard to maintain. The trade continues to feel the inroads of chain-store competition, and the spreading out of outlying trade centers increases costs of selling to wholesalers.

"Railroad and stage companies report travel good, although cool weather is reflected in decreased patronage of summer resorts compared with June, 1928. Motion-picture studios are working practically at capacity due to the demand for talking pictures. Employment conditions in this industry are only fair at this time.

"Weather has been against fruit and vegetable shipments. Cantaloupes from the Imperial Valley have been held back by weather and peak shipments expected around the 10th inst. have been delayed. The crop is estimated at around 80 per cent of normal. Watermelon shipments are on the increase from the Imperial Valley and lettuce shipments are expected to continue from this point, although shipments from the central part of the State for June will be the heaviest. Due to the lateness of fruit and vegetables prices are remaining higher than a year ago."

Nation's Oil Production at Record Peak

NEW YORK, June 12. (Exclusive) Crude oil production in the United States for the week ended the 8th inst. averaged 2,724,540 barrels daily, an increase of 12,800 barrels daily, and a new high record, according to estimates of the American Petroleum Institute. This compares with the previous week's average of 2,711,850 barrels daily and 2,363,800 for the corresponding week in 1928.

The Petroleum Institute's estimate is sharply at variance with that made yesterday by the Tulsa Oil and Gas Journal which reports the total output for the same week at 2,717,542 barrels, or a decrease of 2181 barrels.

Imports of petroleum averaged 273,285 barrels a day against 248,571 the week before. Receipts of California oil at Atlantic and Gulf ports averaged 36,714 barrels a day, a decrease of 12,857 barrels from the previous week, according to the institute.

The greatest gain in production occurred in Texas, where the yield was 814,500 barrels daily against 801,300 barrels daily in the previous week. California increased its output 5300 barrels daily to 795,500. The entire midcontinent area's production increased 10,850 barrels daily to 1,508,650.

NEW NEON SET-UP OUTLINED

Preferred Shares of Delaware Company Convertible Into Common; Will Aid Merger Plan

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Important conversion features in the capitalization of the new Claude Neon Electrical Products Incorporated, Ltd., were disclosed yesterday through the filing of the articles of incorporation in Delaware by attorneys for the company. The preferred set-up contains an attractive conversion option that obviously is fashioned to facilitate the proposed combination of all the Claude neon companies in the Western States.

As set forth in the announcement from Wilmington, Del., the preferred stock of the new company is convertible into common in the ratio of two preferred for one common from July 1 to December 31, next, and two and one-half preferred for one common from January 1 to July 1, 1930.

CALL PRICE RAISED

To make conversion into common still more attractive, the price at which the preferred stock may be called for redemption is raised from $22 to $23 a share.

Shares of the present company, Claude Neon Electrical Products Corporation of Arizona, will be exchanged share for share into stock of the new Delaware company. When this exchange is accomplished, Claude Neon Electrical Products, Inc., Ltd., will have outstanding 60,000 shares of $20 par value 7 per cent preferred and 185,000 shares of no par value common.

If all the preferred is exchanged into common on the one-for-two offer, the outstanding common will total 215,000 shares, which will leave 285,000 shares out of the 500,000 shares authorized to work out the exchange of stock with the other western Claude neon companies.

In providing for the retirement of the preferred stock the present Arizona company is clearing away all obligations ahead of the common along the same line that the Oregon and Washington neon companies have recently done. It will be recalled that Electrical Products of Oregon recently called for redemption on July 1, next, of its entire issue of preferred, while on the same date the Electrical Products Corporation of Washington will retire its funded indebtedness and preferred also.

MAY BOOST RATE

After these companies have eliminated the senior stock issues, the Oregon company will have 74,500 shares of common outstanding, and the Washington company 100,000 shares, both issues of which presumably will be exchanged into common stock of Claude Neon Electrical Products, Inc., Ltd.

Steps to retire the preferred shares of the new Delaware company also forecast the raising of the cash dividend on the common stock. The rate is now 80 cents annually, which possibly may be lifted to $1 as soon as the necessity of paying dividends on the preferred stock is removed.

Unofficial reports intimate that an examination and appraisal of assets of the western neon companies is now under way, and that terms of exchange into the Delaware company will be offered as soon as the latter has completed its conversion of preferred shares into common. It is also believed that the western company will operate independently of the Claude neon companies in other parts of the country, although proposals of a nation-wide combination have been advanced by some of the eastern units.

Oil Executive Undisturbed by Patent Ruling

NEW YORK, June 12. (Exclusive)—The Sherman antitrust law decision against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and fifty other associated oil companies in connection with the oil-cracking process pool was characterized as "much more favorable than unfavorable" by one of the leading oil executives in New York City today. He refused to be quoted on the ground that he had not seen a copy of the decision by the United States District Court in Chicago. He expected to have a copy at hand by Friday or Saturday and indicated that he might have a statement somewhat more in detail to make on the subject.

He pointed out that the government, in the evidence taken before the special master, alleged that fraud had been committed in obtaining cracking-process patents from the Texas Company. As far as he could learn from newspaper accounts of the decision and from private sources, the Chicago decision says that all the patents are good and legal and thus established the validity of the patents, a question that for years has caused trouble until the very question as to the validity of the patents became an important factor in the organization and of the so-called cracking-process pool.

"The court finds that these patents were not overlapping," continued the official, "but the master's findings were that there was overlaping and that it was perfectly proper to pool. On the basis of that for appeal."

FEDERAL BOARD HELD WEAK

Rescinding of Trade Commission Rule Against Secret Pacts Criticised

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, June 12.—The Federal Trade Commission, by a vote of 3-2, has rescinded the so-called "clandestine violation" rule of enforcing trade practice agreements. The rescinding of this rule, adopted by the commission only last October, is considered a distinct victory for W. E. Humphreys.

At the time of its adoption, also by a vote of 3-2, the rule admittedly was an experiment. No evidence was presented to show that any harm resulted.

It was largely the work of Herbert Hoover in the Department of Commerce that many trade conferences were held to formulate rules for the conduct of industries. The cotton men, for example, would get together and draw up working rules for the entire industry. And so in many other industries trade practice agreements were drawn up and endorsed.

Naturally there were people in nearly every industry who did not care to follow the rules laid down. So the Federal Trade Commission adopted the "clandestine violation" rule as a method of "rationalizing the Sherman Act"—a method whereby the independent units in business might enter into agreements for their preservation.

Then one member of the commission resigned, and the commission withdrew the rule by the same vote by which it was adopted.

E. A. McCulloch, chairman of the commission, who opposed the rescinding, says:

"In my opinion the commission's policy of preventing secret violations of trade-conference rules is not invalid and it should not be abandoned—the policy is at least an adventure which can, if pursued, result in no harm to business interests, and on the contrary might be helpful."

The rescinding of so important a rule after such a short period of test, reveals the weakness of the structure of the Federal Trade Commission as it is now constituted.

Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the United States Geological Survey, after several weeks in Los Angeles, has worked out an agreement with all of the oil companies interested in permits on government lands covering the middle dome of Kettleman Hills, under which postponement of drilling activity in this part of a very promising oil area was approved.

The agreement covers a possible oil-land area of thirty-six square miles, about half of which is owned by the Standard Oil Company of California.

The companies working on government land which have agreed to postpone drilling this important field are Pacific Western, Shell, Bolsa Chica, Marland of California, Associated and Petroleum Securities.

Kettleman Hills consists of three oil domes . . . it is potentially the largest oil field in California. The oil companies co-operated closely with Dr. Smith in this matter.

"The majority of interests in the Kettleman fields are wholly in accord with the government's position of making this great oil and gas field an example of orderly development and rational production," says Secretary Wilbur.

The fact that this is the first agreement of its kind entered into makes it of prime importance.

UTILITIES LEAD ON QUIET MART

Turnover at Sessions Again Registers Decline

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP)—Stock prices drifted irregularly in another quiet market today, with the volume of trading falling still nearer the 2,000,000-share mark, and setting still another low record for the past ten months.

A somewhat easier tone in both call and time money prompted resumption of professional operations for the advance for a time, but traders were quick to take profits at the higher levels. Bullish activity again centered in the utilities, and the Associated Press price index of twenty representative issues of this group was sent up about 2 points to still another record high level.

Call money held at 8 per cent at the money desk, but was available outside at 7½. In time money, some thirty to ninety-day maturities were loaning at 8 1-4 per cent, against a flat rate of 8½ yesterday. The outlook for money during the remainder of the month, however, appeared highly uncertain, but the facts that the new short-term Treasury notes were heavily oversubscribed and were being bought today at a slight premium were regarded as good signs.

Commission house advices were confused and rather uncertain. While some were inclined to believe that the market had reached bottom, the majority were inclined to regard the outlook as still clouded.

EXAMINE YOUR SPECULATIVE HOLDINGS

RECENT market tendencies suggest that speculative holdings be checked closely.

It may be wise to convert some of them into more conservative securities, held primarily for income.

There is no lack of optimism in such a recommendation. It merely recognizes the fact that many investors have for a time lost sight of the importance both of established income, and of keeping a reasonable part of their capital in non-speculative investments.

We will gladly furnish on request a list of conservative investment securities which we feel justified in recommending for those who wish fixed income.

FINISHED STEEL BUYING SLACKER

Weekly Review Reports New Orders Easing Off

Little Let-Down Apparent in Production at Mills

Rail and Auto Buying Seen as Underlying Strength

CLEVELAND, June 12. (Exclusive)—The Iron Trade Review for the week says:

New business in finished steel, while seasonally high, is declining and shipments exceed specifications by a wider margin, but producers are not scaling down their operations proportionately. They are being carried along by the momentum of five consecutive record months and, with production rates only a few points under the peak of May, are whittling down their back logs.

The automotive and railroad equipment industries alone provide unusual underlying strength. Some automobile manufacturers and parts makers have curtailed as much as 30 per cent, but so long as Ford and Chevrolet, accounting for 55 per cent of all automobile production, do not slacken their gait—and this is the prospect—then the summer slump in this industry will be tempered.

Thus far in 1929 the railroads have ordered 57,000 freight cars, contrasted with 29,400 in the comparable period of 1928. Steel for much of this equipment remains to be rolled and car builders now are assured operations averaging 85 per cent well into autumn. Locomotive orders to date total 490, compared with 132 a year ago.

With unusually good railroad business already in hand, the two most important automobile makers promising to go through the summer at unusually brisk rates, and no signs that the normal summer demand for steel will be depressed, the industry shows no hesitancy in maintaining high operative rates. May's all-time ingot record was at the expense of backlogs, as evidenced by the decline of 123,596 tons in the unfilled orders of the Steel Corporation, May 31, after five consecutive monthly increases, but this interest continues to work off obligations speedily.

CONTRACTING LAGS

Continuation of current prices on finished steel into the third quarter has taken the snap out of contracting, normally not spectacular with summer coming on. Users of semifinished steel, which continues scarce, are deferring conflict with advanced prices until makers reach the position where they will have a surplus to market.

Pig iron prices in the East are not so strong. Though scrap iron prices are resisting in some districts, they face an unequal contest with heavy supplies—to which the Pittsburgh district is an exception—operations of "short" interests and pressure by consumers.

Those smelters of pig iron who have not already placed their third quarter's requirements are disposed to wait out the market. Quiet closing, without the formality of inquiring, has been heavy, and more than half the expected third-quarter output probably has been reserved. Automotive industry consumers in particular, are slow to cover.

Shipments in all districts continue to run ahead of last year. St. Louis and New York report more third-quarter activity. More Alabama iron is coming into the eastern markets.

Deliveries on most finished products are a shade easier. Makers of sheets, strip and cold-finish bars are slowly wearing down their backlogs.

Structural steel inquiry at Chicago has been expanded 10,000 tons this week, to nearly 40,000 tons. Pending work at Cleveland calls for approximately 30,000 tons.

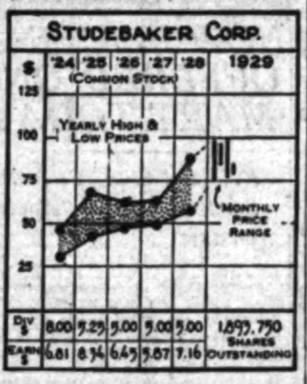
WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



STUDEBAKER CORPORATION

The Studebaker Corporation is one of the leading makers of automobiles, ranging from low to medium high-priced. In 1927, the company entered the popular-priced field with the Erskine six, introduced the President straight eight and improved the entire Dictator and Commander lines. In 1928 the company took over the management of Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company. On April 2, 1929, announcement was made of the formation of the Studebaker-Pierce-Arrow Export Corporation.

In April, 1929, it was announced that all the Studebaker export manufacture was concentrated for the first time at South Bend, following removal of the last unit from Detroit. Overseas shipments were said to have reached a new high for the year of seventy cars a day.

Results of 1929 are expected to be of special interest as showing the effect upon earnings, both of the completed new lines and of centralizing operations at South Bend. Tangible savings from this centralization have been estimated at about $4,000,000 annually.

Acceptance of Tide Water Oil Offer Forecast

NEW YORK, June 12. (Exclusive)—Acceptance by the First National Bank of the revised offer to exchange shares of the Tide Water Oil Company for stock of Tide Water Associated Oil Company, is predicted as a result of recent elections in the latter company. Favorable voting has placed Jackson E. Reynolds and Henry S. Sturgis, president and vice-president, respectively of the First National Bank, on the board of directors of the Tide Water Associated.

The new offer is to give 1 1-4 shares of common stock of the Tide Water Associated Oil Company for one share of Tide Water Oil Company. That compares with an original offer of 1 1-3 shares of Tide Water Associated common stock for each share of Tide Water Oil common stock.

The acceptance of the offer by First National Bank interests is expected to clear the way for early absorption of Tide Water Oil by Tide Water Associated Oil and result in creating a better integrated oil company. The total amount of outstanding Tide Water Oil minority stock is 49,431 shares. It is believed that nearly half of that total is owned by the First National Bank. A statement by the company says that 42 per cent of the minority stock has accepted the new offer.

CHASE BANK AIMING FOR LEADERSHIP

Consummation of Plans Would Make Resources of $2,000,000,000

NEW YORK, June 12. (Exclusive) Formation of the largest bank in the world is in process in Wall street through the merger plans of the Chase National Bank, according to reports in financial circles today. Should present plans of the management be finally consummated, it is hinted the Chase National will have total resources of approximately $2,200,000,000. This would exceed the resources of the National City Bank now in the lead with slightly over $2,000,000,000, and the Guaranty Trust Company, in second place, with resources of about $2,000,000,000. It would also bring the Chase National Bank within striking distance of the largest English bank with resources of about $2,800,000,000.

The report is based on supposed plans of the Chase National Bank, published and not denied.

It is reported that the Chase will absorb the National Park Bank forming a combined institution with resources of about $1,500,000,000. Officers of both banks refused to discuss the deal, although admitting that negotiations are in progress. Wall street has heard rumors for over a year that such a merger would eventually be effected.

It has been persistently reported also that Chase and the Bank of America would some day merge. This belief is based on the fact that some affiliation was discussed when the Bank of America was absorbed by Blair & Co., long known to be closely connected with the Chase.

Another bank that has been linked with the Chase bank is the Brooklyn Trust Company. It was likewise known that discussions between the two banks have been going on for some time. The Bank of America has total resources of about $426,000,000, to which should be added about $70,000,000 for Blair & Co., and $30,000,000 for the Nassau National Bank. The Brooklyn Trust Company has resources of about $153,000,000.

Brush Holdings Still Large in Rio Grande Oil

L. M. Lockhart, president of the Rio Grande Oil Company, yesterday confirmed the reports from New York that Matthew C. Brush and his associates have not liquidated their position in Rio Grande. Mr. Lockhart said he had been advised by Charles S. Jones, vice-president of Rio Grande, now in New York, that the Brush-owned American International Corporation holds more Rio Grande than any other single stock.

Moreover, Mr. Lockhart said, the Brush group, so he has been informed, has been taking advantage of the current selling movement to increase its holdings in the Rio Grande company.

Concerning operations at Elwood, Mr. Lockhart said that production and development are going ahead satisfactorily, and that April earnings were the best in the history of the company. Earnings for the second quarter, he said, should exceed the amount earned in the first quarter when the amount available for the common was $1.05 a share.

Check to Farm Aid Plans Hits Grain Markets

CHICAGO, June 12. (AP)—In a storm of selling that temporarily overwhelmed the grain markets today, wheat went down almost 5 cents a bushel and corn more than 3 cents. The depreciation of values followed Senate disapproval of the farm relief bill, but the effects afterward were largely overcome through a renewal of buying which was associated with reports that delay to farm relief would prove short.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous, 1¼@1⅞c below yesterday's finish. Corn closed ⅛@2c down, oats unchanged to ⅛@⅜c off, and provisions varying from 2@5c decline to a rise of 10c.

Biggest breaks in the price of wheat today came soon after business began and while the market was staggering under an overnight piling up of orders from all directions to get rid of wheat ownership in a hurry. A multitude of the commands to sell out was evidently given before the senders were aware that latest developments at Washington had in great degree taken the edge from the sharpness of Senate refusal to enact the farm relief bill unless after additional parleys. The outstanding fact at the start, however, was that anxiety over the situation at Washington had led to wholesale throwing overboard of holdings of wheat and other grain.

Racked by the strain which the wheat market suffered, prices suddenly collapsed all the way from 2⅝@4⅝c at the outset, and soon showed an extreme smash of 4⅝c, with simultaneous transactions differing fully 1 cent a bushel in various parts of the struggling mass of brokers in the trading pit. Values fluctuated fast thereafter until accumulated orders to sell or buy had been fairly well cleared up. Then a general but incomplete recovery from the initial shock set in, the market moving fitfully higher throughout the remainder of the day.

Irregular upward swings during the later dealings in wheat today were aided by predictions from trade leaders that final passage of the farm bill and the affixing of President Hoover's signature would be brought about within a few days at the furthest. Special notice was also taken that the Liverpool wheat market, which had shown a violent fall early today, had closed at ⅝@½d net decline. Significance was likewise attached to renewal of drought complaints from Canada, as well as to word of additional buying of Canadian wheat for the Orient, and to advices at hand that European wheat import requirements would continue to remainder of the day.

Apparently as a direct result of misgivings relative to farm relief, country holders let go of "to arrive" shipments of corn today on the largest scale in many weeks. This happened moreover in the face of official reports that corn planting is badly delayed in Southern Illinois and Iowa and in Eastern Kansas and Oklahoma. Oats were easy owing to weakness of corn and wheat.

Provisions at first were influenced by the action of cereals, but recovered later, helped by upturns in the value of hogs.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Rio Grande Continues Stronger and Douglas Aircraft Registers Substantial Improvement in Price

Fractional improvement in Rio Grande Oil over the low prices earlier in the week, and a sharp rally in Douglas Aircraft were the two constructive developments of importance in yesterday's sluggish market on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The volume of trading was almost exactly one-half that of the previous day.

Rio Grande again sold as high as 30 and closed at 29 1-2, a gain for the day of 1-8 point. The company here issued a statement confirming the reports from New York that the Brush interests had not liquidated their position in Rio Grande.

Douglas Aircraft snapped up 1 5-8 points to close at 39, after touching a low for the day at 38 1-8. The company is expected to announce soon the award of another large government contract to the Douglas plant.

Major oil shares were still under pressure. Union of California dropped fractionally to 47 3-8 and Union Oil Associates to 47. Standard of California was off 3-4 to 75 and Richfield was 3-8 lower at 41 5-8. Barnsdall Oil, on a light volume, receded 1 3-8 to 41 5-8.

In the miscellaneous division Byron Jackson Pump declined 1-4 to 35, while Emsco Derrick was unchanged at 33 1-2. Republic Supply, another oil-well equipment company, dropped 1 point to 67. Monolith Portland Cement common, a new issue, was off 1 point to 13 1-2.

Apathy ruled in the public utilities, but in the bank group a few minor changes were recorded. One-point losses were marked up in Farmers' and Merchants' National and National Bank of Commerce, while Bank of America of California was up 1-2 at 170 1-2.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP)—Conflicting news features were reflected by rather narrow and irregular fluctuations in the cotton market today, but selling on better weather reports was quite readily absorbed and prices held generally steady on continued reports of heavy boll weevil infestation in the South and large domestic consumption figures.

The midafternoon market was quiet but steady at net advances of about 1 to 6 points.

NEWS MEAGRE

The day's news was meagre, but remained favorable. Car loadings for the week ended the 1st inst. fell below the 1,000,000 mark for the first time in about two months, but this was attributed to the Memorial Day holiday. The steel trade reviews again stressed the unseasonably high rate of production, Iron Age stating that little reduction from the record-breaking rate of May has appeared. Iron Age's composite price of pig iron dropped 8 cents to $18.63 a ton, but finished steel remained unchanged.

Merger gossip regarding the utilities gained ground, and American Water Works, Standard Gas and Electric, and Public Service of New Jersey were sent up to new record prices, the first-named making an extreme gain of over 8 points. Commonwealth Power continued to rally, selling up 7 points. Federal Light and Traction, however, lost 5½ points, and American and Foreign Power and American Power and Light lost about 2 points each.

AUBURN SOARS

Auburn auto was the high flier of the session, soaring 23 points to a record price at 275. Midland Steel Products preferred jumped 12 points to a new top at 250 on declaration of $1.50 extra dividend. National Distillers preferred advanced nearly 11 points to a new peak on continued talk of redemption. Hahn Department Stores common was in brisk demand on rumors of dividend inauguration.

Allis Chalmer, Air Reduction, F. G. Shattuck and Timken Roller Bearing reached new high territory. General Electric and Electric Auto Lite were sent up about 9 and 7 points, respectively. Crucible Steel reached a new peak on increased dividend prospects, but reacted and closed lower.

SOLVENTS HIT

A number of recent favorites encountered profit-taking. Commercial Solvents fell back 11 points. Fleischmann, which has been mounting steadily in reflection of merger talk, dropped 2 points, and Warren Brothers lost 3 of yesterday's 11-point gain. Such shares as American Can, New York Central, Otis Elevator dropped 9 points, and Sloss Sheffield preferred, a comparatively inactive issue, dropped 11 points to a new low at 95. Other issues reaching new lows included Willys-Overland and Universal Leaf Tobacco.

Grains broke sharply in the commodity markets on the Senate's refusal to accept the conference report on the farm-relief measure, but regained much of their losses. Wheat dropped 4 cents, then rallied about 2½ cents from the bottom on dry weather in Canada in better export buying. Corn lost 3 cents, but rallied on reports of floods in Illinois and bearish weather forecasts, reducing losses to about 1 cent a bushel. Cotton closed 45 to 75 cents a bale higher on large domestic consumption figures for May and reiterated reports of boll weevil damage.

Foreign exchanges were dull, with sterling cables still holding at $4.84 13-16. German marks sagged a couple of points to 23.79 cents.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP)—Convertibles and secondary rails made a little progress in today's sluggish bond market. Factors which would stimulate general interest in fixed return securities were lacking, however, and the absence of confidence was reflected in the small gains shown by the issues that did advance. Price movements over the entire list were narrow.

Bonds carrying stock options or warrants led the market as usual, but with the exception of American Telephone 4½s and Southern Pacific 4½s, the transactions were light. Improvement in this group was fractional.

A few high-grade rails moved up with the others, notably Chesapeake & Ohio general 4s, which gained 1½. Smaller advances were made by Denver & Rio Grande consolidated 4s, Kansas City Southern refunding 5s, and Virginian 5s. The popular St. Paul adjustment 5s advanced on moderate buying, while St. Louis & Southwestern 5s were marked up 2 points on good demand.

Utilities and industrials showed irregularity. Columbia Gas & Electric 5s and North American Edison 5½s found somewhat stronger markets and improved fractionally, but Consolidated Gas of New York 5½s, Utilities Power & Light 5½s, and United Electric Light & Power 5½s ran into selling for small losses.

The new United States Treasury 5⅛ per cent certificates commanded a slight premium on the over-the-counter market. A $700,000,000 oversubscription for this issue resulted in the announcement that large bidders would receive only 30 per cent allotments and so the big dealers have been forced into the market to fill their orders. The asked price for the short term obligations was par and one thirty-second.

Other United States government issues lost ground, but only the fourth Liberty 4¼s and the Treasury 4s showed any volume. Both sold off. The foreign list was uninteresting and irregular.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

The following information is summarized from a letter of Mr. E. B. Neiswanger, President of the Company:

Central Power and Light Company, incorporated in 1916 under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, now supplies one or more classes of public utility service to a centralized group of 151 communities which are located in the southern portion of the State of Texas. Electric light and power is supplied to 137 communities, ice to 100, water to 21, gas to 1 and street railway service in 2 communities. The Company serves 51,711 customers with electric light and power, 247 with gas and 15,393 with water. The total combined population of the territory now served is estimated at 350,000. Laredo, Corpus Christi and Del Rio, Texas, and the rich Rio Grande valley are among the districts where electric service is rendered. Houston, San Antonio and Brownsville are the largest of the communities served with ice.

Security: These Bonds, in the opinion of counsel, are a direct obligation of the Company and are secured by an absolute first mortgage on all of the permanent property, rights and franchises of the Company now owned and on all property hereafter acquired on account of which additional bonds are issuable under the Mortgage, and are additionally secured by deposit with the Trustee under the Mortgage of all capital stocks and bonds at any time outstanding of the subsidiaries specified in the Mortgage. The earnings and property values of all the Subsidiaries do not exceed 2¼% of the total earnings and property values, respectively, of the Company and its Subsidiaries.

Earnings: The Consolidated Earnings Statement of the Central Power and Light Company as now constituted and its Subsidiaries, for the twelve months period ended April 30, 1929, is as follows:

Gross Earnings	$9,038,402.36
Operating Expenses, Rentals, Taxes and Maintenance	5,445,535.01
Net Earnings	$3,592,867.35
Annual Interest Requirement on the Company's total funded debt (including this issue)	$1,273,225.00

Net earnings over 2.82 times interest requirement on funded debt.

Maintenance and Renewal Fund: The Mortgage also provides that during each calendar year, the Company shall expend or cause to be expended by its Subsidiaries an amount not less than 12½% of the sum of the gross earnings derived from operation of its mortgaged properties and the properties of its Subsidiaries, for (a) maintenance and/or renewals and replacements; (b) the making of extensions or the acquisition of properties on account of which the Company would otherwise be entitled to issue additional bonds; or (c) the redemption, the payment or the purchase and cancellation of any bonds issued under and secured by the Mortgage.

Valuation: The value of the Company's property, less depreciation, as determined during the years 1922 and 1923 by independent examining engineers, plus the actual cost of subsequent additions, is largely in excess of the total funded debt of the Company, to be outstanding in the hands of the public upon completion of the present financing.

Management: This Corporation is a part of the Middle West Utilities system. The management is in the hands of experienced public utility men whose ability as economical and efficient operators has been thoroughly demonstrated.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP)—Heavy buying of the stocks of power and light companies operating in the northeastern section of the United States, based on unconfirmed reports of the formation of a gigantic holding company in those issues, featured an otherwise dull curb market today. Prices in the general list lacked a definite trend, although indications of a gradual relaxation of credit conditions contributed to a more cheerful speculative sentiment.

Buffalo, Niagara & Eastern common and preferred soared 11¾ and 15¼ points, respectively, to new high records at 97¾ and 98½, closing practically at the top. St. Regis Paper, which has large public utility holdings, ran up 16 points to a new high at 186, and retained all but 4 points of its gain. Eastern States B, Mohawk & Hudson, Northern States Northern States Power A, Northeastern Power, and Mohawk & Hudson all moved into new high ground, the last named soaring more than 12 points.

Most of the other public utilities rallied in sympathy. Arizona Power, Penn-Ohio Edison issues, and Southeastern Power & Light also broke into new high ground, while several others advanced a point or more. American Super Power (new,) was one of the few active issues to lose ground.

The new United Stores issues ran into further selling, the common selling at 50 and the preferred at 89, the lowest prices since their listing a few days ago. Union Tobacco, one of the units of the proposed merger, dropped nearly a point to 9, duplicating the year's low.

Lerner Stores crossing 63 to a new peak price, featured the merchandising group. Tubize Artificial Silk, which only changes hands in odd lots, broke 25 points to a new 1929 low at 335, which contrasts with the year's high of 510, and then snapped back to 350.

Reports of dissension at the Colorado Springs oil conference, and a record-breaking output of crude last week, had a depressing effect on the oil shares. Paragon Refining sank to a new low at 22½. Humble dropped 2 points, and Gulf 1. Ainsworth advanced to a new top on the reported purchase of Joseph N. Smith & Co. A rise of more than 5 points in Goldman Sachs Trading Corporation featured the investment trust group.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

The Corporation has made large investments in securities of Associated Gas and Electric Company and other public utility enterprises. The management regards many of these investments as temporary and plans to dispose of them as opportunities permit, with a view to investing the proceeds in securities representing interest in or control of additional operating utility enterprises.

	Outstanding
Subsidiary Companies:
Funded Debt and Preferred Stocks (Par Value)	$44,021,600

Assets: The Corporation has no debt except current obligations incurred in the ordinary course of business. Net assets as of April 30, 1929, after deducting such current obligations and giving effect to this financing, aggregate over 330% of the total liquidation value of the Preferred Stocks to be presently outstanding. The Preferred Stocks are followed by the Common Stocks, which, together with the outstanding Dividend Participations, have an indicated market value as of April 30, 1929, of over $105,000,000.

[illegible] Standard Oil Company's [illegible] No. 1 is drilling ahead below [illegible] and indications are that [illegible] will be carried on [illegible] deeper to determine what [illegible] really is like.

[illegible] reports that the Standard [illegible] Company, a subsidiary of [illegible] Oil Company, will [illegible] its second absorption [illegible] Hills has just [illegible] by company officials. [illegible] to the announcement, [illegible] will be constructed along the lines of the first, which is being enlarged at a reported cost of $2,000,000. It is to be used in compressing the wet gas from projects that are active in that district.

The No. 81 well, on Sec. 81 with bottom of the hole at 6124 feet, Standard's deepest project in that area, is circulating. Reports were current that it had been recently placed on production and was putting out considerable oil, but they were denied.

The No. 41 and No. 261 projects are near by, and according to reports the gas from these will be utilized in the plant.

Costs May Increase

Costs of drilling projects in the Palisades tract, three miles west of Santa Barbara, according to field reports, may be considerably higher than at first anticipated by operators.

When the field was discovered by the Olympic Oil and Gas Company, it was thought by operators that a well could be drilled and completed at a figure far less than elsewhere because of the reported possible shallow production.

It has been learned, however, that the stickiness of the formation encountered by several operators, and a hard shell formation picked up in other projects, may add somewhat to the costs of drilling.

Operators, it was reported, thought a well could be completed for about $25,000. But since the campaign is now on, and the formation discovered is found to be rather difficult to penetrate at various depths, the figure has been raised to $35,000 and perhaps $40,000 per well before final completion.

Surface casing must be set in projects in the Palisades tract, like anywhere else, although early reports were that it would not be needed. Early experience of the Ring Oil Company, Major Oil Company, Exeter Oil Company and others, have disproved that theory. All have had to set surface casing and follow out their program as though deep tests were being drilled.

Testing

A production test yesterday was being made in the Elwood Community No. 1 well of Barnsdell-Rio Grand combination at Elwood. Field reports stated that the cement plug at 5397 feet was being drilled out, with bottom of the hole at 5667 feet.

Deepest Well Progressing

The Shell Oil Company's Mesa No. 1, in the center of operations at Signal Hill, is drilling ahead at 8975 feet, and to date is reported to have failed to pick up a favorable formation. This project was started about six months ago and is the deepest active well in the State, according to records.

Wildcat Abandoned

The Texas Company's Aldridge No. 1 wildcat, situated on Sec. 4, 31-22, near McKittrick, has been abandoned, with bottom of the hole at 5016 feet.

Tests for gas were made on this project, but without success, according to field reports.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, June 12. (AP)—The volume of western grown wool selling appears to be somewhat smaller than last week's. Demand is slow on original bags and graded 64s and finer wool. Graded 56-60s wool are only moderately active. Some of the large houses have taken orders covering the 56s, 48s and 50s to be graded out of purchases made in the country up to this time. This factor is having some influence in slowing down the market on these two grades of both fleece and territory lines.

MARK PARLEY OPENS TODAY

Belgians Seek Redemption of War Currency

Germany Asked Settlement on Worthless Money

Rhineland Evacuation May Be Counter-Proposal

BRUSSELS, June 12. (AP)—Great discretion is being observed in Belgian and German quarters here regarding tomorrow's opening negotiations on the German mark settlement which were preceded by an exchange of diplomatic views.

The Belgians have demanded thirty-seven annuities of 25,000,000 marks each (about $6,000,000 a year) as payment for the German marks left in Belgium after the war and which subsequently became worthless. In agreeing to sign the recent reparations settlement, the Belgians made the stipulation that the settlement will not go into effect until the marks problem finally is arranged.

In order to avoid any indiscreet or harmful interference, both the Germans and Belgians have agreed to issue no communique until a final conclusion is reached. This then will be communicated simultaneously to all the governments concerned.

It is believed here that immediate evacuation of the Rhineland is likely to be pressed by the German representative, Dr. Ritter, economic expert of the reparations division of the German Foreign Office.

The Belgians have declared that they will admit of no further reductions in their claims and consequently it is thought Dr. Ritter may try to obtain economic concessions.

DEBT PARLEY TO BE HELD IN LONDON

LONDON, June 12. (AP)—A diplomatic conference will be held in London in July to consider the best means of putting into operation the report of the Paris reparations conference, well-informed circles here believed today. The conference probably will be attended by the foreign ministers of the various countries concerned and is expected to precede Premier MacDonald's projected American visit.

DILL URGES LAW FIXING RAIL VALUES

Senator Says Decision in O'Fallon Case Has Left Uncertainty on Question

WASHINGTON, June 12. (AP)—A demand for legislation to clear up what he described as the "uncertainty" caused by the Supreme Court decision in the O'Fallon case was made in the Senate today by Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington.

Dill declared it was the "duty of Congress to find a stable basis of railroad valuation," asserting the O'Fallon decision made it "incumbent upon Congress to make the question of valuation more specific."

"The trouble with the decision," he said, "is that it does not decide the question that should have been decided and that the people of the country and the Interstate Commerce Commission wanted decided.

"No one can tell from the decision," he continued, "how much, whether 5 or 80 per cent, can be added to valuations to cover the cost of reproduction."

Dill said Congress might reduce the rate of return from 6 to 4 or 4½ per cent, fix the percentage of added valuation for reproduction costs, require as a basis of consolidation a stable valuation of railroad properties, or, as a last resort, provide for government ownership.

DIVIDEND BOOSTED BY AIR REDUCTION

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, June 12. (Exclusive)—A waiting attitude among traders due to the impending publication of crude rubber consumption figures for May seemed be reflected in the trading of futures at the local rubber exchange today, while prices moved within a very narrow range, in a comparatively dull session. A strong undertone was maintained throughout, however, and early dealings saw advances of 30 points in the three positions which were traded in all through the day, the bulk of business being transacted in the December delivery.

All actual closings were 10 points below the highs of the day, where they showed gains gains of 10 and 20 points over Tuesday's finals, while sales volume fell to 468 contracts or 1170 long tons from 577 contract or 1442½ tons in the previous session. Singapore was unchanged at 9 15-16d in a dull market. Outside spot was the same at 20⅝c.

CREDIT MAN'S PHRASE . . which the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA . . has had to use but once . . in 36½ years with but one-loan-loss.

There is nothing "cute" or funny in that phrase. After 36 years without a loan loss it was a mighty sad occasion when this old-fashioned institution has to make its slogan "ONE loan-loss in 36½ years." Even though we had enjoined the Law of Averages for so long a time.

WE KNOW OF NO OTHER FINANCIAL INSTITUTION . . that publicly lists its loan-losses . . but we keep a continuous independent audit going . . with the monthly report on the front counter . . and then we publish it . . as for many years.

Down in Pomona Valley, among neighbors and friends, the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA has grown to hold State records, by keeping a conservative clientage thoroughly posted on the detailed affairs of this institution. That idea, too, is worth copying, in form at least.

State records can't be copied. Nor the percentage of safety afforded by $3,000,000 paid-in capital, surplus and reserve, compared with $13,000,000 resources. All backed by unlimited liability—which keeps us conservative and limits our growth to the amount of your 6% funds that we can keep SAFELY loaned.

Among the many fine building and loan associations of Southern California you will find the MUTUAL OF POMONA accepting your account only when it has safe employment in first trust deeds of the kind that have netted but one-loan-loss in 36½ years.

PRUSSIANS FIGHT PACT WITH POPE

German Protestants in Manifesto Demand Safe Course for State

BERLIN, June 12. (AP)—On the eve of the signing of a concordat between the Vatican and the Prussian government, the Association of German Protestants today issued a manifesto demanding "in the interest of Protestantism" that nothing more than a State agreement be concluded with the Holy See.

The manifesto urged that the sovereignty of Prussia be guarded in every respect, especially in relation to appointments to German bishoprics.

The document insisted not only that the school question should be omitted from the concordat, but that a stipulation should be made that German Catholic clergy should be educated at German institutions, with the further assurance that "the freedom of the universities be safeguarded against any theological interference."

It concluded with a demand that simultaneously with the signing of an agreement with the Roman Catholic church, a similar agreement should be concluded with the Protestant church, "commensurate with the historical significance of Protestantism in Prussia."

FILIPINOS ARRESTED AT SANTA BARBARA

SANTA BARBARA, June 12.—Three Filipino youths, answering the description of a trio wanted in Pasadena in connection with the embezzlement of $10,000 through spurious checks, were arrested by Undersheriff Jack Ross last night in a pool hall on Anacapa and Canon Perdido streets.

A quantity of men's wearing apparel, recently purchased in Pasadena, was seized in the room of John Cortez and Joe Trinidad who came to the city Sunday. They were stopping in a negro boarding house. Paulino Ignacio, arrested with the two, was stopping in a downtown hotel. The Pasadena police returned the trio to the southern city this morning. A woman, said to be the wife of Ignacio, also is being hunted by Pasadena and Los Angeles police, the undersheriff said. Police of the two southern cities have been watching the rooming house in which the three Filipinos stayed for the past three days, he stated.

LABORATORY TO INVADE SKIES

Scientists to Study Cosmic Rays in Balloon at Great Height

BRUSSELS, June 12. (Exclusive)—Working closer to the sun than any human being before, Prof. Andre Piccard of Brussels University and an assistant will start studying the cosmic rays at a height of nearly 50,000 feet. The professor plans to reach this dizzy height in an especially made balloon with a closed cabin for two scientists.

Prof. Piccard states that the cosmic rays are the key to the atmospheric conditions of the earth and this his initiative may lead to all commercial airplanes using the upper layers for travel in the near future, rather than the stormy regions close to the earth.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Persigue la Mala Suerte a los Aviadores que Cruzan los Mares

REIKIAVIK (Islandia), Junio 12. Sigue la mala suerte castigando la tentativa del capitán Albin Ahrenberg de pilotear el hidroavión "Sverige" hasta los Estados Unidos, después de atravesar el mar Artico. Tras varias vanas intentonas de salir ayer de Reikiavik, frustradas todas ellas por pequeños desperfectos mecánicos los aviadores emprendieron nuevo vuelo esta mañana temprano, pero resultó ser sólo un ensayo.

El obstáculo principal de hoy ha sido un radiador defectuoso. Después de los fracasos de ayer, los mecánicos lo repararon; pero la compostura no fue de duración. Ha habido, pues, que sacar el radiador del avión y llevarlo a tierra.

Dijeron los mecánicos que en unas cuantas horas terminarían de reparar el radiador; pero, entretanto, han llegado noticias de que el tiempo se está descomponiendo en las cercanías de Ivigtut (Groenlandia), que será la primera escala de los viajeros. De allí que no se crea probable que los aviadores intenten volar las ochocientas y pico de millas de hielo y agua, que forman la segunda etapa, antes de que el tiempo se componga.

Las Aviadoras Rechazan la Ayuda Masculina

TACOMA (Washington), Junio 12. "Pueden ustedes subscribir mi nombre en mayúsculas a esa declaración", manifestó aquí hoy la señorita Ruth Elder, aviadora, al mostrárseles la protesta que ha redactado Amelia Earhart contra la idea de que se exijan navegantes del sexo fuerte en la proyectada carrera aérea de aviadoras entre Los Angeles y Cleveland.

"Eso le quitaría todo el chiste a la cosa", continuó diciendo. "Tiene razón la señorita Earhart, y ciertamente que yo no tomaré parte en esa contienda, si ha de exigirse que vayan en cada avión pilotos de transporte licenciados."

Dice la señorita Elder que, por los datos que ella tiene, sólo hay dos mujeres con despachos de pilotos de transporte, unas quince con licencias comerciales limitadas, y menos de cincuenta con cédulas de piloto particular, como la que ella tiene.

Abundancia de "Icebergs" en el Atlántico del Norte

HALIFAX (Nueva Escocia), Junio 12.—Los barcos norteamericanos de la "patrulla del hielo" han señalado este año más "icebergs" en el Atlántico del norte que los que ha habido en años anteriores, salvo el de 1912, en que se fue a pique el "Titanic". El "cutter" guardacostas "Modoc", último de los barcos del servicio de hielos que ha sido relevado, informa de varios centenares de "icebergs" entre los paralelos de latitud 46 y 47, al sur de Terranova, y de buen número de ellos hasta en el paralelo 42.

El Testimonio de la Señora Grimes Resulta Fatal para un Automovilista

El testimonio prestado ayer ante el juez municipal Galbreth por la señora C. M. Grimes, suegra de Callie Grimes, le ha costado a Roland Hawley una condena a sesenta días de cárcel.

A preguntas del teniente fiscal Stahlman, respondió la señora Grimes que, estando ella regando el prado de su casa, sita en la calle de Beagle, 4350, vio que el auto de Hawley arremetía contra un coche apartado, propiedad de un vecino de ella, el señor Shaver. Hawley fue arrestado por particulares y entregado a la policía, que declaró que estaba tomado el automovilista.

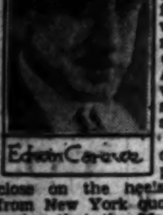
CAREWES TELL PLAN TO REWED

Divorced Wife of Picture Director Admits Nuptials Will be at Early Date

Definite announcement that she and Edwin Carewe, motion-picture director and producer, will remarry came yesterday from his divorced wife, Mary Akin Carewe, former film actress. Mrs. Carewe told of the plans for the wedding when she was reached yesterday at Lake Arrowhead, where she is spending the summer months.



Edwin Carewe

Her admission of the wedding plans came close on the heels of dispatches from New York quoting Carewe as saying that the Mexican divorce a number of months ago was purely a matter of business and that they were making plans to patch up all their difficulties by going to the altar again.

Shortly after Carewe's return from the East, Mrs. Carewe said, they plan on being remarried. The ceremony, she said, will be a quiet affair with but a few intimate friends present. The exact time and place and who will perform the ceremony have not been decided, she said.

"The wedding will take place within the near future but other than that I have nothing to say," Mrs. Carewe asserted.

Yesterday's statements from the Carewes are the first definite admissions of their reconciliation, the first intimation of which was given exclusively in The Times May 18, last.

"All of our differences have been ironed out and all that remains is arrangements for the wedding," dispatches quoted him as saying.

The Carewes had expected to keep their remarriage plans a secret from their friends but when they were seen together at a number of social functions in Hollywood, the rumor was broadcast and finally brought forth yesterday's admission.

It was in 1925 that the Carewes were married in Mexico and in the same country, Carewe was granted a divorce on June 10, last year. They have two children. After their divorce and property settlement Mrs. Carewe became interested in writing.

JACOBSON CASE TO BE REOPENED

Court Orders Grand Jury Given Transcript

Defense Testimony of Bribe Offered to be Heard

Conspiracy Trial Evidence in With Close Near

Reopening of the Councilman CJacobson-Callie Grimes case by the grand jury was ordered for next Tuesday at the same time yesterday afternoon that evidence was completed in the trial of the woman and five police officers accused of "framing" the Councilman's arrest on a morals charge in August, 1927.

Superior Judge Wilson yesterday directed that a copy of the transcript wherein Attorney Leo Daze, counsel for Mrs. Grimes, offered to prove that Jacobson sought to have the woman change her testimony so as to assist him in repairing damage to his reputation, be delivered to the grand jury and that the District Attorney aid in unraveling the matter.

BRIBERY CHARGED

Mr. Daze, as an officer of the court, was instructed to be present and assist in the matter, to which he agreed. On Tuesday Mr. Daze placed on the stand Mrs. Ida Russell, sister of the Grimes woman, and said he could prove by her that Jacobson gave Mrs. Russell $150 with the understanding that she get Mrs. Grimes to assist him; that Mrs. Grimes should tell the grand jury the same story Jacobson did; that Jacobson gave her a thirteen-page statement of his own side of the case; that at all costs the 10-year-old Grimes daughter was to be kept off the witness stand; and that Jacobson scraped together $36 to send Mrs. Grimes during her disappearance.

After considerable discussion, Mrs. Russell was advised of her constitutional rights, whereupon she declined to testify on the grounds that she might incriminate herself.

MAY DISMISS ONE

Motions for the dismissal of the charges against Captains of Detectives Williams and Wallis, Detective-Lieutenant Lucas, Special Investigator Raymond and Patrolman Frank Cox were made by their attorneys at the conclusion of the testimony yesterday, and all were denied by Judge Wilson. The judge, however, took under advisement a motion for an instructed verdict of acquittal in the case of Williams.

Arguments will start this morning. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Bush will open for the State and will be followed by Defense Attorneys Schenck, Painer, Daze and Ryan. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison will close. The case will be given into the hands of the jury late tomorrow or Saturday morning.

DAY IN COURT

The morning session yesterday started with the cross-examination of Lucas, whereupon Williams was placed upon the stand, followed by Raymond. Each of these repeated in detail the events of the night when they raided Mrs. Grimes's house and said they discovered Councilman Jacobson with his trousers off.

Mrs. Williams testified, in corroboration of her husband, that he telephoned her twice that night, telling her he would be delayed by his work.

TAX CUT WAY TOLD COUNCIL

Association Presents Method for Further Slash as Budget Comes Up for Public Hearing

Only a few speakers appeared at the formal public hearing conducted yesterday afternoon by the City Council on the budget submitted by Mayor Cryer for the next fiscal year and at the conclusion of the hearing the suggestions made by the speakers were referred to the Finance Committee which has been considering the Mayor's draft since it was submitted to the Council on the 1st inst. In addition to the citizens who appeared at the Council hearing, Mayor Cryer and Director Knox of the Bureau of Budget and Efficiency attended the session and made brief explanatory addresses on the budget.

Francis Marshal, representing the California Taxpayers' Association, presented to the Council a lengthy analysis the association has made of the proposed budget which contains criticisms of some of the estimates on which the budget is based and of some of the expenditures allowed. The chief point made in the document, however, is that an even greater reduction in the tax rate for the next fiscal year is possible than the reduction which the Mayor says can be made.

REDUCTIONS FIGURED

If the assessed valuation for the ensuing fiscal year is $2,000,000,000, as estimated by the Mayor and Director Knox, the Mayor has pointed out to the Council that there is certain to be a reduction in the tax rate of 17 cents per $100 of valuation. The Mayor indicated that the reduction may amount to as much as 20 cents if departmental receipts for the current fiscal year are as great as the estimate made last June, thus allowing the return of $650,000 to the reserve fund.

In addition to this possible 20 cents reduction, the Taxpayers' Association maintains that the rate can be further reduced by 13 1-2 cents, which will make the tax rate $1.455 per $100 of assessed valuation, as compared to the rate of $1.79 for the current year. The association agrees with the Mayor that the estimate of an assessed valuation of $2,000,000,000 is probably an underestimate.

The further tax reduction suggested by the association can be accomplished, it maintains, by transferring $2,000,000 from the reserve fund to meet budget requirements and by eliminating from the budget the $700,000 it contains for payment to the Water Department for water used in street flushing, fire fighting and other departmental activities.

OPPOSE SUGGESTION

Although the Mayor and Director Knox did not directly criticise the association's suggestions, they each intimated that they will be opposed to the transfer of $2,000,000 from the reserve fund. Director Knox pointed out that the fund is not made up only of cash, that it includes investments of the city in real estate, for instance, and that this transfer might amount to the application of capital investment to meet current running expenses. At any rate, the Mayor pointed out, the tax rate is not the matter be-

SCHOOL BLAZE STILL MYSTERY

Owensmouth High Suffers $150,000 Damage

Volunteer Crew Unable to Cope With Fire

Classes Will Continue in Building Remains

Inadequate fire protection was blamed last night for the disastrous fire that yesterday swept through the Owensmouth High School, in the San Fernando Valley, causing a loss estimated at approximately $150,000 and endangering the lives of 350 pupils.

The fire broke out at about 9:30 a.m., and when school officials discovered a smoldering blaze in the dome of the three-story building the alarm was communicated to the Owensmouth volunteer fire department.

FIRE FORCE INADEQUATE

This force was inadequate to cope with the fire, which was well under way in the upper part of the twenty-five-room structure when the firemen arived and by the time the Van Nuys fire unit, consisting of some modern apparatus, had made the ten-mile trip from their station the building was doomed.

Notified of the seriousness of the fire, more apparatus was dispatched from Hollywood, and although the more than twenty-mile run was made in record time the larger part of the damage was done before their apparatus could get into action.

The fire was discovered by a woman teacher, Mrs. Mary B. Watkins, who smelled smoke in the upper corridors, and notified Principal G. Walter Monroe. He immediately pressed the button that sets the school alarm system in action.

CHILDREN FILE OUT

The children, half of them girls, thought that another fire drill was being given and walked out of the building in orderly files.

At the time the children evacuated the building, the principal declared, the fire was confined to the attic of the building, and had not even burst through the roof.

The first unit of the Owensmouth High School was built fourteen years ago and the upper stories added when the territory was annexed to Los Angeles by the local Board of Education. It was built on a concrete foundation, and finished in brick, stucco and wood. The fire gutted the upper stories and water damage to the bottom floor is extensive.

CLASSES TO CONTINUE

The cause of the fire was not determined yesterday. R. G. Ghriest, electrical engineer for the Board of Education, made an examination shortly after the fire and is inclined to believe that defective wiring or spontaneous combustion was responsible. The principal declared that no pupils had access to the portion where the fire originated.

Notified of the fire, Superintendent of Schools Bouelle and Assistant Superintendents Tritt and Gould hurried to Owensmouth. With their sanction it was decided that classes of the school would be held as usual this morning. The cafeteria, gymnasium and manual training shops, untouched by the fire, will be utilized for classrooms until the school term ends the 28th inst.

The building gutted by fire was estimated to be worth $250,000. School records and other valuable documents were rescued by the hundreds of citizens drawn to the school before the fire got beyond control.

FLAG DAY TO BE OBSERVED

The luncheon program at the Masonic Club tomorrow noon will feature Miss Cindrich. It will also be an observance of Flag Day, the color guard of Polytechnic High School being present. The members of the new City Council will be the guests of the club and will be introduced by E. J. McCully.

FITTS FACING NEW ATTACK

Counsel for Ousted Deputies Planning to Question District Attorney's Right to Hold Office

Court action attacking Dist.-Atty. Fitts's legal right to exercise the authority of his office because his name was not on the November ballot, his election having been certified as at the August primaries, was foreshadowed yesterday at the civil service hearing of the four ex-deputies Fitts dismissed shortly after he took office.

Attorney Elon Galusha, representing the four former aides of the District Attorney, introduced as an exhibit the official records of the County Board of Supervisors, which have been accepted by the County Counsel and other county officials as a bona fide certificate of Dist.-Atty. Fitts's election. Attorney Galusha, in a brief statement, said he intends to take before the courts the question of Fitts's tenure of office, if the civil service commissioners do not induce the District Attorney to re-employ his clients, Frank Ey, Thomas Hart, Edgar T. Fee and W. B. Heiricke.

HEARING POSTPONED

During the day the District Attorney himself engaged in heated arguments with the four men he dismissed. Because the ex-deputies wanted to speak formally, in argument of their cause before the commission, the hearing was postponed until 3 p.m. Wednesday, after which arguments, the commission indicated, it will render a decision.

According to attorneys and judges interested in the hearing, the Civil Service Commission cannot force the District Attorney to re-employ the men he dismissed, although they may recommend their reinstatement. The purpose of the hearing is said to be merely to enable the deposed men to publicly establish if they can, facts tending to show that they should not have been dismissed. If these facts are established, Attorney Galusha said, an attempt will be made to get a writ of mandamus compelling the District Attorney to reinstate them. If the facts are not established, the code provides for a review of the proceedings in Superior Court.

Fitts took the stand yesterday and gave further reasons for asking the resignations of twenty deputies aft-

OIL BLAZE GRADUALLY WEAKENING

Plans to Curb Geysers Go Forward as All Danger of Blaze Spreading Passes

Fluctuating gas pressure in the two blazing oil wells in the Santa Fe Springs field yesterday caused the fires to flare with intermittent fury and a continual lessening of the force and the height of the blaze was reported by guards surrounding the burned area.

With the flames confined to the two casings and all danger of spreading past, officials of the field continued plans for attempting to curb the blazing geysers. An initial sum of $200,000 was appropriated for conducting the operations, which are expected to continue for several weeks. A large portion of the amount will be expended in obtaining insurance and protection for the men engaged for the engineering feat. No set plan for capping the two casings has been agreed upon, but several are under consideration.

The entire fire damage, which resulted when Rhode No. 1 flamed following an explosion Monday afternoon and the rolling blaze set fire to McKeon No. 2, was placed at near $2,000,000 by producers. This amount will cover all losses, it is believed, which includes the nine derricks, sheds, machinery and the oil lost from storage tanks.

COY TRACES HISTORY OF DRY LAWS

S. C. Professor Tells of Prohibition's Passage in City Club Address

"Prohibition is not a law put over by Congress during the World War but is the will of the majority of the people, as expressed through their State Legislatures," declared Dr. Owen C. Coy, professor of history at the University of Southern California, in an address yesterday at the City Club.

"Only those who are ignorant of the events that led up to the passage of the Volstead Act would accuse Congress of adopting prohibition laws while our soldiers were in France," said Dr. Coy, who spoke on "California History and Civic Values" and said that good citizenship is developed by the study of history.

"I do not mean that the teacher of history should make a specialty of teaching patriotism," said the speaker. "The record of our country stands for itself without any need of whitewashing and the instruction in United States history naturally develops loyalty to and love for America. History is to a nation, and to the human races, what memory is to the individual, and without it our progress would be slow indeed."

PLANE WILL BE COURTROOM

Tomorrow's Proceedings in San Gabriel Dam Gold Claims Suit Slated for Aerial Setting

For the first time in history, so far as is known here, a session of the trial of a law suit will be held in the air aboard a plane.

This was revealed late yesterday when it was announced that Superior Judge Stephens, presiding, and attorneys in the trial of the condemnation proceedings brought by the Los Angeles Flood Control District against the San Gabriel Canyon Development Company over gold claims at the dam site of the huge San Gabriel Dam, will fly tomorrow, over the area that is in litigation. The La Grange and Folsom gold fields also will be covered by the air party.

Judge Stephens, accompanied by Attorneys Vincent Morgan and Roy Dowds, representing the flood-control district, and Attorneys John Martin and Alfred E. Dennis, counsel for the defendant company, will leave the ground tomorrow morning at a Glendale airport and fly to the area over the San Gabriel River.

OBJECT OF TRIP

The object of the air trip is to study the dredging feature of gold mining that keeps cropping up in the hearing of the present suit, which began more than a week ago. The party expects to spend all of tomorrow and Saturday in the air, studying conditions as testified to in the trial, not only over the site of the San Gabriel dam, but also over the La Grange and Folsom fields.

The flood-control district of Los Angeles county, which has obtained a permit from the government to build the dam and reservoir, subject to the gold claims at the site, has brought condemnation proceedings against the San Gabriel Canyon Development Company, owner of the gold claims, in an effort to obtain an equitable settlement.

BONE OF CONTENTION

The district admits there is gold in the sands of the San Gabriel River basin, but not in quantities to make the claims of much value, in view of the heavy expense of getting the gold out.

On the other hand, the defendant company that owns five claims in the basin has offered testimony to the effect that the claims range in value from $100,000 to $300,000.

H. G. Kumle, mining expert, on the witness stand all of yesterday, testified that not only does gold exist in the sands of San Gabriel River, but platinum as well. He qualified as an expert to testify when he stated that he had mined quantities of the precious metal elsewhere and is familiar with it.

Kumle declared that his first visit to San Gabriel Canyon was in 1926, when he went in with a pan and panned enough gold to satisfy himself that the sand contained sufficient quantities of the metal to make mining in the area a profitable business.

BILL HART'S PROPOSED TALK FILM CALLED OFF

Arrangements for William S. Hart's production of a western feature with Hal Roach are off. Announcement to this effect was made by the star yesterday at his Horseshoe Ranch in Newhall. Hart was to have appeared in a picture made by the comedy producer, as announced a few weeks ago. The project fell through, however. The Hart statement is as follows:

A few weeks ago Hal Roach, the well-known independent producer, working at his own studio, making and releasing pictures through Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, had George Ullman, the former manager of Valentino, call on me, offering me the opportunity to star in a talking picture. I gladly accepted and satisfactory terms were arranged quickly. The contract was signed and announcement was made on May 30, last. Six days later N. M. Schenck, president of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Company, wired Mr. Roach from New York:

"Sorry you have undertaken to produce a talking western picture because we would not be interested in it and we do not think you should undertake to make pictures for anybody else. If you already signed then you have our consent to release this one elsewhere, but we do not expect you to do this again."

Thereupon, although my rights under this contract are unassailable, I consented to the cancellation of my contract with Mr. Roach.

WILLIAM S. HART.

Hart's last picture was "Tumbleweeds," released by United Artists about four years ago. Since then he has not appeared on the screen, although he is regarded as a popular star, gauged by the large amount of fan mail that he receives and the success that his old releases are meeting in the smaller theaters.

No plans were announced by Hart for the immediate future.

Mr. Roach could not be reached for a statement as he is en route to Chicago by automobile.

by Harry Carr

SOMEBODY please light a punk. I want to get clear under.

New Mexico is so wonderful—so colorful—so drenched with history and tradition that you are in a daze most of the time.

Santa Fe isn't much like Mexico. It has the flavor of the grandees of Spain, like Guadalajara.

It has seen American history pass by like a great pageant—prehistoric peoples—Indians of the pueblos—the Spanish conquistadores—the invading American armies of the Mexican war—the Argonauts of the gold rush—the tough wild days following the Civil War—and now the artists and the writers—

ALL DRESSED UP

In their zeal to absorb atmosphere, the tourists wear costumes that are amazing. Dashing young men come to breakfast in horsehide vests bedazzling with beadwork—Navajo belts and turquoise and silver bracelets.

Most of the girl tourists jingle with Navajo jewelry and their dresses begin at the top with blue velvet Navajo shirts.

UNFAIR COMPETITION

Alice Corbin, the poet who lives in Santa Fe, has a crusade which has my sympathy.

All kinds of imitation Navajo jewelry is being put out by eastern factories. She thinks that the United States Department of Commerce should reserve the name of Navajo as an exclusive right of the Indians who have been working at these crafts for 1000 years.

It would be impossible, perhaps, to protect the designs—but it would be just and decent to protect the name Navajo on jewelry just as Sterling is protected.

AN OLD PUEBLO

One of the most interesting pueblos in New Mexico is at San Domingo. They have a serious little Catholic church, decorated by the figures of the most amazing angels in flaming colors.

Living within a few miles of Santa Fe, life goes on in this adobe village just about as it did at the time of the Spanish conquest.

TOO MUCH TOURIST

They are getting tired of tourists, whom they despise.

We were nearly mobbed the other day when we walked into the yard of the San Domingo Church.

An old man with calico pants, and a piece of abalone shell dangling from his withered neck like an order of nobility demanded savagely: "What you do?" He was mollified by a gift of 30 cents—thirty pieces of silver, as it were.

Another gentleman with crossed eyes and calico pants came running up and said the 30 cents should have been paid to him.

We decided it was time for government intervention and asked to see the Governor.

We found him working with a pick and shovel on a ditch—the first Governor I have ever found so employed. He was enormously tall with small delicate hands. He beamed when he found we were newspaper men, but intimated delicately that he could use some cigarettes. His name was Elisal

Hollywood Woman Identifies Attacker As Being Tallman

RAID LAID TO PATTY SUSPECT

Woman Bound and Robbed of Cash and Food

Attacker Tells Her of Being Radio Operator

Fingerprints in Death Room Linked to Him

Driven from his hiding place by hunger, a man identified as William L. Tallman, the radio man sought for the murder of Mrs. Virginia Patty, entered a Hollywood apartment last night, bound and gagged Mrs. Harry Stern, the occupant, stole food and money and escaped.

After Mrs. Stern liberated herself from the bonds she called the police, made a positive identification of photographs of Tallman as the intruder, declared he wore an unkempt blue suit and that his face was covered with five or six days' growth of beard.

"I am a radio man," Mrs. Stern quoted the man as saying to her, "and the police are looking for me."

The man gained entrance to the apartment on a ruse. Mrs. Stern was expecting a repair man to attend to her radio set. From a knock at the door she elicited the response that the caller was a "radio man."

RAIDS ICE BOX

When he entered Mrs. Stern said she commented on his unkempt appearance, which he explained as being due to an automobile accident and asked to be permitted to wash his hands. She showed him to the bathroom from which he emerged a few minutes later with towels which he bound about her feet and hands and tied about her face. Then he placed her in a telephone closet and latched the door.

From the condition of the apartment the man had immediately gone to the ice box, snatched food which he ate hurriedly and ravenously, then rummaged about until he found a purse and $20 and left.

FINGERPRINTS TAKEN

A fingerprint expert of the police department was sent at once to Mrs. Sterns's apartment in the Mayfair Apartments at 1760 North Wilcox avenue to obtain specimens of fingerprints for comparison with Tallman's.

With the appearance of the man believed to be the missing radio man, the search swung sharply from San Francisco and points north to Los Angeles shortly after Chief of Detectives Cline announced that fingerprints taken in the apartment where Mrs. Patty's body was found were Tallman's prints.

The specimens, photographed and enlarged by Sergt. Barlow, fingerprint expert, were found on finished woodwork in the closet where Mrs. Patty's body was found suspended to clothes hooks on the 3rd inst. Other prints were taken from blood-smears on the walls.

PRINTS ALIKE

The comparison of the prints found in the apartment and the government specimens caused Chief of Detectives Cline to declare that the missing radioman was in the apartment at the time of the killing. The government prints were taken when Tallman enlisted in the Marine Corps seven years ago. He was 16 years of age then. His father, Harry P. Tallman of Oakland, obtained a discharge for his son on the ground that he was under age.

"The apartment prints and the government prints of Tallman are exactly alike," Sergt Barlow reported to Cline. "There is not the slightest dissimilarity."

While the search for Tallman yesterday took on an international aspect with the report that he may be on a steamer bound for the Orient, Chief Cline had a long-distance telephone conversation with police of Astoria, Ore., regarding a report that the fugitive had been seen there.

POLICE SKEPTICAL

The Oregon police, according to Cline, are not inclined to believe that a drenched and bedraggled stranger seen on the water front there by a watchman was Tallman, despite similarity in descriptions.

Capt. Slaten of the Georgia-street division and Detective Lieutenants Ryan and Starrett yesterday continued to investigate several minor angles of the killing of the woman, but the case is practically closed and now awaiting the capture of Tallman.

"SEEN" EVERYWHERE

Tallman was reported seen in several places about San Francisco yesterday, according to dispatches, but inquiries and investigations disposed of most of the rumors as without foundation. The beaches at Monterey are being patrolled for a body reported seen in the surf Tuesday. Byron Parker, a San Francisco attorney, said an unidentified client had seen Tallman on the Bay City's streets and Mrs. W. H. Wood, wife of a San Quentin guard, was positive she rode across the bay with Tallman from Richmond to San Francisco on a ferry-boat.

As the search proceeded police believed Tallman in hiding in San Francisco, probably with friends. While he is thought to have escaped from the steamer Admiral Benson when she docked at San Francisco all packing cases and other containers sufficiently large to hold a man were ordered traced and searched by Capt. Matheson.

All friends of Tallman in the Bay district who are known to police also are under surveillance, according to Matheson, on the theory some of them may be aiding the radio man to escape detection and capture.

TIBBETT BACK FOR VACATION STAY

Family Happy in Southland

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Lawrence Tibbett finally has arrived home from the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York, having sandwiched in a long concert tour preceding his vacation. At his Hollywood home yesterday afternoon the young California baritone barely had recovered his equilibrium after being rushed out to the only large film studio still lacking a contract with some world-famous opera star. The studio officials expect him to succumb to the lure of the talking films any minute.

In the summer interval, which his Metropolitan confreres call his California vacation, Tibbett plans long-deferred romps with his 11-year-old twins, Richard and Larry; an annual pilgrimage afoot up Mt. San Jacinto, and the supervision of the building of a new home on a high Hollywood hill with the aid of his talented wife, Grace Tibbett, poetess and magazine writer. The rest of his time will be spent studying roles for Gatti-Casazza.

Having created another success in the title role of Krenek's jazz opera, "Jonny Spielt Auf," Tibbett's new vehicles will be Puccini's "Girl of the Golden West" and "Don Giovanni," by Mozart. The former intrigues him, for he remembers well its premiere at the old Belasco Theater in Los Angeles when he was acting in Manual Arts High School plays under the direction of the now famouse Maud Howell, stage manager for George Arliss.

Tibbett sees a possibility of making opera everybody's pleasure through the talking films and thinks rhythm will dominate sound pictures because of its strong appeal to every listener. Gershwin is one of his idols and he expects his friend George or some other American rhythm expert to write a great sound picture that will set the feet of the world moving, be an emotional expression of the modern age and stimulate the young intellectuals.

Pounds Vanish and Appear in Swim Classes

The women of the Tuesday and Friday morning gymnasium and swimming class at the Young Women's Christian Association at 941 South Figueroa street show interesting results with systematic exercises. Eleven women lost 111 pounds and in the same class eight women who wished to put on weight gained forty pounds. The greatest number of pounds lost by one woman was twenty-one, and the greatest number gained by one woman was eight pounds.

Monday, July 1, a new course will begin for mothers and their children. These classes will meet twice a week.

Miss Sue Barnwell with her Sunday-school class of thirty business girls from the First Congregational Church will spend this week-end at the Y.W.C.A. Camp Estelle. The party will leave by stage Saturday afternoon and return Sunday evening.

BOWL DRIVE FOR SEASON UNDER WAY

'Symphonies Under Skies' Leaders Hear Inspiring Talks at Hotel Luncheon

"Symphonies under the stars" for the season 1929 were officially launched yesterday noon with a campaign luncheon at the Hollywood Hotel at which Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish presided. Several hundred bowl workers were in attendance and heard talks by Mrs. Irish, Artie Mason Carter, Rabbi Magnin, C. E. Toberman, Dr. T. Percival Gerson, M. F. Palmer, Rev. Willsie Martin, Mrs. Burdette Norton, Dudley Blanchard and Grandma Wakeman.

The "old-timers," meaning those who had served during the first bowl drive in 1922, were grouped at tables distinguished by red checked tablecloths and other marks of antiquity. Representatives from many women's clubs were seated in individual groups. These groups, with their leaders, will be engaged in selling season ticket books during an intensive campaign the next ten days.

Mrs. Irish spoke of the power of bowl friends and the necessity for their rallying to its support. Mrs. Carter gave an inspirational talk, designating the first years of the bowl life as the "community opportunity" and the present years its "great responsibility."

YOUNG GIVES HIS VIEW OF STATE SITE

Governor Favors Location for Building That Will Face Three Streets

In a telegram to R. F. McClellan, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, Gov. Young yesterday stated that he thought the necessary requirements of a State building site in Los Angeles were exact knowledge of future alignments, and frontage on at least three streets.

Neither of the two possible sites acquired or in process of acquisition by the Board of Supervisors for the State building faces on three streets. A site suggested by Supervisor Wright at Broadway and Temple streets, could be extended back to Hill street by purchase of a vacant lot, and the site at First and Hill streets could be made to front on Broadway if the county buys the five-story Klinker Building and other property. This probably would add $500,000 to the $490,000 already spent for the W. M. Humphreys property.

Gov. Young added in his telegram that he was "not opposing any site in or adjacent to the proposed Civic Center which definitely meets these requirements."

According to Supervisor McClellan, who always has been an ardent proponent of the Humphreys site, that site is the most suitable for a State building despite the fact that designers of the Civic Center have allowed the whole block between Temple, Broadway, Hill and First streets, for a huge courthouse building.

SECRET DANCES

All the pueblos are, right now, holding secret and sacred dances in the hills.

Several attempts have been made to photograph them with painful results. One fresh guy's camera was smashed by an Indian policeman with a hickory club. A movie camera got too near one of the clowns who follow the regular dance.

One of the clowns didoed closer and closer. Suddenly he swung a stocking filled with sand and shattered the expensive lens.

CLASSY GUIDES

An interesting feature of the tourist trade in Santa Fe is the professional guides.

Instead of the usual leather lung with a patter that has been written out for him, the guides here are all university girls—mostly from the old Conquistadore families of New Mexico—and qualifying for the job by passing a severe examination in New Mexican history and tradition.

WHITE BEAUS SIGH

These Pueblo Indians are among the handsomest races who inhabit the earth.

All along the country roads you see them driving to town in old-fashioned Studebaker farm wagons. The bucks, with their hair dangling down their shoulders in pig tails wrapped in gay-colored cloth, are regal and handsome. The Indian girls have a shy beauty over which white boys sigh in vain. For them to marry outside of the tribe is unknown.

RUSSIA TO BE DISCUSSED

Russia and Siberia will be the subjects of discussion Monday evening at the regular travel dinner of the Pan-Pacific Association for Mutual Understanding at the Elite, 629 South Flower street. Admiral V. V. Kavaliesky will speak on "Russia as I See It," and Mrs. N. J. Givago-Grishinxa, Russian secretary of the International Institute, will talk on "Something About Siberia." A third address, "Behind Closed Doors," will be delivered by Dr. George A. Miller, vice-president of the association. Solos will be sung by Margaret Lancaster, accompanied by Adele Earle, pianist.

'RUM RING' TRIAL GETS UNDER WAY

Sugarman-Cornero Jurors Selected After Fight

Col. Stromee and Aides Win Separate Trials

Government's Evidence in Others' Case Begun

After a sharp legal battle, a jury was selected yesterday in the court of United States District Judge James to try the case of Maurice Sugarman, said to have been the head of a liquor ring; Frankie Cornero, brother of Tony Cornero, and several others.

At the outset of the trial upon motion of Asst. U. S. Attys. Armstrong and Gallagher, the court granted a severance of trials for Col. Leo A. Stromee, formerly in charge of the Federal dry forces at San Diego, and at one time a member of the Lost Battalion in the World War; Ralph Morley, a former Federal dry agent, and H. G. Ramage, formerly chief field agent for the Federal dry forces in Los Angeles. The trials of the three were continued until the September term of court.

The first government witness in the Sugarman trial was S. E. Cressey of Terminal Island. He said that he sold the speedboat Cressey to Claude A. Davis, one of the defendants in the case. The boat was later seized with about 500 cases of liquor aboard. Miss Sullivan, an escrow clerk of San Pedro, corroborated this testimony.

The government's main witness was Thomas F. Noland, a petty officer at the time of the raid, in charge of the Coast Guard cutter Imp, who said that Ralph Morley and Sugarman offered him 75 cents for each case of liquor landed. He said he reported the conversation to his commander and was instructed to "play along" and get information. He said he received $1100 on an understanding with his commander.

It is expected that Ione Beck, owner of a ranch at Sunset Beach, will be a witness today.

Olympiad to Be Meeting Topic

A conference on the World Olympiad in 1932, to which sixty representatives of organizations in Los Angeles have been invited, will be conducted at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Windsor Tea Rooms, Brack Shops. The meeting will be under the auspices of the Council on International Relations.

Following the conference and beginning at 6:30 p.m., a dinner will be served and Dr. E. S. Bogardus, chairman of the Research Committee of the council, will give a report on the Filipino survey.

ARREST WRECKS HASTY ROMANCE

Fiance of Waitress Jailed on Wedding Day

Shrine Uniform Has Part in Rapid Courtship

Officers Pile Up Charges Against Suspect

A whirlwind courtship which was to have culminated in marriage yesterday afternoon was ended abruptly with the arrest yesterday of Al G. Graham, 44 years of age, reputed confidence man and fugitive from the State of Washington. Graham, who, police say, has used many aliases, was booked at Central Police Station on charges of grand theft, forgery and as a fugitive from Washington on the complaint of an Alhambra automobile dealer that Graham had tendered a worthless check in payment on an automobile.

When he was arrested at 338 South Figueroa street Graham had in his possession, police asserted, an automobile stolen from Arthur Carter of Burlingame.

NUPTIAL PLANS TOLD

Shortly after the prisoner had been lodged in the City Jail by Detective Lieutenant James, Mrs. Mary Willingham of 750 East Fifty-fourth street, appeared at Central Station where she identified Graham as the man she was to have married yesterday afternoon after a courtship of two weeks.

Mrs. Willingham met Graham, she told police, at a downtown cafe where she is employed as a waitress. On the opening day of the Shrine convention, she said, she made a wager with a friend that she would kiss the first Shriner who entered the restaurant. Graham entered, dressed in Shrine regalia, and Mrs. Willingham fulfilled the terms of the wager.

NO RIGHT TO REGALIA

In spite of the fact that he had no right to the regalia of the Masonic order, according to police Graham partook of many entertainments during Shrine week in company with Mrs. Willingham, and wore the uniform of a delegation from Canton, O. A proposal of marriage followed the week of gayety, the pretty waitress said, and she accepted, believing Graham to be a wealthy oil man.

According to police records, the man under arrest was paroled from Washington State penitentiary by the late President Wilson on September 2, 1916.

ACTOR IN BIG BROTHER ROLE

Mercy Shown Man Who Wronged Him

Superior Judge Aggeler and Wallace Beery

WALLACE BEERY, motion-picture actor, yesterday played the role of big brother in Superior Judge Aggeler's court when he came to the aid of Morris Goodman, 25 years of age, who was accused of stealing $75,000 worth of bonds from Beery's studio dressing room a year ago.

Goodman, who was charged with grand theft, pleaded guilty and asked for probation. An unusual turn was given the case when Beery, the prosecution witness, volunteered to be responsible for Goodman if the latter were granted probation. In accordance with the actor's request, Judge Aggeler placed the youth on probation for five years and appointed Beery a special probation officer.

"You must report everything you do to Mr. Beery," said Judge Aggeler to Goodman. "I think he has been exceedingly kind to you, not only in favoring your request for probation, but in agreeing to be responsible for your conduct. Another misstep will result in your probation being revoked and you will go to San Quentin."

Hollywood Pair Tell of Wedding

Friends of Walter Chenoweth, manager of the Hollywood Playhouse, and Miss Jean Stone of 347 Cloverdale avenue yesterday learned that the pair were married Tuesday by Rev. Charles F. Seitter, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Hollywood, in the presence of a few intimate friends.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Cora Stone, and a graduate of the University of Southern California. Mr. Chenoweth has lived in Hollywood since coming here from San Francisco to take charge of the Hollywood Playhouse last year. The couple will live at the Rose Garden Apartments, 6406 Franklin avenue, until the close of the theater's season, when they will leave for a motor honeymoon in Northern California.

French Medals Conferred Here

It was announced yesterday that M. Henri Didot, French Consul, will represent his government tomorrow at the graduation exercises of the Hollywood School for Girls to confer honors on two members of the school.

The Palmes Academiques will be presented to Mrs. W. L. Woollett, the principal, who will be made Officer d'Academie and the Medal de l'Alliance Francaise will also be given the pupil, whose work during the past year has been considered the most satisfactory.

While in France, L. N. Brunswig, well-known Los Angeles business man, requested the French government to bestow the distinction on Mrs. Woollett in appreciation of the school's French department.

HUMANE BOARD HOTLY SCORED

Reorganization Demanded in Committee Report

Some Commissioners Called "Unfit for Such Work"

Treatment of Fire Horses Desribed to Council

Reorganization of the Humane Animal Commission is demanded in a report of the City Council's Health and Sanitation Committee which was adopted unanimously by the Council yesterday. The report severely censures the present administration of the commission and charges that "some of the present commissioners are temperamentally unfit for such work and unmindful of their duties as officials of the Humane Department." The names of these commissioners are not specified, however.

The report is the result of a series of hearings conducted by the Council committee into charges against the commission which were brought by a citizens' committee headed by Robert M. Byrne, Rosamund Rae Wright and Mrs. Frances H. Weldon.

FIVE ON BOARD

The Humane Commission is composed of five members. During the committee's hearings, three of the members, Arthur L. Line, Mrs. Helen A. French and Mrs. H. C. Terrell, surprised the Councilmen by testifying that they agree with some of the criticisms directed against the department under their control

They complained of domination of the commission by its president, Mrs. Warren McIntyre, and intimated that she generally is supported only by Fred G. Bradbury, the other member. Their objections to the conduct of the department by Rodman Robeson, its general manager, they said, always are swept aside by Mrs. McIntyre. The council committee, however, asked them why they are unable to control the commission, since they are three members out of five and, therefore, a majority, but the committee did not receive what it regarded as a satisfactory reply to this question.

REPORT, IN PART

The committee's report, as adopted by the Council, follows in part:

"The people of Los Angeles, in an election, wished by vote the horses of the Fire and Police Departments, on account of their special training and the sentiment attached to their service, to be retired under gentle care and comfort during their old age.

"We find that the Humane Department was cruel and neglectful in despatching these animals; that these animals were transported unreasonable distances, causing much suffering, and finally were slaughtered for commercial purposes without supervision of the Humane Department and not in accord with the wishes of the people.

"The evidence produced before this committee showed many instances of neglect and inhumane treatment of private animals and the cruel and burdensome methods of despatching such animals if they were not called for within a given period.

"The Humane Department appears to be dominated by one or two members in the department who do not have the interest of the department at heart; therefore, the morale of the department is anything but the best and in a constant state of turmoil."

HOME-AWARD JURY FILLED

Albert Kahn of Detroit Completes Architects' Board in House-Design Competition

With the announcement from New York yesterday that Albert Kahn, leading Detroit architect, will serve on the national jury of awards in the 1929 National Better Home architectural competition, the personnel of the jury was complete.

The contest, which is being handled by The Times for the district comprising California and Nevada, is contemplated to further the cause of better design and construction in the building of moderate priced homes throughout the country. There are thirteen districts over the United States in each of which three prizes of $500 each will be awarded for the best designs submitted. The winning designs from each district will then become entries in the national competition to compete for the three national grand prizes of $5000, $3000 and $1500.

JURY OF AWARDS

The national jury of awards, selected to judge the national entries comprises, besides Mr. Kahn: Raymond Hood, chairman, a well-known architect of New York and Chicago; Frank K. Forster, New York architect; Benno Janssen, Pittsburgh architect, H. T. Lindeberg, New York; John W. Root, Chicago, and Ralph T. Walker, New York. In addition to these architects, others serving on the national jury include Col. John Reed Kilpatrick, New York builder, and Winold Reiss, New York interior decorator.

The contest will close at midnight the 30th inst., at which time the regional jury will begin the work of selecting the three regional prize winners to be sent to New York. The personnel of the regional jury for this district will be announced by The Times shortly.

CONTEST CONDITIONS

The conditions of the competition, rules, and specifications are all set forth in the program announcement which has been sent to those who have entered the competition or have expressed a desire to enter. Those eligible include registered architects, architectural draftsmen, and students of architectural design.

In reply to some questions that have been asked, it is announced to competitors that designs for one-story houses are acceptable, but the basement is required. Some of the local architects were inclined to interpret the specifications to mean that only two-story houses could be entered. This is not the case, thus giving the California architect full play in his practice of handling the Spanish-type design.

DIRECTOR VICTIM OF NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Archie Mayo, film director, suffered a nervous breakdown on the set at Warner Brothers Studio and on the advice of a physician was ordered removed to his home. Ray Enright was assigned to complete the direction of Ted Lewis in "Is Everybody Happy?" Mayo's breakdown was attributed by studio executives to long hours of overwork.

Blast and Fire Wreck Theater; Sheriff Called

An explosion which wrecked the Los Nietos Theater near Whittier and caused it to be destroyed by fire early yesterday morning resulted in Sheriff Traeger ordering an investigation to determine if the owner is the victim of an arson plot.

The Sheriff ordered the investigation after hearing the report of Deputy Sheriffs Stewart and Jacques who made the preliminary investigation. The theater was owned by William B. Oldham, who carried only a small amount of insurance.

NEBRASKA SENATOR HERE

Among the vacationists arriving in Los Angeles yesterday from eastern sections of the country are Senator and Mrs. Elmer Burkett of Nebraska. They will spend a week visiting with friends and are stopping at the home of Mrs. William Reeve, 1192 West Boulevard, a sister of Senator Burkett.

TUNNEY MAY WRITE

Gossips say that Tunney may turn to literature and write a book. Maybe while he has been bunking with George Bernard Shaw he has been swiping that genius's stuff. Also we are curious to see what the boxer will do to Bill Shakespeare.

ILLEGAL PICKETING

Forty-five strikers were arrested and convicted of illegal picketing in connection with the troubles in the textile industries in Tennessee. Men who go on a strike must carry on in an orderly way or they must lose not only their jobs, but their liberty. If they are right they will win. If they are wrong they can hardly hope to do so.

BROTHERS UNDER THE SKIN

Prince Henry, the younger brother of the Prince of Wales, was thrown from his horse in a polo game and had his shoulder broken. What England needs is a generation of princes with reinforced shoulders. Those the nation has are always coming home with busted bones. If the riders could be chained to their mounts it might help.

SHORT ORDER

They are speeding up freight schedules between the East and West. Family in Chicago can pack their furniture and send it by freight from that city on Saturday morning and have it set up in a Hollywood flat on the following Saturday. This is fine business for those who do not like to have their housekeeping too seriously disturbed.

THE MEN PAY

They work their criminal law in a funny way in Albania. The other day six men were arrested because their wives poured hot oil over a church choir they did not like. The women could not be punished for the offense, but their husbands could be haled into court and given their medicine. This may be gallantry, but it is hoped that the system of vicarious punishment is never invoked in this country.

THE NEW PRISON

The new State prison to be built in Southern California will be given over to youthful first offenders. It will be for prisoners ranging from 18 to 24 years of age. The old-timers will be at San Quentin and the habituals at Folsom. It is significant, however, that crime is now a juvenile business and even the bulk of the bandits and stick-up men are less than 25 years old. As soon as the new institution is ready to open we can safely promise a line-up at the door. The cry is still for bigger and better prisons.

EAST AND WEST MEET

The implements of modern civilization brought trouble to Krishnamurti, the Hindu philosopher and theosophist. Up here on the Ventura Boulevard the sunset and a tiny winged insect got into his eye at the same moment while he was driving a new-fangled automobile. As a result he accidentally bumped into a perfect stranger who now has the hardihood to sue him for $8000 damages. Our oriental friends appear to have an unhappy time of it in many of their occidental contacts. It is hoped that the Krishnamurti philosophy is elastic enough to meet this situation.

WHEN IS AN EGG?

The new government of China now professes great interest in the retention of all the antiquities of the country. This is in connection with the present Roy Chapman Andrews expedition into the Mongolian desert. The explorers gather the bones of prehistoric animals. If these fossils are not Chinese antiquities, what are they? In the last expedition Dr. Andrews gathered a number of dinosaur eggs that were said to be a million years old. With the Chinese the older an egg is the better it is and perhaps the epicures of the nation do not want any more of these delicacies to go out of the country. At any rate, it will take some diplomacy to get the expedition through the barrier with any of its treasures.

On Tuesday an actual minority of the United States Senate, through the active aid and support of Senator Hiram Johnson, was enabled to continue its sabotage of the administration's farm-relief measure by rejecting the conference report on the ostensible ground that it made no provision for export debentures, but really to cause embarrassment to President Hoover. The debenture, exposed by President Hoover and denounced by every other man with economic knowledge as a particularly vicious form of subsidy which can only aid speculators and tear down the protective tariff, will not, it is known by the Senate, be enacted into law. The House is almost a unit against it; the President will not in any circumstances accept it. To attempt to insist upon it can only delay or deny any farm relief whatever.

It is Senator Johnson's part in this childish display of animosity which most interests Californians. In his remarks on the bill he made plain his repudiation of his State and his constituents, expressed his contempt for them and for the administration which they support, and exposed the innermost workings of his soul in all their smallness and malignity. None of his opponents has ever given a more accurate description of Johnson than he himself gave when he said:

"Upon any question that comes here, there is no lash of any kind that can deter me from acting EXACTLY AS I DESIRE."

Denouncing the agricultural organizations of California which had urged him, in telegram and letter, to oppose the debentures plan, as "part of a movement to coerce" him, he said:

"Many such wires have come. NONE, OF COURSE, WILL BE HEEDED. We will go on in this body pursuing our course as we have pursued it in the past."

In other words, the Senator proposes to ignore the merits, to ignore the economics, to ignore the effects on the nation and his State, to ignore the mandates of his constituents, in order to carry out his determination to balk and thwart, at every opportunity, the man he hates, President Hoover.

The wellsprings of this hatred, of course, are envy and disappointed ambition, which have so poisoned his mind that he has become a monomaniac. Because Johnson cannot be President he is bitter toward any man who holds that office, and particularly bitter toward Herbert Hoover, who demonstrated that a Californian other than Johnson could be overwhelmingly elected to head the nation. Before that, Johnson might have consoled himself with the thought that his geographical position was alone against him, salved his wounded vanity with the idea that he was rejected as a westerner and not as a man. Hoover's easy victory took from him this solace. He used his best efforts to wreck the administration of President Coolidge because Coolidge carried the California primaries against him in 1924; but there is nothing he will not stoop to to ruin that of President Hoover, if he can possibly accomplish it.

He publicly proclaimed as much in his speech to the Senate. It is not even necessary to read between the lines to make his meaning clear.

The contrast between this incarnation of an ignoble spite now revealed as the sole occupant of one of California's Senate seats, and the abject attitude of the same individual when he was begging the Hoover supporters a year ago to permit him to return to the Senate, is a painful one for Californians to contemplate. It was a meek and mild Johnson who pledged his honor and his "influence" a year ago to "party harmony" and who bargained for suppression of the opposition to his candidacy. That bargain was kept loyally on one side; the Hoover supporters, who had the power to end his political career, mercifully refrained from crushing him. As he has done a dozen times before, Johnson broke his promises as soon as his own ends were secure.

It is not because of its possible effect on the Hoover administration that this attitude of Johnson's is important. The administration is strong enough to weather any storm that Johnson can raise. It is because California, at a time of great need, is deprived of one-half its representation in the upper house of Congress. Johnson does not speak for California, nor vote for California; he speaks and votes only for himself. And California ought to have two spokesmen and two votes in the Senate.

The fruit growers and the other agricultural interests whose very existence is imperiled by this lack of representation, will not be the only sufferers.

RASKOB TO STICK

The announced intention of Chairman Raskob of the Democratic National Committee to retain his place indefinitely doubtless will serve as a further irritant to the dry and the southern wings of Bourbonism, but it is difficult to see how the Democratic party would be any better off if he were to retire, especially if he were to retire before the deficit left over from the last campaign has been liquidated. Toward its liquidation Raskob has already made considerable progress, and there is no other angel in sight.

The closing of the breach between the wet, urban faction of the Democracy and the dry, rural faction cannot, in fact, be brought about by the elimination of a personality, or of several personalities for that matter. The split is on fundamentals, and neither side can or will yield to the other. In such a case, the plight of the party is the same no matter which faction has control. A colorless neutral as chairman would be equally unsatisfactory to both factions and would be apt to produce not harmony but disintegration.

The most interesting and amusing portion of Chairman Raskob's pronouncement is that he intends to hold on to his post because he "believes in the principles of the Democratic party." But what are they?

NOT TO HAPPEN

Any time the British diplomats go dry, either in America or any other country, several members of the beerage will leave their legislative seats in anger and distress.

Personally Conducted

It isn't only to Europe or around the world that personally conducted tours are a regular thing. Every day at this season some personally conducted group, ranging from parties of four or six to parties of several hundred, arrives in Los Angeles from the Middle West, the South, the East or Canada, and in several parts of the country there are tourist bureaus which look to trips to California for the main part of their business, just as such agencies as Cook's look to trips to Europe and the Holy Land as a major source of revenue. Somewhere down in Alabama or Louisiana there is a bureau most of us never heard of which annually brings five or six parties of tourists here, and there are from 200 to 400 in some of those parties. Thousands of school teachers and employed young people all over the Old South look to that agency for a summer vacation full of interest, instruction and recreation, and they are not disappointed. After three or four days here, they take in the rest of the Pacific playground and visit Glacier or Yellowstone Park on the way home. When their friends come back from Europe, trying to talk about things they can't pronounce, those wise folks who have seen America first, and things in which all Americans are interested, find that they, rather than the Europe tourers, hold the center of the stage.

Speaking of Bootleg—

Leeside: Machine-gun bandits having reached California may I ask what excuse any concern has for selling machine guns to private parties? I realize that pistols may be needed for the protection of the home, while rifles and shotguns have their uses in sport. But no man goes hunting with a machine gun, nor does any householder keep one under his pillow for use on burglars. It would seem that any concern which sells a machine gun to any other than national, State or civic organizations must know he is arming a bandit and murderer or else must be utterly lacking in sense, and in either case should be confined in some solid State institution. And if the salesman can't be found, why not jail the manufacturer whose name is on the gun? Of all the stuff being bootlegged now, machine guns are the least excusable.—Jimmie Waldron.

THE GLADIOLUS SHOW

Today and tomorrow, garden-loving Californians from all over the State will gather at the Biltmore to meet the new "glads."

The ninth annual show of the Southern California Gladiolus Society opens today with all its accustomed brilliance of color. The gladioli displayed seem of softer and more varied tones, more subtle shadings and more gorgeous colors.

Folk who are interested in seeing what California experts are doing in floriculture will do well to visit the exhibit, for the most fascinating and interesting of the new gladioli are of California origin. Here may be seen the work of Richard Diener of Oxnard, one of the most skillful hybridists not only in California but in the United States; of Carl Salbach of Berkeley, of Elizabeth Briggs of Encinitas, of Dr. A. R. Sprague of Rancho Santa Fe and of numerous others. California has, indeed, become a world rendezvous for plant wizards.

AT THE TALKIES

By James J. Montague

The voice of the villain, of course,
Is with hatred and rancor endowed.
You expect it is going to be hoarse;
You are sure it is going to be loud.
And when it reverberates over your head
Like a sudden explosion of thunder,
Although you may wince for an instant in dread
There is little occasion to wonder.

But the heroine, bless her dear heart,
Is delicate, mild and petite,
Befitting her lovable part
Which is meant to be gentle and sweet,
She has the large eyes and soft rounded cheeks
Which pertain to the feminine gender,
And of course you believe, when the little thing speaks,
That her voice will be pleasantly tender.

But hark, as she sits in the light
Of the mellow and summery moon
On a lovely Los Angeles night
Somewhere in the middle of June!
She speaks, but she speaks with a deafening boom
That echoes throughout the environs
Of the house where you sit in the echoing gloom,
Like a half-dozen fire-truck sirens.

Being one of the masculine race—
A susceptible person as well—
When I gaze at a beautiful face
I am bound by a magical spell.
Of life and romance I am free to protest
Lovely woman is always the center,
But I still am convinced she is not at her best
When she roars out her lines like a Stentor.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

MUSCLE SHOALS

[Washington Post]

The Senate committee on agriculture has reported favorably Senator Norris's resolution putting the United States government into the business of manufacturing and peddling fertilizer and power at Muscle Shoals. This resolution was pocket-vetoed by President Coolidge.

The Senate committee makes the misleading statement that the real purpose of the resolution is not to "put the government into business," but to protect government property, improve navigation, and control flood waters. Then the committee disproves its own argument by asserting that the "power trust" is opposed to the government operation of Muscle Shoals. If it were true that the resolution would merely protect government property, improve navigation and control floods, the "power trust" would not be concerned in it. The fact is that Senator Norris is hypnotized with the notion that the government should itself become a power trust, and he conjures up a diabolical supergovernment which he calls "the power trust," which can only be mastered by making the United States government a manufacturer and distributor of hydroelectric power. Mr. Norris has consumed hours and days describing the excellence of government ownership and operation of power. Why he has stopped there, and not joined his fellow-socialists in advocating government ownership and operation of all other enterprises, is not yet clear; but he evidently hopes to seize upon Muscle Shoals as a splendid opportunity for beginning the work of transforming the United States government into a universal manufacturer and provider for its people.

GENEVA AND HOLLYWOOD

[New York Evening Post]

The League of Nations, usually concerned only with issues of more or less cosmic consequence, appears to have taken up cudgels in behalf of Hollywood. Ever since America's movie magnates learned that France was considering the adoption of a rule that the United States must import one French film for every four American pictures exported to France they have been profoundly worried. For they are convinced that French pictures are so inferior on the whole that it would be impossible to find enough good films in France to maintain a one-to-four ratio. They feel that such a regulation would greatly reduce the exportation of American movies and seriously injure the prosperity of the industry.

A few weeks ago the State Department protested vigorously to France and the governments of six other European nations against such restrictions. And now the League of Nations, according to dispatches, sees the justice of Hollywood's objections and is bringing pressure to bear on France with a view to heading off the proposed one-to-four rule. Thus the League apparently demonstrates that its august members are not above a genuine interest in something so noncosmic as the troubles of the movie folk.

SAN GABRIEL VALLEY'S SIDE

BY G. F. RINEHART

Secretary-Manager Water Rights Association, San Gabriel Valley

Having just read the article by Mr. Daugherty, chairman of the Board of Directors of the city of Pasadena, containing the argument of necessity and justice in its claim to the waters of the San Gabriel River, I am led to present the claims of the water users and owners of the San Gabriel Valley, the owners of the waters in question, who do not propose to submit to grand larceny under the plea of necessity.

The recognition by the government of the legality of Spanish titles in California makes the present riparian owners of the land in the San Gabriel Valley the owners of the water as well, for the water belongs to the land and cannot legally be alienated therefrom. Every owner of land or lot owns the water that flows over it or under it and his title is just as good to the water as to the land.

The plea of a certain coterie of Pasadena officials has been and is that they only claim "waste water" and that "no existing water right will be affected or disturbed." If these claims were true there could be no objection whatever on the part of any resident of the San Gabriel Valley. But they are not true.

The Supreme Court of California is fertile in decisions covering the points at issue. In the great case of "Miller vs. Bay Cities Water Company," Volume 157, California Reports, pages 256-288, the court has covered the ground identically involved in the claims of Pasadena, and while I have not space to quote the decision in full, the following points are emphasized by the decision:

First, any water owner riparian to a stream is entitled to an injunction to restrain any individual or corporation from appropriating waters termed "waste" or "surplus" when such waters serve any useful purpose in pressing down and percolating through the sands and gravels to the strata which furnish any part of his supply.

Second: that the mere fact that waters during flood seasons flow the entire length of the stream and out into the ocean, does not subject such waters to appropriation, because the force and volume of such waters perform a necessary and essential function in forcing a supply into the gravel beds and strata that supply riparian owners.

Third: that no waters are waste or surplus until actually in the ocean, and that such waters cannot be appropriated at any point in the canyon or in the stream as against the rights of the riparian owner.

Now this is the established law and the Supreme Court is not going to stultify itself by reversing its own decision and the established laws of ages relating to riparian owners and users. If Pasadena desires to utilize the flow of San Gabriel flood waters as they reach the ocean she has every right to do so. We will not say her nay, but rather we will give her every encouragement to do so.

Pasadena has been allocated a certain amount of "waste water, if any" by the State Division of Water Rights. This means nothing, absolutely nothing, but a long fight in the courts with final defeat for Pasadena. The courts having held that there is no such thing as waste water until it reaches the ocean, it is evident that Pasadena cannot take alleged waste water from the canyon before it starts on its mission of service on the way to the sea. She can take it only where it becomes waste.

The statement that Pasadena will not affect any existing water right is equally false, providing she is permitted to execute her project. She cannot take a gallon of water from the San Gabriel Canyon without affecting existing water rights to just that extent. The fact that water has in the past escaped to the ocean does not mean that it will so escape after the Los Angeles flood-control dam is built. It is the object of this dam so to conserve the flow that it will all percolate into the sands and gravels and restore the existing water levels, not of Pasadena, but of the lands in the San Gabriel Valley.

To the claim of necessity on the part of Pasadena we urge that such claim can be no excuse. The hold-up in a dark alley urges the same plea when he relieves the pedestrian of his roll. We answer Pasadena once and for all by urging our own necessities. She is outside the San Gabriel watershed. We are in it. She has 85,000 people, we have over half a million. She may need water; that is her affair. We need water; that is our affair. We have some, not all we need, but we propose to hold on to it all the more strenuously because of that fact. Pasadena cannot come over out of her own watershed and take our private water when we need it worse than she does.

Suppose we of the San Gabriel Valley, needing more water as we do, went over to the Arroyo Seco just above Pasadena, and bought a few acres of land and filed on the "waste" waters of the Arroyo Seco and proposed to build a dam there to augment our supply. Considerable waters from the Arroyo Seco flow into the ocean during the flood season, through the Devil's Gate Dam. We have every right to do so that she has to come into our canyon and demand the same thing. What a howl would go up on the part of Pasadena! What an outrage that would be! And yet the cases are identical. It all depends on whose ox is gored.

The first move on the part of Pasadena to build a dam will be met with an injunction and the whole San Gabriel Valley will be behind it. It means life or death. Property values will go glimmering if Pasadena has her way. Ten years of litigation, and all this time Pasadena will get no water from the San Gabriel River. She never will. Her bond money will fritter away in court costs and atttorney fees. She will pay too much for her whistle and she will not get the whistle.

Pasadena has not utilized her available water supply. Her officials seem to desire to take other people's property rather than use their own. She is not lifting water now as high as some of the pumps in the San Gabriel Valley. She has vast stores of water still untouched which will supply her needs until the Colorado River water will be available. She could not get a drop from the San Gabriel before that time even if she got it at all.

THE LAWN MOWER

BY WYNONAH B. JOHNSON

For the rains are over and gone, and lo, the sound of the lawn mower is heard in the land.

Doesn't California grass grow rapidly when it does get a start? The old lawn mower is working overtime these afternoons, for when Father arrives at home, with the paper, and the meat neatly tied up under his arm, he gets right after it, while Mother is broiling the chop and dishing up dinner, and the busy whirring sound is heard on the air above the sizzle of the meat, as Father pushes it steadily to and fro across the grass, turning neatly at the corners.

Along Our Street, the children rollerskate up and down, or perch on the steps and tell Dad about things as he uses the precious half hour in monkeying with the garden. They take a hand in the pushing, too, and in dragging out the hose, and turning the faucet, as Dad finishes up the job by giving a refreshing sprinkle to the lawn and the sturdy geraniums edging the steps.

Then Mother appears at the door, apron on, spoon in hand, to announce that dinner's ready, and away trundles the mower, the kids fly to turn off the water and take off their skates, and hand in hand the folks mount the steps and go in to fresh asparagus and strawberry shortcake.

Free Class in Apartment-House Management?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address, Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

The inquiry which The Times has been conducting in co-operation with the Board of Education, regarding the wish of the public for a free class in apartment-house management, has met with enthusiastic response. Within three days letters have been received from twenty-seven persons who desire such a course. Only twenty names were necessary to start the course, and this assures the board that the class will be well attended.

Arrangements will be made for the class to begin at the opening of school, in September. A central location will be chosen, and hours to suit the convenience of the students.

The Times receives many letters from readers, inquiring about free classes in different subjects. From time to time, inquiries will be made on the editorial page concerning the wish of the public for these subjects, and the results will be turned over to the Board of Education, who are conducting many kinds of research to determine how best the educational needs of the city may be served.

Portland's Ducks, with "Wild Willyum" Rodgers once more at the helm, concentrated their attack in the fourth and fifth innings yesterday and amassed enough runs in these two rounds to gallop off with a 7-to-6 victory over the Hollywood Stars.

HANK HULVEY

Despite their seven runs compiled in those two frames, the Ducks would not have won but for the airtight relief mound work of John Knight, who came to the rescue of Curt Fullerton and quelled a Hollywood uprising in the home half of the fifth. During the remaining four innings Knight let the Sheiks down with one hit and successfully preserved the Ducks' slender margin.

Hank Hulvey, who started on the mound for the Stars, blew up with considerable of a boom in the Portland fifth and was succeeded by Dick McCabe. McCabe proved a great help—but to the Ducks. Dick pitched to two batters and both of them

SALO GAINS ON FOE IN DERBY LAP

Cuts Gavuzzi's Advantage in Bunion Marathon With Uphill Victory

JACUMBA (Cal.) June 12. (AP)—Johnny Salo, the flying cop of Passaic, N. J., reduced Pete Gavuzzi's lead in the transcontinental bunion derby to 19m. and 56s. by winning today's lap, fifty-eight miles of gruelling uphill running, from the bearded Italian.

PETER GAVUZZI

The Passaic policeman, who until yesterday had been ailing with stomach trouble, sliced 35m. and 50s. from Gavuzzi's elapsed time lead in the stretch between Calexico and Jacumba, partly over desert and partly over mountainous grades. His time for the fifty-eight miles was 9h. 9m. and 5s.

Guisto Umek, of Italy, was second in the day's lap, turning in a time of 9h. 22m. and 50s. at the control station here. Gavuzzi pulled in third in 9:44:55.

Pat Harrison of Miami, Ariz., was fourth across the finish line, coming in nearly two hours later. His time was 11h. 4m. and 20s.

Five runners finished in a tie for fifth place, Herbert Hedeman of New York; Philip Granville of Hamilton, Ont.; M. B. McNamara, Australia; Sam Richman, New York and Paul Simpson, the Burlington (N. C.) collegian, deadlocked at 11:41:20.

The stretch was considered one

MELROSE MARVEL GALLOPS ON COURSE IN WORKOUT

Country's Best Long-Distance Star in Shape for "Times" Classic; Praises Course, Weather

BY BRAVEN DYER

America's Marathon marvel, Clarence De Mar, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday morning to compete Saturday in the first annual Times pre-Olympic gallop of twenty-six miles, 385 yards.

The famous eastern distance star was tickled to find the weather warm. "I always do my best running when it is hot," declared DeMar. "Only last month I ran in a ten-mile race back East with the thermometer above 90 and achieved my first victory of the year, so naturally I was pleased."

Incidentally, DeMar's time for that ten-mile jaunt was 58m. 12s., which indicates that although he is past the forty-one mark he still retains plenty of speed.

During DeMar's stay in Los Angeles he will be the guest of the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

NEED RUNNERS

"I think The Times is doing a very fine thing in sponsoring this marathon race," said DeMar when talking of the run. "You know the Pacific Coast has such a wonderful record in all other branches of track and field athletics that we of the East find it hard to understand why you haven't developed any great distance runners. California had more men on the last Olympic Games team than the State of New York, which is quite an achievement. But there were no marathon runners included in that list."

When asked if he expected to be

MRS. PRESSLER IN SEMIFINALS

Faces Miss Lawson Today at Virginia Country Club

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Mrs. Leona Pressler of the San Gabriel Country Club continued toward her second consecutive Southern California women's championship yesterday at the Virginia Country Club, when she eliminated Mrs. C. A. Rife of Long Beach, 8 and 7, to enter the semifinals.

HELEN LAWSON

Playing matchless golf, Mrs. Pressler has waded through all competition, winning the running in the 1932 Olympic Games to be held here, DeMar replied that he could see no reason why he shouldn't still be competing at that time.

"The Melrose Marvel" is a pleasant chap to talk to. He has been West before, running a five-mile race in San Francisco medal round with an 82, and scor-

LUTZE STAGES RALLY TO STOP DAVISCOURT

Nick Lutze had too much finish for Dangerous Dick Daviscourt in the main event of Lou Daro's wrestling show at the Olympic last night. After the Kansas man mountain had gotten off to a good start by rushing Lutze off his feet in the first thirty-six seconds to take the first fall with a series of head locks, young Lutze came back strong to win the next two falls and the decision.

NICK LUTZE.

Nick's first fall came after forty-one minutes and thirty-one seconds of toe-to-toe slugging. Lutze, angered after Daviscourt had clamped on three head locks in a row, picked up the huge gladiator and heaved him to the mat, the winning fall being a new hold called the overhead-backward body slam. Dick was out for several minutes, but was revived sufficiently to continue. However, he didn't last long, Lutze pinning him to the floor again in the short time of twenty-seven seconds with a combination of crotch and body slam holds.

After forty-five minutes and twenty-eight seconds of rough wrestling Joe Malcewicz, the Utica Panther, heaved "Big Bad Bill" Beth over his head to win via the backward body slam route. The match was scheduled for the best two out of three, but Beth was so badly injured by the fall that he was unable to continue. The bout itself

California Takes First Workout for Intercollegiate Poughkeepsie Regatta

Berkeley Boys Do Double Duty on Rough Waters

Ebright Announces Change in Boat Line-up

Coach Jim Ten Eyck Brings Syracuse Squad

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) June 12. (AP)—The California Golden Bears moved into their regular training quarters today at the Vassar College alumnae house and had their first two real workouts in preparation for the intercollegiate rowing association regatta on the 24th inst.

Coach Ky Ebright took his two eights for a five-mile row this morning down the river, and repeated the distance in the afternoon. The water in the late afternoon was choppy and the Bears shipped considerable water in the workout.

A change in the seating of the varsity was announced, Frederick at No. 7 yesterday and Caldwell at No. 5, exchanging seats. There was no intimation that the change is permanent.

The Syracuse squad was led into camp today by the veteran Coach Jim Ten Eyck, making five squads on the river.

Gorchakoff, Kussman Win

HAVERFORD (Pa.) June 12. (Exclusive)—J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, holder of the New England tennis championship, today earned the right to meet Dr. Carl Fischer of Woodbury in the quarterfinals of the Pennsylvania and Middle States tournament at Merion. Hall, who is No. 2 in the tourney, disposed of Harold Colburn of Cyn-Wyd in two keenly played sets, 6-4, 6-4. His net attack was too much for the Cyn-Wyd. Dr. Fischer, former intercollegiate champion, eliminated Roy Coffin of Germantown in three sets.

Tamio Abe, Japanese Davis Cup player, also advanced to the quarterfinals by defeating John Millen, former University of Pennsylvania star now playing from Boston, 6-3, 6-3.

One of the feature matches in doubles saw Ben Gorchakoff of Occidental College, California, and his new partner, Arthur Kussman, win from Benjamin G. Calverts and Frederich Prokosch of Merion, 7-5, 6-1. R. N. Williams, former United States Davis Cup player, teamed with Tamio Abe to beat George H. Thornton and Roy Coffin in two sets.

MIDWICK PLAYERS IN POLO BATTLE

Two Midwick polo stars will adorn the line-up of the Roughrider quartet Sunday, when that team tackles the Uplifters on the latter team's field in Santa Monica. The two are Elmer Boeseke, the long-legged Santa Barbara player, who is rated at seven goals, and C. B. Wrightsman, the fast-improving low-goal performer. With these players added to the line-up, the Roughrider squad has high hopes of conquering the Uplifter team. The latter squad lost an 8-7 decision to the Cowboys last Sunday, after winning six straight tilts.

RABBIT PUNCHES

A FUNNY VERDICT

MR. GEORGE BLAKE bobbed up at the Olympic fights the other night for the first time in many weeks. The former boxing instructor of the Los Angeles Athletic Culb occupied a ringside pew next to Frank A. Garbutt, and both made some keen observations on the Taylor-Hess soiree.

Naturally, Mr. Blake, the silent one, was pressed for a statement on the recent imbroglio in New York when his boy Fidel La Barba dropped a decision to Kid Chocolate, the ebony bantam.

Being a referee of parts as well as a manager Mr. Blake is able to distinguish between victory and defeat with more ease and eclat than the ordinary mortal and the general run of referees.

In all the years that he has been guiding La Barba over the hurdles I have never heard Blake squawk—not until the Chocolate verdict.

He rose up in his manly glory after that decision and hooted. He even wrote nasty pieces to the papers.

And this is what he has to say:

"La Barba won four rounds, Chocolate one and five were even.

THE GREAT DE MAR

AFTER running 3500 miles across the country Mr. C. C. Pyle is sending his boys out to break the world's marathon record at Wrigley Field Sunday night.

This mark is held by Johnny Miles, who won the Boston A. A. Marathon this year and set his record in the same race in 1926.

Miles has a mark of 2h. 25m. 40 2-5s., but the real record was established by the featured eastern runner in The Times Pre-Olympic Marathon this coming Saturday.

This is the celebrated American Legion veteran, Clarence De Mar, the Melrose typesetter who arrived yesterday for the race.

His record—a most remarkable one—is 2h. 18m. 10s. and was established in the 1922 Boston A. A. Marathon run.

As far as revealed by the record books it has never been beaten. It was over a course just under the full marathon distance.

The best time ever made in one of the Olympic Game Marathons is credited to the famous Finn, Hannes Kolehmainen, who covered the 26 miles, 385 yards, in 2h. 32m. 35 4-5s. at Antwerp in 1920.

So the Pyle runner who beats De Mar's best time will be stepping on the gas Sunday night, and after a 3500-mile ordeal he will deserve all the credit in the world if he smashes it.

A RULING NEEDED

MR. WILLIAM MELLORS HENRY rises to remark that since the universal satisfaction over George Simpson's 9 2-5s. the ruling bodies of intercollegiate track-and-field sports should get together and make some uniform ruling on the legality of blocks—hand and foot.

At the present time the boys are as wide apart as the poles on the matter. The I.C.A.A.A.A., for example, says athletes who compete it its eastern blue ribbon classic cannot use either hand or foot blocks.

On the other hand the N.C.A.A., under whose auspices Simpson electrified the world with his record-shattering 100 yards, permits the use of foot blocks.

Simpson used them, and it is not at all certain that when the matter comes up for a ruling by the international body governing track-and-field that the Ohio State man's new record will be allowed.

Under the present situation the N.C.A.A. will allow it, the I.C.A.A.A.A. will not, and the stand of the A.A.U. is still on the fence so to speak. What the international body will say is still another matter.

The old-timers argue against the blocks on the ground that they had no such devices to aid them. True, but they also had no coaches or equipment worthy the name.

DIRTY LAUGHTER

IT MUST afford Bill Lane a diabolical chuckle every time he observes the current efforts of his rival club owners in the Coast League to obtain the split season.

This was Bill's pet idea in the first place, and after he put it over last year the boys got together and tramped on the scheme.

Now they want to go back to it, and Bill with Machiavellian cunning loudly votes "no" every time the matter comes up for discussion.

GLEDHILL IN SEMIFINALS

Santa Barbara Racketer Triumphs Over Berndt in Coast Tennis Title Event at Berkeley

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—Keith Gledhill, 18-year-old Santa Barbara boy, flashed into the semifinal round of the Pacific Coast tennis championships today at the Berkeley Tennis Club with a conclusive win over Kurt Berndt, 6-1, 6-4.

Gledhill, California State champion, and second seeded player in the men's singles event, finished quite as fresh as when he started, although Berndt, Del Monte champion, is an old-timer at tournament play and is nobody's push-over.

Gledhill, unflustered at his easy progress throughout the match, hammered away with clock-like strokes to lead at all times in the first set.

In the second frame Berndt led, 3 games to 2, but the Santa Barbara youth quickly regained the lead and took the set with two games to spare.

Gledhill disposed of Gordon Jason, University of Oregon netter, 6-1, 6-2, in a morning round battle. Neil Brown, coholder of the Pacific Coast doubles title, smashed his way through Gail Warwick, 6-4, 7-5. Warwick, with his chop stroke, proved ineffective against the terrific pounding of Brown's husky drive and overhead shots.

Mrs. L. A. Harper scored a second-round victory over Mrs. Winifred Ottinger, 6-4, 6-2. While Mrs. Ottinger had plenty of pep, she was not able to solve the experienced playing of Mrs. Harper, first seeded player.

HAYWOOD AND BARRY CLASH AT PASADENA

A diversified program at the Pasadena Arena tonight, which has several highlights, will have a pair of sluggers in the ten-round main event. They are Jack Haywood, Monrovia negro, who is one of the arena's best cards, and Johnny Barry, who is very popular in Hollywood and who is the former national amateur champion of his class. They are light-heavyweights.

The semifinal brings together Dud Eades and Dick McDaniels at six rounds.

A lot of followers of Tom Kennedy's finds will be out at the arena tonight to watch his latest discovery, Kenneth Johnson, a lightweight, in action against Oriel Astudillo of Chile. Four-round prelims will be Cliff Hottinger vs. Billy Hall, 150 pounds; Paul Chaney vs. Tiger Napoleon, 130 pounds.

Drivers Out to Break Records

Interest of outboard motorboat fans will shift this Sunday from the Venice Motorboat Speedway to Balboa, where a number of special outboard events are to be run off under the auspices of the Southern California Outboard Association. Of particular interest at Balboa Sunday will be the attempts of various of the Southland's leading pilots to establish a new world mark for outboards on a mile straightaway.

The two Sunday programs already run off this summer at the new Venice waterway have greatly stimulated interest in the outboard sport, according to John B. Illo, local sportsman, who is behind the new venture, and both pilots and the public are enthusiastic over the Venice course. Being an oval course the Venice waterway is said to offer many more thrills than those offered by a straightaway. This was indicated last week by the many spills suffered by pilots in rounding the curves too fast.

Officials of the Venice speedway are now making plans for the third program at the new waterway, which will be run off Sunday, the 23rd inst. A number of pilots are building new boats for this series of races, and keen competition is anticipated when the boys line up once more at Venice, after their appearance this week at Balboa.

BERT HUBBARD OUT TO DEFEAT JACK CHAVEZ

Bert Hubbard, heavy fisted iron worker, is determined to keep unblemished his record of never having lost a decision to a Mexican boxer when he meets Jack Chavez, 19-year-old star of Dutch Meyers's stable, Saturday night at the Main-street Athletic Club. Chavez, who won nine straight bouts, is getting his first chance as a main eventer.

Raul Talan, 135-pound stablemate of Chavez, tackles Tiger Bobo in the other half of the double main event.

LA BARBA TOILS FOR MASTRO GO

Starts Training Siege With Snappy Workout

Chicago Battler Due Today from Windy City

Dempsey in Ring Togs for Short Performance

Fidel La Barba indicated yesterday he is taking Earl Mastro seriously by starting training at the Manhattan gymnasium with the bout nearly two weeks away.

Also Fidel is in very good shape, since he just boxed Tommy Paul in Buffalo last week. The former flyweight king saw Mastro box in New York and believes he is the best featherweight in the country.

Fidel considers Mastro tougher opposition than Bud Taylor. However, La Barba is anxious to meet Taylor—a match that has been signed since last December. Mastro will check in today from Chicago. He defeated Midget Mike O'Dowd there last Monday night.

The Olympic was on the trail of another Tod Morgan title fight for early July. Goldie Hess and Taylor are the candidates which Matchmaker Wad Wadhams would use with the junior lightweight champion.

There is also some talk of making a Hess-Baby Sal Sorio bout, which would be a small little natural following the sensational showing of the Ocean Park boy against Taylor Tuesday night.

Speedy Dado boxed six rounds yesterday at the Manhattan Gymnasium and got a big hand. He boxes Delos Kid Williams in the Olympic next Tuesday. Williams is the New Orleans bantam who gave Kid Francis an almost even battle.

It was a big day for notables at the Manhattan yesterday. Besides La Barba and Dado there was Joe Burman, former star bantam, on the floor for six rounds and last, but not least, Jack Dempsey dropped in for a workout.

Lincoln Beats Hollywooders by 5-2 Score

Coach Pashs's Hollywood High baseball nine took a 5-to-2 drubbing at the hands of the Lincoln High Tigers in a game played on the Occidental College ball lot yesterday afternoon.

The victory gave the Tigers undisputed hold on the 1929 City League championship flag, the Tigers going through the season undefeated.

The victory over the Redshirts was made possible by the second-string men, as every sub, including the bat boy, saw service.

The Hollywood lads' only tallies came in the sixth stanza, when Colletti, Tiger hurler, blew up.

In spite of the poor support received from his team-mates, Reyes, Hollywood chucker, did a good day's work on the hill, holding the Tigers to nine scattered bingles. Collins did the best work at the plate for Hollywood, collecting a couple of doubles in four times at the plate. Fontes of Lincoln, the league's leading hitter, kept up his batting average by collecting two hits out of three times at the rubber. Score:

Club Mermen Equal Record

Swimming together for the first time, three Hollywood Athletic Club swimmers yesterday equaled the world's record for the 300-yard medley relay. The record is 3.09 4-5, held by the New York A.C.

Tommy Blankenburg, Olympic swimmer, swam breast-stroke, Weston Kimball swam free-style and Frank (Red) Walton paddled backstroke.

A second attempt at the record will be made by the same team tonight as a feature of the "family night" affair, according to Coach Clyde Swendsen.

HOLLYWOOD TOURNEY NEARS FINAL ROUND

Squash-handball tournaments of the Hollywood Athletic Club are nearing the final rounds, with the favorite in one still in the running and two scratch teams eliminated from the other.

George Harris, swimming star, continued in his favored position in the junior championship singles meet yesterday by defeating James Irsfeld, Jr., 21-9, 27-22. In other matches Elmer Clift eliminated Bob Dexter, Jr., 21-0, 21-14, Johnny Hillman beat Keith, 21-12, 21-14, and Earl Graham won from Francisco Alonzo, 21-13, 21-16.

Two scratch teams suffered defeats in the men's handicap doubles meet, Bill Holman and S. S. Rockey losing to Herman Frieseke and V. V. McCurdy, six handicap, 21-12, 18-21, 21-17, and Dan Jones and Phil Orr losing to Dave Butler and Abe Roth, six handicap, 21-14, 21-6.

NEILSON AFTER TUCSON

BISBEE (Ariz.) June 12. (AP)—George (Lefty) Neilson will be Roy Johnson's choice to stop the Tucson cowboys in the opener of the four-game series starting here tomorrow. The Bees consider they have a very good chance to win the first half pennant if they can sweep the Tucson series.

M'Tigue Tries New Position

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP)—Mike McTigue, former light-heavyweight champion, who announced his retirement at the age of 45 recently, has decided to take a fling at the managerial end of the boxing game. He has received a manager's license from the New York State Athletic Commission.

OAKS TRIM ANGELS BY 10-4 SCORE

Oakland Victory Moves Acorns to Third Place Ahead of Seraphs

OAKLAND, June 12.—Ivan Howard's up-and-coming Acorns made it two straight over Los Angeles by winning today's terrible exhibition of the national pastime, 10 to 4, and the victory moved the Oaks up to third place, ahead of the Angels in the standings.

ZIP DUMOVICH.

The contest, which required more than two hours to play and saw no less than thirty-two athletes take part, was featured by seven errors.

For four innings both Zip Dumovich and Red Roberts, the rival flingers, hurled shutout ball, but in the fifth the Oaks broke through the Angel redhead's defense and massed their attack for five runs. Five hits, including triples by Jimmy Reese and Roy Carlyle, accounted for the quintet of tallies.

Dumovich, who had allowed but one hit in five innings and appeared well on his way to achieve the distinction of being the first southpaw to start, finish and win a game from Marty Krug's collection of right-hand sluggers, blew up—or rather his mates blew him up—in the sixth when the Seraphs put across four runs. Holling, batting for Roberts, singled to start the sixth. Carlyle dropped an easy fly and it went for two bases. Schulmerich singled and then Arlett muffed Tolson's grounder. Two more hits and another error by Verges gave the Angels their four runs before Kasich, who replaced Dumovich, could get the side out.

Kasich held the Angels hitless during the remaining rounds and the Oaks sewed up the struggle by putting across four runs in the seventh and another tally in the eighth. Score:

Criticises Bad Points of German

Puffs Loudly in Fight Practice

By JACK FARRELL

(N. J.) June 12.— in action today at was remindful who, upon be- into the parlor to per- relatives, refused of experts, near ex- sports writers, F. Carey, president of Square Garden, and came down from New York to watch Max work. It was a supercritical audience and the German turned in the worst workout he has had since he pitched camp here.

Carpentier, who nearly sank Jack Dempsey with a right-hand punch some eight years back, observed Max's every move at close range.

"He is a much better fighter than I expected to see," said Carpentier. "He throws a beautiful right hand but he leaves himself wide open for a counter punch.

"He is exceptionally loose for a big fellow and much faster than the average 185-pounder. He must learn to defend himself against a left hook. If he does not Paolino will give him plenty of trouble."

Schmeling was awful in various ways. He waited until he came out of his weave to punch and when he finally let one fly he usually missed. He was so slow on his feet that he was unable to get out of his own way. As a result, he took considerable punishment from Heller.

HOOSICK FALLS (N. Y.) June 12.—It seems that in all future fight contracts there should be an anti-aviation clause, so high-flown have the manners of pugilists become.

Paulino Uzcudun today announced his intention of flying to Mineola, L. I., where, of all things, he wishes next Monday to attend the dog races.

The Basque spent the morning playing cards. In the afternoon he boxed six rounds instead of his usual four, dividing his savagery evenly among Benny Touchstone, Jack Demave and Buddy Howard.

But Paulino is not yet able to box even one round without puffing after the manner of an asthmatic locomotive. He appalled the peasantry today by his pantings and one farmer son, who had seen Paulino blow water from his mouth between rounds, rode furiously away on his bicycle crying "bad man, he wants to spit on me."

PAUL DEHATE PICKED TO WIN OVER FITZGERALD

Paul DeHate, Compton welterweight, has been made favorite over Freddie Fitzgerald in the Hollywood American Legion Stadium main event tomorrow night.

The Hudkins boys are sending out DeHate to give his best. This spurt under the Hudkins banner may land DeHate in New York and he realizes it. DeHate isn't the boxer Fitzgerald is. Unless DeHate proves too aggressive for Fitzgerald, the Irishman has a good chance to upset the dope.

The semi-wind-up may prove to be the most colorful fight on the card. If poison Pisons, the Filipino all-navy champion, lives up to his reputation, and Clayton Gouyd fights his usual fight there will be plenty doing in the semi. Pisons is a great puncher with forty knockouts in forty-three fights. Gouyd is making weight for the Filipino, and this may hurt his chances of winning.

Bert Wagner may enter the ring a favorite over Sailor Henderson, a rugged welterweight. Wagner is a better boxer than his sailor opponent.

NEW YORK YANKEES REACH TWENTY-FIVE PLAYER LIMIT

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP)—The Yankees reached the twenty-five-man limit today, three days ahead of schedule, by placing Floyd Van Pelt, 21-year-old right-hander, upon the voluntarily retired list. Van Pelt won twenty-six games for Montgomery in the Southeastern League last year but an arm injury incapacitated him this season.

Knight Replaces Fullerton in Fifth and Checks Star Attack; Ducks Even Up Series

singled, the Portlanders putting over four runs before George Hollerson could get in and retire the side. Hollerson blanked the Ducks in the next three rounds and Joe Marty did likewise in the ninth, but the Stars couldn't do anything with Knight's offerings so that makes it a sad story from the Hollywood standpoint.

DUCKS GET NEW PLAYER

The Ducks presented another new face on their infield yesterday. Bob Richards, one of the many athletes owned by the Philadelphia Athletics, appearing at second base. Richards, who has just completed some sort of a postgraduate course—probably in athletics for that seems to be the reigning subject in colleges these days — at Stanford, looked good in the field and came through with a couple of hits in three times at bat.

For three innings the Messrs. Fullerton and Hulvey turned back the opposition with monotonous regularity, but both ran into plenty of trouble in the fourth, when all of the excitement started.

Hulvey got himself into a jam in the Portland fourth when he made a wild heave to second on a play that should have resulted in a double play and retired the side. Just to show the gods that be how appreciative they were for that break, the Ducks put over three runs, Buck Walters's clout over the right-field screen with two men on accounting for the trio of tallies.

Joe Hassler opened the fourth with a single to left, but Keesey did the cause no good by lofting to Rumler. Jahn hit back to Hulvey and it was here that Hank made his infamous throw to center, Hassler continuing to third on the heave. Whereupon Walters smote one of Hulvey's offerings over the right-field screen and trotted over the plate behind Hassler and Jahn.

However, Fullerton could not stand prosperity and permitted the Stars to come back with four runs in their half of the fourth and wipe out the Portland lead.

STARS START CANNONADING

After Rollings had been retired when Hassler captured his foul fly after a long sprint to the box seats Bill Rumler started the Hollywood cannonading with a terrific double to center. Carlyle's infield out moved Rumler to third, from where he scored when Heath beat out a slow roller that was just out of Fullerton's reach and in too far for Richards to make a play on the ball. Heath stole second, although the Ducks vigorously protested Umpire Chadbourne's decision that he was safe, took third on Lee's infield hit and scored when Sypher unloaded a double in right field. Hulvey followed with a hit to center that counted Lee and Sypher, but Funk grounded out to end the rally.

Carlyle made a brilliant running catch of Woodall's Texas leaguer to begin the Portland fifth, but the Ducks weren't a bit discouraged, and proceeded to fill the sacks on hits by Fullerton and Frey and a walk to Hassler. Keesey greeted McCabe with a single to center that scored Fullerton and Frey and Hassler also romped over the plate, and Keesey took second when the orb caromed off one of Carlyle's shapely ankles. When Jahn hit McCabe's next pitch for a single to center that counted Keesey, Vitt rushed Hollerson to the mound and that young worthy retired the side by forcing Walters to hit into a double play. However, later events proved that the victory had evaporated before Skipper Vitt put the cork back in the bottle, or words to that effect.

The Stars did a lot of threatening in their half of the fifth, scoring two runs and chasing Fullerton to cover, but Knight retired the side before the home guards could tie it up. Fullerton filled the bases in a hurry by walking Burkett and Rumler, Rollings sandwiching a single in between the passes. Knight then took command. Carlyle hit what should have resulted in a double play, but Hassler, after taking Richards's throw to force Rumler, threw low to first, both Burkett and Rollings scoring. Heath singled to right and sent Carlyle to third, but Knight disposed of Lee and Sypher to leave the tying and winning markers stranded on the hassocks.

Hollywood made a final threat in the ninth when Bassler walked and Cook, who ran for him, reached third on Rollings's bunt and Rumler's infield out. But Carlyle was thrown out at first. But Carlyle was end the game. The score:

Valley Speed Track Ready

After completion today of resurfacing and oiling of the American Legion Speedway, and completion by illuminating engineers of their setting of large floodlights around the track, everything will be in readiness for the inaugural A.A.A.-sanctioned night-racing program at the Valley Boulevard oval, H. A. Marow, track manager, has just announced.

Special interest surrounds the events Saturday night in that for the first time in the history of the racing sport points toward a district championship will be awarded in an after-dark competition. Previous night racing having been without A.A.A. sanction, the national body has never before given points for such events.

The official approval of the national body has resulted in the inaugural night-racing program at the American Legion Speedway attracting an entry list of the foremost drivers of the West. Qualifying trials will be at 2 p.m. Saturday afternoon, with the public invited to witness the preliminaries without charge.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12. (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics took their third straight from the Chicago White Sox today, 7 to 3. Lyons, who started in the box for the Sox, was hit for five runs in the first two rounds.

Simmons accounted for two of the runs in the first inning by hitting his fourteenth home run of the season with one on base.

BROWNS WIN

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP)—The St. Louis Browns turned upon the Yankees in the final game of the series here today and pounded out a 9-to-4 victory after three straight defeats.

The path was made easier for the visitors by Myles Thomas and Fred Heimach, who gave up seven hits and eight runs in the fourth. George Blaeholder turned in a fair job against the champions, but permitted Lou Gehrig to hit his fifteenth homer in the eighth, with Combs on base.

Gehrig retained the American League lead and entered into a tie with Chick Hafey and Chuck Klein for top place in the National League race. Blaeholder hit a homer with two on in the big St. Louis fourth. Score:

Johnny Dawson Annexes Two Matches in British Amateur Golf

THREE YANKEES STILL IN PLAY

Chicago Golfer Makes Great Start at Sandwich

Field of Thirty-two Battles for English Title

Tolley, Perkins, Tweddell Named as Favorites

BY FRANK H. KING

Associated Press Staff Writer

SANDWICH (Eng.) June 12. (AP)—The wheel of fortune in the British amateur golf championship which with its week of 18-hole matches is the biggest lottery in major golf, turned through the third round of play today. The round brought disastrous results for some famous British golfers but John Dawson, Bobby Baugh and Joshua Crane remained to represent America.

Dawson made an impressive start, beating John D. MacCormack, 2 and 1, and Guy Campbell, 1 up. He played several bad holes but on the whole the Chicago player did very well, indeed.

Among the other survivors in the now reduced field of thirty-two, Cyril Tolley, Phil Perkins and Dr. William Tweddell are the best. Some of the experts think the draw seems shaping toward a 36-hole final Saturday between Tolley in the upper half and either Perkins or Dawson in the lower.

Defeats of Roger Wethered, T. A. Torrance, Douglas Grant and J. A. Stout were sensations today. Perkins had a narrow escape. He was 1 down to C. Shankland with four to go. The champion won the eighteenth to square the match and went on to victory at the twenty-second.

The defending titleholder is playing the steadiest golf of the championship and perhaps the slowest. This morning protests were registered by pairs behind Perkins because of the delay while fairways ahead were clear.

One favorite had to pass out of the picture when Tolley and Grant met. The big Englishman held the advantage from the tee and finisht with an eagle 3 at the 457-yard fifteenth with a drive, mashie and long putt.

With haze thick over the English Channel and ships bellowing fog signals Dawson started his match against MacCormack, long and supple Irishman who drives tremendous distances. MacCormack, holder of many Irish honors, was wounded in the spine during the World War and for years wore a steel jacket to support his body.

The Chicago player's victim in the afternoon is a golfer of the old Scottish school, Guy Campbell, sturdily built veteran, who used a huge old-fashioned wooden putter with a face big enough to hit four balls at one time. Campbell handled this relic with deadly precision at times. He started by winning the first two holes, but later it failed him and Dawson took five straight.

After the turn, the players alternated in holing long putts. Dawson seemed likely to win 2 up and one to play, but Campbell rolled a long putt down to stretch the match to the home green.

The visitor from the United States had a chance to observe British sartorial individuality. MacCormack played in close-fitting riding breeches and a tight leather jacket, making his tall form appear as thin as a rail. Campbell was garbed in the baggy old trousers and a loose-fitting sweater which he kept pinned up in tucks with a large safety pin to prevent flopping like a loose sail.

The best shots in Dawson's bag today were approach putts. He holed a few long ones and he consistently laid them dead from the corners with perfect touch.

SOUTHLAND ANGLERS CHARTER OWN BOATS

Many salt water fishermen have turned to chartering boats this season at Santa Monica, it was learned yesterday from Capt. Cliff Morris at the Santa Monica Municipal Pier. More anglers than ever before are going out in the private boats and returning with large catches.

W. V. Hewett of Van Nuys and a party of friends took out the Morris Owl and caught many bass, halibut and barracuda. F. C. Mason and a party of friends chartered the Ship Lark and returned with a big catch of barracuda and halibut. Dwight Welsh and a party of anglers took out the ship I.K.I. and as they put it, nearly caught all the fish in Santa Monica Bay.

FEG MURRAY IN TOWN

"Feg" Murray, former L.A.A.C. track star and now a nationally known cartoonist, has been visiting at the Mercury Club this week. Murray played a couple of fast handball games at the club yesterday. He is in Los Angeles on a vacation and may take in the National A.A.U. track championships at Denver next month before returning to New York.

Unlock Wrists to Get Power

JONES

BY SOL METZGER

When you begin the downswing by pulling the club down the right side with a straight left arm and at the same time slide the hips to the left, you do not uncock the wrists that were cocked at the top of the swing. Keep them cocked. They deliver the final punch, the added acceleration to the centrifugal force of the straight left arm swing and bring in the weight.

Your arm swing gets the club going at the utmost speed as you approach the ball. Your weight is all placed to get in behind the blow. Now to get this weight into the shot and to add the wrist roll one keeps the right arm out of it entirely until the hands are approximately opposite the right leg. At this point, because the wrists are cocked, the club will be but half way down and the weight will seem to be ahead of the ball.

Now you apply the wrists. Instead of trying to sweep them through the ball, strike at it with the right forearm in an effort to hit through in such manner that the right arm will straighten. Your object should be to drive the clubhead straight through the ball and out along the line of flight with a straight right arm. Let us see the effect tomorrow.

Bobby Jones is a consistent winner because he is a consistent putter. Send stamped, addressed envelope to Sol Metzger, care of The Times and request leaflet on putting.

Hagen, Smith Nab Golf Tilt

DETROIT, June 12. (AP)—Two birdie threes on the second nine today enabled Walter Hagen and Horton Smith to defeat George Von Elm and Jimmy Kinnear, in a special four ball test match on the Western Golf and Country Club course here by two and one.

With Kinnear, pro of the Western Club, badly off form, Von Elm tied Hagen with a par 72 over the eighteen holes to make a nip-and-tuck match up to the seventeenth hole. Smith turned in a 74 and Kinnear an 83.

Johnny Adams, the San Bernardino Mountain lion, was a mild tabby-cat last night in the main event at Wilmington, being knocked out by Canado Chavez in the second round. Adams took a nine count before going down for good. Frankie Burns kayoed Bartley Radcliffe in the fourth round of the semi-wind-up. In the six-round special event Jess Vasquez defeated Jimmy Valentine. Sailor Colleto beat Young Acunning in one of the four-round preliminaries, while Billy Cain copped the nod from Johnny Cabucca in the opener.

AMERICANS WIN IN DUTCH PLAY

Tilden, Hunter, Coen Sweep Through Rivals

All Three Show Power in Net Triumphs

Big Bill to Meet Landry of French Team

NOORDWYK (Holland) June 12. (AP)—The three American entries again provided most of the interest in the Dutch tennis championships today. Big Bill Tilden, Frank Hunter and Junior Coen swept through five matches in fine style.

In the men's singles Hunter and Coen each scored easy victories to go into the quarter-final round. Playing with too much speed and power for his opponent, Hunter defeated Daniel Nielsen, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2. The Kansas City youngster played an impressive game to dispose of Karnebeek of Holland, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Tilden still has to meet the young French Davis Cup reserve, Pierre Landry, before he can reach the last eight.

Big Bill's matches today were in the men's doubles, paired with his old running mate, Hunter, and in the mixed doubles with Kea Bouman, the Dutch women's champion. The veteran American partners easily beat the Dutch team of Feith and Eilers, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2. With Miss Bouman he defeated the Hungarian, Kirchmayer, and Mrs. Baltrock, 6-2, 6-2.

Coen and his partner, Hans Timmer of Holland, eliminated a pair of old-timers in the doubles. They beat Patterson, captain of the Egyptian Davis Cup team, and Broese Van Groenom, president of the Dutch Tennis Association, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3.

"Slush Fund" is Explained

IOWA CITY (Iowa) June 12. (AP) The "slush fund" for athletes mentioned in connection with the ousting of the University of Iowa from the Western Conference was explained here tonight by W. W. Mercer, its administrator.

Mercer said the fund was contributed by alumni of the university to make "emergency" loans to athletes who found themselves in need of funds. No athlete ever received more than $200 or $300 during a school year, Mercer declared, adding that in most cases the amounts loaned were much smaller than that.

Giant Argentine Fighter Arrives

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP)—Victorio Campolo, giant Argentine boxer, arrived here today from Buenos Aires to join the heavyweight scramble for gold and glory.

Victorio measures 6 feet 6 inches and weighs 225 in fighting trim. His ambitions are of similar dimensions and he sees no reason why he should not be even more successful than was his countryman, Luis Angel Firpo.

"I believe that I could have beaten Firpo at his best," he said. "I am stronger than Luis and I know how to box."

Campolo, now 27 years of age, was knocked out in the ninth round by Monte Munn, Nebraska lawyer-fighter, a little more than a year ago in Buenos Aires.

A.A.U. TO ACT ON SIMPSON'S RECORD

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP)—Action on George Simpson's 9 2-5s. performance for the 100 yards will be taken at the national A.A.U. convention at St. Louis in November and not before.

Announcement to this effect was made yesterday by Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the A.A.U., in an effort to set at rest reports that the A.A.U. had virtually decided not to recognize Simpson's new mark because starting blocks had been used.

ARLINGTON NINE WINS

Arlington whipped Whittier 7-2 last night in a Southern California night baseball league game played at Whittier. Arrington, hurling for the winners, fanned eight Whittier batsmen. Arlington had their big inning in the fourth, when four runs crossed the plate. Score:

DIXON STOPS MALONE

OAKLAND, June 12. (AP)—George Dixon, sturdy negro middleweight from Portland, stopped Jock Malone of St. Paul in the fifth round of their ten-round bout tonight at Arcadia Pavilion. The bout was halted by Referee Eddie White after Malone suffered a cut an inch long on his upper lip.

Beaver Star Holding Out

DETROIT, June 12. (AP)—George Wuestling, star shortstop of the Portland team of the Pacific Coast League, who was purchased by the Detroit Tigers and ordered to report in Washington last Thursday, is a hold-out for part of the price paid by the Tiger management for his contract. Wuestling said in St. Louis last night that he did not know when he would report to the Tigers but refused to discuss his reason for delaying. It was learned here, however, that refusal of the Portland club to split the sale price is his grievance.

DE MAR ARRIVES FOR LONG RACE

in 1922. He finished second at that time. Although he didn't offer any alibi for not winning we suspect that inasmuch as he likes to run in hot weather he probably didn't find the climate of the Bay region conducive to fast running.

DeMar works on the Jamaica Plains Journal near Boston. This is a weekly paper and he is employed as a typesetter.

When asked about his record of 2h. 18m. 10s. for the marathon distance DeMar declared that this time, which is phenomenally fast, is for the old Boston course. This route was considerably less than the regulation marathon distance. Johnny Miles set the real record for twenty-six miles, 385 yards. It stands at 2h. 25m. 40 2-5s. This was made in 1926 in the race in which DeMar finished third in 2h. 32m. 15s.

The eastern star was given an enthusiastic welcome yesterday morning by local members of the American Legion. Heading the party was George Lyon, Los Angeles county commander. Others present included George Contreras, Sid Parshall of the service department, Ed Risdon, who edits the Legion weekly; Ernie Bain, M. L. Winn of the publicity department, Malcom Letts, Thomas Allen and H. W. Scott.

Tomorrow night at the Hollywood American Legion DeMar will be presented with a wrist watch by the management.

Charles Keppen, manager of the race, all entrants to report to Clerk of the Course Kinter Hamilton at the Central High School Building, 451 North Hill street, sharply at 11 o'clock Saturday. Mr. Hamilton will give the runners their instructions and the numbers which they must wear, and from the high school building they will be taken to the starting point directly in front of the City Hall.

DE MAR TRIES OUT MARATHON COURSE

Clarence DeMar "trotted" over about sixteen miles of the Times pre-Olympic marathon route yesterday afternoon in 1h. 50m. Director Charley Keppen took the Melrose Marvel over the entire course, starting in front of the City Hall, down Main street to Washington, west to Culver City and return to The Times Building via Sunset.

DeMar tried out his legs in the outlying part of the course, and declared he expected to run about 2h. 45m. or 2h. 50m. Saturday. "The cool breezes that the runners will find after they get outside the main part of Los Angeles will be a big help to them," he declared. "And also, there are lots of long, straight stretches that will enable the runners to cut down their time considerably."

The American marathon star expressed considerable interest in Chief Jamieson's Sherman Indians. He has run against a number of the original Americans, but never against the western tribe representatives. Indians from New York, Maine, Canada and as far west as Kansas have appeared in the Boston marathon, he declared.

MANDELL SIGNS TO DEFEND RING TITLE

CHICAGO, June 12. (AP)—Sammy Mandell, world lightweight boxing champion, today signed a contract with Paddy Harmon, president of the Chicago Stadium Corporation, to defend his title against a suitable opponent before August 10.

Tony Canzoneri, former world featherweight titleholder, is prominently mentioned as Mandell's opponent.

MRS. PRESSLER IN SEMIFINALS

ing two smashing victories in match play.

The champion, however, will be furnished with an opponent of a different caliber today in Miss Helen Lawson of the Wilshire Country Club. Miss Lawson was Del Monte women's champion in 1926, a title now held by Mrs. Pressler. She has played little tournament competition during the past year, but is apparently hitting the ball as well as ever, which is very good, indeed.

Miss Lawson yesterday advanced to the semifinals with a 4-and-3 win over Mrs. John Hollywood of Potrero.

Mrs. Gregg Lifur of the Riviera Country Club almost met her match yesterday in Miss Lucille De Long of San Diego. Mrs. Lifur had to come from behind to win, 1 up, after the Border City schoolgirl had led for the major portion of the match.

In what should prove to be another great match, Mrs. Lifur faces Mrs. Roy Green of the California Country Club this morning. Mrs. Green yesterday defeated a fellow-team-mate, Mrs. Bess Edwards, 5 and 4.

According to past performance, Mrs. Pressler and Mrs. Lifur should meet in the finals tomorrow, but both Mrs. Green and Miss Lawson are not unlikely to upset the dope.

Following are yesterday's results:

CHAMPIONSHIP

(Starting time, 10 a.m.)

Mrs. Harry Pressler defeated Mrs. C. A. Rife, 8 and 7.

Miss Helen Lawson defeated Mrs. John Hollywood, 4 and 3.

Mrs. Roy Green defeated Mrs. R. A. Edwards, 5 and 4.

Mrs. Gregg Lifur defeated Miss Lucille de Long, 1 up.

FIRST FLIGHT

(Starting time, 10:15 a.m.)

Mrs. F. M. Slade defeated Mrs. Lenore Killian, 4 and 3.

Mrs. C. A. Barbour defeated Mrs. George Herald, 8 and 7.

Mrs. N. Howell defeated Mrs. Herman Politz, 3 and 2.

Mrs. P. Daley defeated Mrs. L. R. Millikan, 5 and 4.

SECOND FLIGHT

(Starting time, 10:30 a.m.)

Mrs. D. F. O'Keefe defeated Mrs. I. C. Freud, 4 and 3.

Mrs. G. M. Midgety defeated Mrs. B. A. Edgington, 2 up.

Mrs. A. O. Lind defeated Mrs. C. Delaney, 2 and 1.

Miss C. Wassen defeated Miss H. Whitmore, 2 up.

PROS PLAN SWEEPSTAKES AT LA CUMBRA MONDAY

Ernest Martin yesterday announced that the next professional sweepstakes of the Southern California P.G.A. will be held at the La Cumbra Country Club on Monday.

Japan Seeks Bobby Jones

ATLANTA, June 12. (AP)—Bobby Jones said today he was giving serious consideration to a cabled invitation to play golf in Japan this year. Final decision will be made after he confers in New York next week with officials of the United States Golf Association. The American champion was assured in the cable that "all the Japanese golfers are anxious to welcome him." He said he appreciated "the high compliment of this suggestion while feeling entirely unworthy of the implied honor." He plans to leave Sunday for the open tournament at Winged Foot and later will go to California for the American amateur tournament.

STRAUL SHOOTS 76 WITH NEW BALL

Using a semifloater, the new ball adopted by the United States Golf Association for 1931, Erwin Straul of the Lakeside Country Club, yesterday shot a 76. The new "pill" is larger and lighter than the ball now used.

Charley Guest, who will leave next week to represent Southern California in the United States open championship, played in a foursome yesterday with W. E. Sheperd, Clarence Bean and Frank Elliott. Guest shot a 69, Sheperd an 84, Bean an 82, and Elliott a 79. The former won, 2 to 1.

CORBETT, CHASTAIN SUB FOR BUD TAYLOR

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12. (AP)—Young Corbett of Fresno and Clyde Chastain of Fort Worth, Tex., welterweights, will meet at Dreamland Auditorium, June 21, taking the place of Bud Taylor and "Dynamite" Murphy, featherweights, originally scheduled to meet on that date. Matchmaker Frank Schuler made the switch following word that Taylor had injured his hands in a bout last night at Los Angeles.

HAPPY ORATOR FRACTURES LEG

Youth Attempts New Dance Step But He'll Remain Dignified After This

Orators must be dignified and not give away to the breakaway dance step, Earl T. Smith confided to the world yesterday from a bed in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

Earl, who is 18 years of age, and lives at 1470 West Thirty-fifth street, is the colored boy orator of Manual Arts High School's senior class who won first place in a recent contest of the Southern California Oratorical and Debate League. For this he received a gold medal and a trophy cup. He was on his way to present the cup to his class yesterday when, to express his elation, he attempted the breakaway dance step. He fell, fracturing his left leg.

LIFE WITH HUSBAND TOO MUCH DODGING

Ella Hall

Ella Hall, motion-picture actress, spent most of her married life dodging things, she told Superior Judge Sproul yesterday, during the hearing of her divorce action against Alfred Emery Johnson.

"My husband would bring home guests, sometimes five or six of them, unannounced," said Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson was granted a divorce, and custody of her 6-year-old daughter.

VETERANS WILL BACK HOME PLAN

Group to Discuss Charge in Sawtelle Management at Detroit Convention

Frank J. Irwin, commander of the Chandler Porter Wright Chapter of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, announced that one of the principal items to be discussed at the national convention of the veterans at Detroit later this month will be the taking over of the National Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle by the Veterans' Bureau and making of the present burying grounds of the Home a national cemetery.

"At present the National Home is functioning under the Board of Governors of the National Military Homes with headquarters in Dayton, O.," said Irwin. "This is one of the many boards that President Hoover is trying to eliminate. In addition to the elimination of overhead expense the charge will give the veterans a per diem allowance of nearly three times the present quota. It will make the Sawtelle Home one of the beauty spots of Southern California, with a national shrine here in the form of a national cemetery."

Irwin served as national commander of the disabled veterans in 1924-25.

Film Pageant to be Repeated as Elks Visit

Jack L. Warner announced last night that the $1,000,000 motion-picture electrical pageant which climaxed the Shriners' conclave is to be repeated in the Coliseum on the night of July 11, next, for the entertainment of the 100,000 or more visitors who will gather here for the sixty-fifth annual Elks' convention. This pageant will be revised, augmented and elaborated, added Warner, who again will act as director-general of the electrical fete. The motion-picture industry's display will surpass in beauty and effectiveness even the recent triumph at the Coliseum, he promised.

Frank Murphy again will supervise the illumination, in which more lights of greater intensity will be used. Many new floats will be added to the prize winners of the recent pageant, the Harold Lloyd, Radio-Keith-Orpheum and Warner Brothers floats. The electrical pageant will follow an afternoon demonstration in the Coliseum when thousands of Elks will march in to the music of fifty bands. Tickets reserving seats for both events go on sale today at the B. H. Dyas stores and at Elks' Temple.

Carthay Center School Fiesta Plans Complete

Plans for the annual Carthay Center school carnival, to be held tomorrow afternoon and evening under auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association, were announced yesterday.

Taking the form of a Spanish fiesta, this year's carnival will be featured by a pageant in which the pupils will depict outstanding historical events of California. There will be numerous carnival attractions on the school ground.

A general school parade is scheduled for 6:30 o'clock, to be followed by athletic events, in which fathers and sons will compete. An address on present-day education will be given in the school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock by John F. O'Connor. Following the address a program of music and dancing will be presented.

W.C.T.U. TO MEET TODAY

The Los Angeles Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet in the First Methodist Church today at 2 p.m. The meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Hattie M. Doughty. CLASS WILL GET TRADE DIPLOMAS

Wiggins School Graduates in Commencement Tonight at Shrine Auditorium

Diplomas and certificates of proficiency will be presented to 1800 men and women at Shrine Auditorium tonight during the commencement program of the Frank Wiggins Trade School. The awards will be made by John B. Beman, president of the Board of Education, and will follow a program of demonstration that will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Because of the peculiar character of the school, its executives conceived the idea of equipping the auditorium with a series of booths representing the trades in which the students have been trained, and from which training they are being graduated.

During the afternoon each graduate in each trade will give a demonstration of proficiency of their ability in the vocation they have chosen. These demonstrations will be judged by a jury familiar with the work done.

The growth of the Frank Wiggins Trade School has been so great it was necessary to engage the Shrine Auditorium for the graduation exercises, no school auditorium being large enough to accommodate the nearly 2000 students who will take part in the demonstrations and receive their diplomas and certificates.

The program will begin at 7:30 p.m., and the chief address will be made by Earl R. Carpenter of the Los Angeles Motor Car Dealers' Association.

In compliment to Miss Marjorie Harriman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Verbeck of Lucerne Boulevard, who will be graduated tomorrow in the Hollywood Bowl from the University of California at Los Angeles, Mrs. George Leslie Smith and her sister, Mrs. Carl Blissett Fix, will entertain Saturday, the 22nd inst., with a luncheon at the Uplifters Club.

Assisting the hostesses will be Mrs. R. D. Shepherd, Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt, Mrs. Edward A. Dickson, Mrs. Benjamin F. Bledsoe, Mrs. Frank William Davey, Mrs. Georgia King Kennedy, Mrs. Ralph Heath, Mrs. Judson Claudius Rives, Mrs. John Hunt, Mrs. W. A. Estes, Jr., and Mrs. Verbeck. The honoree is a member of the Delta Gamma Sorority.

Mr. and Mrs. Fix will sail July 13 for three weeks in Honolulu.

Smart Luncheon

One of the smartest affairs of the week was the luncheon with which Miss Gertrude Gooding of 610 Westmoreland avenue entertained yesterday in the Women's Athletic Club to honor Miss Kate R. Thompson of Evansville, Ind. Laid in the garden dining-room of the club, tables seating eight or ten guests were elaborately decorated with flowers and favors of pink, blue and lavender, while dainty summer girls gowned in the same shades formed the place cards.

One hundred guests were bidden, and bridge was played throughout the afternoon.

Here and There

With the closing of the schools, many Southern Californians are turning their thoughts toward the gratification of that wanderlust which inevitably comes with spring, and many are the travelers who will leave this week for the far corners of the earth.

Jack Francisco, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bond Francisco of 1401 Albany street, is leaving for a three months' tour of Europe, accompanied by a fraternity brother in Alpha Sigma Phi, Bob Morgen. They sail tomorrow aboard the De La Salle.

Mrs. Agnes Lillian Black, artist and writer, with her daughter, Miss Virginia L. Black, who was graduated recently from the Gordon School for Girls, sails Saturday aboard the City of Los Angeles for an extended vacation in the Hawaiian Islands. The travelers, who make their home at 1353 North Sycamore avenue, will be honored this evening with a bon voyage party at the home of Mrs. Stella O. Browne on Wilcox avenue.

Mrs. C. E. Knecht and her daughter, Miss Eleanor Knecht, 543 North Wilton Place, will leave the 20th inst. for Montreal, whence they sail the 26th inst. on the Montcalm for a European tour. They will return about the middle of September.

Rev. and Mrs. Raymond M. Huston, with their young son Donald, are passing five weeks in Long Beach. Dr. Huston is pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Evanston, Ill., and Mrs. Huston is well known as a soloist. While in Long Beach they will be at the Rosslyn Apartments, 17 Neptune Place.

Mrs. T. A. Willard and Miss Marian Van Voorhees of 617 Linden Drive, Beverly Hills, are leaving shortly for New York, whence they will sail the 20th inst. on the Ile De France for three months in France, England, Switzerland and Italy.

Illinois Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Duke Simpson of Beverly Hills have been entertaining Mrs. Simpson's cousin, William Guy Noll of Quincy, Ill., and Mrs. Noll for the past three weeks, part of the time being passed in the Yosemite Valley, from which the party has just returned. Mr. and Mrs. Noll are returning immediately to Quincy and Mrs. Noll will then take her two sons to Europe for the summer.

Pledging Announced

Omicron Phi Alpha Sorority announces the pledging of Miss Marion Thorne and Miss Margaurite Winans at the home of Miss Sara Williams. Dinner at the Mary Helen Tea Room preceded the initiation ceremony, conducted by Miss Joyce Bent, president, and Miss Nina Velsir, pledge mistress, and felt pillows of blue and white, bearing the sorority insignia, were presented each of the new members.

Beach Party

Mrs. Ernst V. Neumann was a gracious hostess of recent date at the Sea Breeze Beach Club, where she entertained with a luncheon for which decorations were soft-toned garden flowers, bridge later being enjoyed by the guests.

Bidden were Mrs. Joseph W. Colwell, Mrs. Newell Jones, Mrs. Charles De Laubenfels, Mrs. Fred Hammer, Mrs. Sidney Swanson, Mrs. Emma Wells, Mrs. Verne Wright, Mrs. C. B. H. Dale, Mrs. R. T. Prevost, Mrs. D. L. Farley, Mrs. G. H. Renard, Mrs. S. D. Ecklin, Mrs. Wilkins E. Bintliff, Mrs. Frank A. Barz, Mrs. Andreas Vargo, Mrs. Birge Newmann, Mrs. L. S. Blenkiron, Mrs. Ruth Moore and Miss Mary Wells.

Sorority Affair

Members of Los Angeles City Club of Alpha Delta Pi are to be entertained Saturday afternoon at the beautiful hillside home of their vice-president, Miss Emma Schlappi at 6235 Hollymount in Hollywood. Mrs. D. Francis Maclean, president, will preside at the short business meeting beginning at 2 o'clock which will be followed by an afternoon of bridge. All resident and visiting alumni in Southern California are bidden.

Miss Schlappi attended the University of California at Berkeley and at Los Angeles, where she was active in the Alpha Delta Pi chapters. As chairman of the founders' day committee, she planned and arranged the 1929 program for the seventy-eighth anniversary of the founding of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority celebrated in Los Angeles May 18 and attended by more than one hundred active and alumni members.

NAVY OFFICER ACQUIRES BRIDE

Honolulu Girl Weds in Beverly Hills

Mrs. Howard Leyland Young

A MOST attractive wedding, that of Miss Marion Jaeger, was an event of the 1st inst. in the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. T. Edgar Robinson of 812 Camden Drive, Beverly Hills, where the Junior League member became the bride of Lieut. Howard Leyland Young, U.S.N. Gowned in ivory satin, exquisitely trimmed with lace and pearls, she carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies. Her matron of honor, Mrs. George S. Silsbee, Jr., was in rose pink lace, and carried matching roses. Little Joan Mary Robinson was the flower girl, and Davis Keith Robinson the ring bearer, while Lieut. Raymond R. Waller, U.S.N., served as best man and Lieut. George Dausouelt and Lieut. Curtiss Smiley, U.S.N., assisted as ushers.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Henry August Jaeger of Honolulu. Lieut. Young is stationed at North Island and attached to the Flying Squadron V.F.2B. After returning from their honeymoon Lieut. and Mrs. Young are at the Barclay for a few days, and will leave Saturday for their permanent home in Coronado.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb-suckling, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

THE COLUMN'S ECONOMY DAY

Mrs. T. L. H. writes: "My son, after 4 years of age, did not want to wear the waists upon which his trousers were fastened. I finally hit upon the happy idea of sewing buttons on the inside of his trousers and buttoning them onto a junior-sized suspender. Tommy loves them. They give him so much freedom and comfort. I have an extra pair on his play clothes as boys hate wasting time changing clothes. I feel sure this will help mothers who have boys between 4 and 8."

Answer: This sounds like an excellent idea and the elasticity of the suspenders should do away with the annoying tendency of buttons to fly off whenever the child bends over.

In my own family I used waists (never having thought of suspenders,) but I replaced the tape in the buttons with a narrow elastic. It is surprising how much "give" buttons have when fastened on in this manner, and they seldom break off.

Home-Made Toilet Set

Mrs. J. M. writes: "As an interested reader of your column, I'd like to pass on an idea for a baby's toilet set. This is similar to sets purchased at the stores and much cheaper. First, an eight or nine-inch pie plate and four or five 20-cent size mayonnaise jars with screw lids. The pie plate and jar lids are painted with quick-drying paint and given a narrow edge of a contrasting color. I used Nile green for the body and rose pink for trimming. Use a flower transfer on top of each lid and a larger one in center of the tray."

A.: How very ingenious! For the young mother who is wondering what to put into the four or five little jars we suggest boric-acid water, absorbent cotton, toothpicks with cotton-wrapped ends, olive or mineral oil and white vaseline.

In order to complete the set, one needs also a metal soap container, a can of talcum, a box of assorted sizes of safety pins and a bath thermometer and scales. All of these might be bought untrimmed and painted similarly.

Commode as Bath Table

Mrs. W. H. S. suggests, along this line, the use of an old commode, scraped and painted and furnished with new handles and the rail removed from the top and the top padded. This makes a low table upon which baby can be bathed or changed, and the drawers hold everything in the way of clothes, diapers, washcloths and all toilet articles.

The more or less gloomy outlook is that the radio will go right back to the popular songs.

Pure Mercolized Wax Makes Skin Beautiful

You can keep your complexion soft and smooth as velvet by caring for it with pure mercolized wax. It frees the pores of all impurities, letting them breathe naturally. Mercolized wax gently peels off the thin outer layer of soiled, aged or weathered skin. Such surface blemishes as freckles, tan, moth patches, etc., quickly disappear. The under skin is then revealed, young, smooth and radiantly beautiful. Mercolized Wax brings out the hidden beauty. To quickly remove wrinkles and restore the smooth contour of youth, bathe the face daily in a lotion made of 1 ounce powdered saxolite and 1 half pint witch hazel. At all drug stores. —[Advertisement.

The New in Stores & Homes

Novelties, Ideas, and Suggestions

By OLIVE GRAY

[illegible]

in dress, otherwise the entire ensemblage—person and dress — are too altogether inexpressive.

Kitchen Ventilator

The kitchen ventilator, now forming part of the model and livable kitchen, is not a mere accessory devised by new modes in kitchenry, but is declared to be as effective in freeing the kitchen from greasy deposits, in keeping walls clean, as in freeing the air from cooking odors. Also, it is said that if the doors throughout the house are open this ventilator (fan) will cool the entire place quite effectively.

Her Trousseau

The bride whose clothes budget is somewhat restricted, yet not stingy, may find the following list of necessary garments helpful: White satin wedding gown, to be used later as an evening dress; going-away ensemble of celanese moire; woolen topcoat, chiffon dinner dress, dark-hued celanese satin or crepe afternoon dress, flowered chiffon afternoon dress, washable print dress for shopping, tricot or jersey dress for morning wear, two washable sport dresses of celanese crepe or taffeta, two house dresses, three hats (one to wear with ensemble, coat and afternoon dresses, one for shopping and morning wear, one for sports;) shoes and hose, accessories, lingerie. The latter items to correspond with the costumes chosen, of course.

Bride's Gifts

Not in many years have gifts for the bride been so easy to select. This is because, in every realm of personal or household possessions, all articles are so pleasing. From the most simple of dress accessories, such as handkerchiefs, hosiery, neckwear, gloves, garters, and the most trifling of home helps, such as kitchen utensils—every item possesses some touch of beauty. This is by reason of the color fad, now so sweepingly popular. Each article of use in kitchen or pantry possesses some touch of color, from the ice pick to the kitchen cabinet. Each piece for personal use or adornment may be chosen with the color scheme in mind. Scarves, lace vestees and neckwear sets, or along the line to costume or ensemble jewelry, whether entire collections are chosen or but single pieces, may be so selected as to receive from the recipient genuine thanks for the gift. Discriminating choice by the donor, also, will prove a permanent, or at least more than a passing, reminder of good taste and excellence in judgment.

Bridge Room

So important has the game become that entire rooms have been set aside in leading stores for favors and the accessories of bridge entertainments. As extensive as the gift sections in effect at holiday season, these rooms are of deep interest, not alone to lovers of the social game, but to any who wish to select interesting gifts. The entire store usually has contributed of its latest and most intriguing articles for the groups shown in these centers; thus affording valuable suggestions in gifting for all occasions.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

The Stuffy House

When returning to the house that has been shut up all day turn on the electric fan immediately and the stale and musty air will whiz right out of the window, making a fresh atmosphere almost at once.

Peace at Any Price

Try to avoid discussions and disagreements at the dinner table. It is a known fact that better digestion follows a happy meal. Wives will find that husbands are more amenable with comfortably filled stomachs than during the process of eating.

Wasted Money

Be sure to have a new washer put on that spigot that drips "just a little bit" before you go away for the summer. The drip may increase to a stream in your absence and you will wonder whatever happened to your water meter when you get your bill from the water bureau.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr. Frank McCoy
author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of the Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

PICNIC LUNCHES

Short mountain or beach camping trips are pleasant diversions, but those who are trying to live on a correct diet are often puzzled about the kind of lunch to take. The ordinary picnic lunches consisting of weiners, pickles, potato chips and baked beans, etc., do not seem to fit in with a dietary regime.

Usually, the breakfast and dinner can be eaten at home, and the principal problem is with the lunches which must be prepared in the morning to be kept in good condition for lunch.

Wholesome sandwiches can be prepared from whole-wheat bread with the addition of lettuce leaves, cabbage leaves or chopped celery, and some filling such as sliced meat, cheese, eggs, fish, olives, chicken, pork, ham or peanut butter. It is better to avoid the more elaborate layer sandwiches. It is also better to avoid using tomatoes and other acid fruits at the same time because of the starch contained in the bread.

The thermos bottle is a valuable asset to the short mountain or beach trips. There are two principal kinds, one for liquids with a narrow mouth, and one for solid foods with a wide opening at the top. Some campers prefer to use a fireless cooker in place of the thermos bottle. Various foods can be placed in the cooker while very hot and they will be cooked and still warm by lunchtime. If neither the thermos bottle nor fireless cooker is available, one may obtain a similar effect by wrapping hot pots with close-fitting lids in many thicknesses of newspaper. The newspaper acts as an insulator and prevents the rapid escape of heat from the vessel.

There are three types of food combinations which can be used to advantage on picnic trips. The following are some good combinations which provide delicious luncheons and are at the same time highly nutritious:

(1.) Two or three sandwiches made of whole-wheat bread. Slice the bread before packing the lunch and wrap it in oil paper so the slices will not become too dry. Take along a small jar of fresh butter and also some of the fillings as mentioned in the first part of the article. Also take along a plentiful supply of lettuce leaves and, if desirable, some raw carrots and celery or a raw vegetable salad which can be made at home and packed in a jar.

(2.) One pint of raw certified milk sipped slowly while eating any one kind of the following fruits: Oranges, apples, peaches, berries, plums or cherries. Do not be afraid to use this combination, as the fruit and milk mix perfectly if no other food is used at the same time. Or, if you desire, you could take along a pint of certified milk and mix this with orange juice and shake vigorously. This is an easily digested combination. Bread or meat should not be used at the same time with this luncheon.

(3.) Cold broiled or roasted chicken or other meat, some cooked nonstarchy vegetables, such as string beans, and a salad of lettuce, tomatoes and cucumbers. The nonstarchy vegetables may be cooked at breakfast time and immediately put into thermos bottles, which will keep them hot until noon. The lettuce, tomatoes and cucumbers are best taken whole, wrapped in a moist cloth, and the salad prepared fresh when ready to use.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Well Water

Question: S. O. writes: "The water from our well looks like it had brick dust in it, and we use this rusty-looking water for drinking, cooking, etc. Kindly let me know if it is harmful."

Answer: I believe the best plan would be for you to distill the water before using it for cooking or drinking. The brick color may not be an indication of any poisonous material, but it is not advisable to use water for drinking or cooking which contains too much inorganic mineral substance.

Dandelions

Q.: G. M. R. asks: "Will you please give me the food value of dandelions?"

A.: Dandelions are especially rich in potassium, sodium, calcium, magnesium and silicon, but do not have much caloric or heating value. They are a form of "greens" valuable in the diet, and should be used whenever obtainable.

Aching in Hips

Q.: J. M. G. writes: "I notice when I go to bed, if I lie on either side for an hour or so my hip bone aches, but as soon as I turn on my back this passes off. What could cause my sides to bother me this way? They seem all right during the daytime."

A.: It might be caused by a slight inflammation of the nerves which aching is made more pronounced by pressure, but I would suggest that you have a careful examination made of the lower spine by a good osteopath or chiropractor to determine if there is any nerve pressure present.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

VEAL MARENGO

Cut leftover roast veal into one-inch squares, there should be two and one-half cupfuls, remove all the skin, fat and gristle, place in a saucepan two tablespoonfuls of butter and one sliced onion, simmer slowly until the onion is a light brown; remove the onion, and reserve. Add to the butter left in the saucepan three tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until brown; add one and three-quarters cupfuls of meat stock, and half a cupful of tomato puree, stir and cook until smooth; add the cooked onion, veal, a seasoning of salt and paprika, bring to a boil, reduce the heat and simmer until thoroughly heated. Five minutes before serving add twelve ripe olives, and half a can of French mushrooms.

MOLDED RHUBARB

Three cupfuls of finely diced rhubarb, one cupful of water, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, one-half a cupful of cornstarch, and a few grains of salt, place the rhubarb and water in a saucepan, and boil until soft; add the sugar, ten minutes before the rhubarb has finished cooking; mix the cornstarch with one cupful of cold water to a smooth paste, add the rhubarb, place in a double boiler, and cook for twenty minutes; pour into a mold, wet with cold water, and allow to harden; serve cold with a fruit sauce.

SPANISH STRING BEANS

Four tablespoonfuls of butter, two large onions, two tomatoes, one tablespoonful of flour, one chili pepper, two pounds of green string beans, a seasoning of salt and paprika; place the butter in a saucepan, add the onions sliced, tomatoes, and chili pepper. Allow to cook until a golden brown, then brown the flour, add the string beans and sufficient boiling water to keep them from burning. Season and let cook until the beans are tender.

FIG JAM

Remove the stems from three pounds of firm figs, sprinkle with half a cupful of baking soda, pour over three quarts of boiling water, let stand for fifteen minutes, drain and rinse well with clear cold water, let drain well, place in a preserving kettle, add half a cupful of water, and bring slowly to a boil, add three cupfuls of sugar, and boil until thick and clear, pack in hot jars, cap and process in simmering water for twenty minutes. Cool and seal tight.

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

CENSORING HIS READING

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

Of course you want your child to read good books. Of course you want to protect his young mind from all that is vulgar, tawdry and misleading.

Perhaps you attempt to censor his reading. Thus certain magazines may not come into the house—certain books on the library shelves are taboo. And then you think you have accomplished what you set out to do. You haven't. But you have succeeded in attaching to forbidden books those wicked twin emotions, guilt and fascination.

It is not possible to protect any child from the printed evidence of the more distressing manifestations of human nature—not at least while there are news stands and corner stationery stores in the land, not as long as he can read billboards, attend the movies or ride in public conveyances. For everywhere the printed word shouts to him. Everywhere the alluring covers of certain types of magazines invite him to explore their contents.

It is a morbidly conscientious and timorous child who, if certain things have been held in mysterious taboo, does not at once take steps to investigate. Your fears for his future welfare would be the more justified if he did not do just that.

The safest course is one which may cause you to quake. Give him full permission to read and discuss anything he likes. Give him at the same time plenty of good, interesting things to read.

Then one day if you do find him with an unpleasant magazine or a volume of Rabelais that he has found on your top shelf, don't get excited. Remember that some of the nicest people you know have dipped into this sort of thing and that it did not permanently impair their morals.

If you want your child to keep healthy keep him away from people who have colds or are ill. If you must call on sick people arrange for the youngster to stay with someone or else play outside.

KHJ WILL HAVE THEME CONCERT

Music Setting Woven Around Famous Taj Mahal

"Two Boys" Will Furnish New Fun Series

Light Opera to Be Feature at 8 o'Clock

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

A theme program, a half-hour of mirthful melodies, light opera and a variety broadcast will be the offerings of KHJ, the Don Lee station, tonight between 7 and 10 o'clock.

The 7 o'clock thirty-minute period will be in the form of a theme program of oriental character. The musical setting is woven around the famous Taj Mahal and will feature orchestral groups and the studio singers.

This will be followed with a new series by "The Two Boys" at 7:30 o'clock, during which time Don and Mart are scheduled to furnish some mirthful melodies, humorous songs and skits. Orchestral accompaniment also will be furnished for some of the tunes.

Then the 8 o'clock weekly light opera broadcast will be on the air, but no advance details have been released.

Variety will feature the 9 p.m. schedule. The singers and orchestra will present "The March of the Hussars," from the popular operetta, "Rosalie."

Vocal solos will be in the form of "Linden Lea," an old English ballad, and "Ah, Moon of My Delight," both of which will be tenor solos by Carl Omeron.

Duet numbers will feature Eloise Kirkpatrick and Martin Daugherty in "When I Met You," from "The Nightingale," and "Lantern of Love," from "Castles in the Air."

Mona Content, staff pianist, assisted by the orchestra, will present her own interpretation of a favorite negro spiritual, "Deep River."

RADIO CENSUS REJECTED BY HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 12. (Exclusive)—Efforts of Senator Dill of Washington to obtain a count of radio receivers, in connection with the census of population which is to be made next winter, received a setback when the House of Representatives, without debate, accepted an amendment striking out that provision, which had been inserted by the Senate.

TWO COUNTY HEADS TO FALL

Supervisors Abolish Positions in Welfare Work to Put Charities Bureau on Economy Basis

Elimination of the position of superintendent of county welfare and chief case supervisor as a division under the county charities department was affected through action of the Board of Supervisors at a special session Monday afternoon, it was announced last night.

The action of the board in which an amendment was voted to county salary ordinance No. 1670, will result in the discharge on July 10 of R. R. Miller, head of the welfare division for the past two years, and Emily M. Wooley, case supervisor and Miller's assistant.

The abolishing of the two positions was described by Supervisor Shaw, who introduced the amended ordinance, and who has supervision of the county charities department, with W. H. Holland as superintendent, as a reorganization move and an attempt to put the bureau on a more economical basis.

"I instructed Holland some time ago to cut down on his overhead and to operate his department with less expense," Shaw said. "He told me that he could easily do away with the positions held by Miller and Wooley, and take over this part of the charities work himself. I introduced the amended ordinance to abolish the positions, and now the operation is on his shoulders. It is in line with the same action that was taken at the County Farm, and will result in reducing the cost to the taxpayers, but should not interfere or lessen the outdoor relief work, such as has been carried on by the two persons to be relieved of their positions."

No curtailment of county outdoor relief work will result from the elimination of the two positions, according to Supt. Holland. "I found the relief bureau of my office top-heavy," said Holland, "and became convinced that the work could be handled by myself and an assistant. This will result in a saving of $635 per month in salary, with no cut-down in the work, and I suggested the amended ordinance as an economy move to Supervisor Shaw.

"There has been some criticism of the work of the department under Miller, and a grand jury report charged him with exceeding his budget. I could see no remedy except abolishment of the two positions and the taking over of the work. This will be done. At present I am being assisted by Mrs. Wilcox under a temporary appointment, as she is not eligible under civil service rules. I expect to name my assistant soon."

Holland deplored the criticism that he says has been made of the action of the Board of Supervisors by social and welfare bodies, not acquainted with the situation, and urged that the board be upheld for the move to cut down the expenses of the department.

SITE FOR SIGNALS GRANTED

On recommendation of General Manager Edwards the Harbor Board yesterday granted the request of the fire and police-signal division of the Building and Safety Department for lease of an area on Fries street, just north of the fire-engine house, Wilmington, for a central signal station. The commission waived payment of rental and application fee for the area. The central signal system is to cost around $60,000.

EXPERTS SEE MAMMOTH FREIGHT CAR

Largest of Its Type Here from East With Load of Structural Steel

Transportation experts and railway engineers trekked to the Llewellyn plant of the Consolidated Steel Corporation, North Main Street, yesterday where they stood with much interest before an ordinary looking steel freight car. Yet it was not an ordinary car by any means. It has two records—it is the largest car of its type in the country, carrying the largest weight of any freight car, and it is the first of its kind ever to come to the Pacific Coast. There are but two other cars of its type in the United States. All three were built by the Carnegie Steel Company for the shipment of heavy structural steel.

Built entirely of steel the new freight leviathan, which came to town attached to a Union Pacific train yesterday, is 68ft. 9in. long, nearly 50 per cent longer than the average freight car, eight and one-half feet in width, and is capable of handling a load of 140,000 pounds—seventy tons. The car yesterday contained the first structural steel for the new home of the Federal Reserve Bank in Los Angeles.

"The car is especially interesting," said A. G. Brown, manager of sales for the United States Steel Products Company, local representatives for Carnegie, "because it marks a step in advancement of huge overland shipments to the Pacific Coast."

PARK PROJECT DELAY GRANTED

Santa Monica Canyon Levy Hearing Postponed

Appeals Will be Presented on August 12, Next

Owners Reported Working on Plan to Cut Cost

Another postponement was granted by the City Council yesterday to the property owners who are fighting the confirmation of the assessments fixed for the acquisition of four acres of land in the Santa Monica Canyon condemned for park purposes. The tract lies northeast of Short street, between Center street and West Channel Road.

The next date set for hearing appeals against the confirmation of the assessments is August 12. In asking that the matter be put over Councilman Webster, within whose district the proposed park lies, reminded the Council that negotiations are under way whereby the property owners who are assessed are endeavoring to persuade the owners of the land in the tract to accept less for it than the amounts awarded by the courts.

He said that the sentiment against acquiring the land at what is regarded as an exorbitant figure is so strong that the opposing property owners will ask to have the whole project abandoned if the land owners do not consent to the lower prices, even though the property owners will have to pay the entire costs of the proceedings to date, which amount to more than $20,000.

The amount of the court awards for the twenty-two lots in the tract is $279,992.40, or about $70,000 an acre. At the time the proceedings were initiated, Councilman Webster said, it had been estimated that the whole cost of the project would be $105,000, the cost of the land being estimated at $85,000 and the other $20,000 being for its development as a park.

BRICKYARD CROPS UP IN BELL PLANS

Cement Plant's Engineer, However, Not Informed on All Employer's Schemes

Wilkie Woodard, chief engineer for Alphonzo Bell, "doesn't know" whether Bell intends to start a tile and brickyard in connection with his proposed cement rock quarry in the Santa Monica Mountains, Woodard testified last night at the City Planning Commission's hearing on Bell's application for a permit to operate. Woodard didn't know, either, he further stated, what other industries his employer might contemplate locating in the area.

The testimony was brought out under questioning by Attorney Thorwald Siegfried, representing a group of property-owner protestants of Bell's plans. Siegfried first recalled to the engineer's mind that Bell, in a previous application for a cement plant as well as a quarry, had asked to maintain a brick and tile manufactory.

Throughout the questioning, however, Woodard, although chief engineer for the applicant, denied that he knew any of Bell's future industrial schemes.

Woodard's testimony was practically complete at the end of last night's session and Bell himself is scheduled to be the next and last witness for the applicants when the hearing is resumed next Tuesday afternoon. The engineer testified less than an hour last night, the remainder of the evening being consumed with the introduction of documents showing the zoning restrictions of various subdivisions included in the area adjacent to the proposed quarry.

UNITED ARTISTS CLOSE NEW DEAL

Schenck in New York Gives News of Arrangement

Merger of Forces Not Part of Plan, He States

Joseph M. Schenck, president and chairman of the board of United Artists, yesterday made the announcement in New York that he had closed a deal for the release of United Artists pictures through the Paramount Famous Lasky distribution system.

According to dispatches from the East, Schenck arranged with Paramount for the sale of $3,000,000 debenture bonds at par. The proceeds of the issue are to be used, he said, in part for the liquidation of bank loans and the balance for the expansion of the United Artists production.

Details of the transaction were not a surprise to Hollywood inasmuch as reports have been in circulation since the proposed Warner Brothers-United Artists merger fell through, that the United Artists would merge with Paramount.

The deal announced yesterday is not in any respect a merger, Schenck announcing that the contract merely applies to the release of United Artists pictures through Paramount. This means that Paramount will release pictures with such stars as Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Charles Chaplin, Norma Talmadge, Gloria Swanson, and D. W. Griffith and Samuel Goldwyn productions.

According to Schenck, the Paramount organization does not become a stockholder in United Artists but merely the distributor of its pictures.

"By such an arrangement," Schenck is quoted as saying, "we will be able to continue to make quality motion pictures for distribution through United Artists which Paramount will be able to play in theaters owned and controlled by it."

The announcement of the failure of the proposed $60,000,000 United Artists-Warner Brothers merger came several weeks ago from New York. It is said, however, that the deal for the consolidation of all of the United Artists activities into one group will materialize, drawing all of the subsidiary companies under the presidency of Schenck.

BOND FOR MEADOWS LOWERED

Suspect Held in $26,000 Osborne Pardoning Fraud Wins Court Clash

George Rush Meadows, charged in a grand jury indictment with the theft of $26,542, yesterday won a technical victory in his fight when he appeared before Superior Judge Shaw and after taking the witness stand and testifying succeeded in having his bond reduced from $100,000 to $26,000.

Meadows is charged with having obtained $26,542 from Mr. and Mrs. John E. Osborne and Mrs. John R. Osborne upon representations that he could obtain a commutation of sentence for John R. Osborne, now confined in Leavenworth Federal prison.

The reduction in Meadow's bond was approved by Superior Judge Shaw following an argument by John Cooper, attorney for Meadows, in which he asserted that the bond should not exceed the amount of funds which the defendant is accused of appropriating.

Meadows announced that he expects to furnish the required amount of bond and effect his release from the County Jail today.

The defendant is accused of using a commutation of sentence blank bearing the purported signature of Former President Coolidge to persuade the Osbornes to give him funds to pay for the asserted expense of obtaining it, according to investigators.

NATIVE WOMEN IN CELEBRATION

Daughters of Golden West Observe Anniversary

Affair at Historic Adobe Charming Event

Memorial Planned Saturday for Mrs. Foster

BY MYRA NYE

A charming and significant event was the meeting of the California Chapter of the Native Daughters of the Golden West yesterday, when the members celebrated the first anniversary of their organization in the Avila adobe on Olvera street. Mrs. Harry Leigh Bentley, chairman of California history and landmarks, was in charge of the affair, which was a tea from 3 until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The presentation of a Bear Flag, an address by Isadore Dockweiler and the cutting of the birthday cake were features of the afternoon enjoyed not only by the Native Daughters of this chapter, but by members of other local chapters and by the Native Sons.

Receiving were: Mrs. W. H. Chambers, Mrs. A. O. Evans, Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish, Mrs. C. E. Noerenberg, Mrs. T. G. Duffy, Mrs. Byron L. Carr, Mrs. C. H. O'Brien, Mrs. A. E. MacGreager, Mrs. Bentley, and the Misses Jane Quinn, Florence Steinike and Mary Foy. At the tea urns were Mrs. Ed H. Anthony, Mrs. Dick Smith, Mrs. Edward H. Hertz and Miss Anna Desmond. This friendly get-together was to show the chapter's co-operation and interest in restoration of the Avila adobe, the oldest in the city.

Delegates for the convention to be held in Santa Cruz, on the 17th inst., are Mrs. Arthur Wright, Miss Mary Foy, Mrs. Martha Decker and Miss Florence Steinike. Their alternates include: Mmes. C. E. Noerenberg, Ralph Tuttle, Dick Smith and Edward Taber.

Officers newly elected are: Mrs. Arthur Wright, president; Miss Mary Foy, first vice-president; Mrs. C. E. Noerenberg, second vice-president; Mrs. Ralph Tuttle, third vice-president; trustees, Mmes. Isabella Joughin Grans, Guy Oliver, Catherine O'Brien; treasurer, Mrs. William Behm; financial secretary, Mrs. Hortense Steinike; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles M. Corbit; marshal, Mrs. Edward Taber; outside sentinel, Mrs. Ethel Hearst; inside sentinel, Mrs. Ruth Paris; organist, Mrs. Mary Belle Chapman.

Mrs. Chambers, first vice-president; Mrs. Evans, second vice-president, and Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish, third vice-president, retired from their offices having served for one year and declining further nomination.

Mrs. Foster Memorial

In memory of Mrs. E. K. Foster, who passed on recently, the Friday Morning Club will meet in the auditorium of the clubhouse at 940 South Figueroa, Saturday at 10:30 a.m. Speakers for the memorial will be: Mrs. Florence Moore Kreider, Mrs. O. P. Clark, Mrs. Everett Perry, Mrs. Myron Westover and Mrs. John J. Abrahamson. Mrs. Foster was a charter member of the club and as a young woman closely associated with Mrs. Severance, the founder and first president. Friends of Mrs. Foster are invited to this meeting.

Matinee Musical Club

Today occurs the annual luncheon of the Matinee Musicale Club in the Fiesta Room of the Ambassador.

Mrs. Mae Shumway Enderly of Wilshire Boulevard, prominent Los Angeles harpist, is the newly elected president of the club.

Wilshire Juniors

A farewell dinner to junior membership will be given by the Wilshire juniors tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Mary Louise Tea Room. While the juniors themselves do not publicly admit it, this function is undoubtedly a little gesture of protest against the action of the seniors for the dissolution of the junior group.

Miss Cleo Dennstedt, press chairman for the young women, recounts the achievements of the juniors as something worth maintaining. Organized three years ago by Mrs. Walter Hubner, the organization has won the admiration and respect of the other junior clubs in the district, says Miss Dennstedt. Among the benefits are the bridge teas to raise funds for the Bide-a-Wee home. Other benefits have been given for the World War veterans at Sawtelle.

Last spring Mrs. Hubner was elected to represent all juniors of California at the general federation biennial convention at San Antonio, Tex. This year she presided at the junior conference at Santa Cruz.

Philanthropy and Civics Club

Today is called children's day at the Philanthropy and Civics Club in Wilton Place. Child psychology, their ills, ways and means of alleviating them will be the subject of discussion. Preston T. Slayback, business executive of the Orthopaedic Hospital School, will be the chief after-luncheon speaker.

CO-ED HIKING PARTY MEETS NEAR TRAGEDY

Two pretty co-eds yesterday had a miraculous escape from death and thus terminated abruptly a merry collegiate hiking party of which they were members, when one lost her balance as she approached a high summit in Griffith Park, and fell, carrying the other with her, to the rocks nearly fifty feet below.

The injured girls are Bernice Duncan, 20 years of age, of 4133 Marathon street, and Phyllis Crow, 17, of 3559 Las Flores street, Lynwood. Both are students at the California Christian College.

As Miss Duncan was scaling Bee Rock, the highest point in the park, she slipped and toppled over the edge. Miss Crow, who was directly behind her, attempted to prevent the plunge, but in doing so was knocked off her balance, she too falling off the trail. Miss Duncan dropped straight down about fifty feet, then rolled more than a hundred feet before the ground leveled out and checked further descent. Miss Crow managed to obtain a foothold after she had fallen fifteen feet.

C. M. Wilhite, who was following the girls up the trail, attracted the attention of Joe Zepleff, park foreman, and J. H. Bohanan, park policeman. They made their way to the girls and were forced to carry them more than a mile to transfer them to an ambulance.

After treatment at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for a severely lacerated scalp and injuries to the back and hip, Miss Duncan was able to go home. Her companion suffered only a slightly wrenched knee.

Counterfeiting, Burglary and Arms Sale Revealed

Ex-Policeman Held as Owner of Contraband

As a sequel to the arrest a week ago of Mrs. Myrtle Cohen on suspicion of counterfeiting, Clifton M. Shirley, former Los Angeles policeman, yesterday was arrested on a warrant charging possession of a machine-gun. He was taken in custody by Detective-Lieutenant Robertson and held in $5000 bail.

It is charged that the former officer, who is local agent for the California Arms Company of San Francisco, sold the gun to Morris Cohen, husband of Mrs. Myrtle Cohen, in whose apartment police say they found it on the 6th inst., when they raided the place and discovered, according to their report, $800 in assertedly counterfeit $20 bills.

ENDLESS CHAIN

While Shirley's arrest resulted from a police find in the Cohen apartment, the raid on that place, on the other hand, came about, strangely enough, through the previous arrest of the ex-officer on the 3rd inst., when he was taken in custody on a suspicion of burglary charge involving $10,000. Shortly afterward he was exonerated without trial and upon his release he reported his apartment at 2020 Wilshire Boulevard had been burglarized. Among the articles he listed as having been stolen were a machine-gun and an assortment of small arms.

While police were investigating, George Wunderlich, 18 years of age, was arrested on a burglary charge, police asserting a night watchman had caught him in the act of robbing a grocery store at 11850 South Main street. His fingerprints, according to the officers, tallied with those found at Shirley's apartment.

Through Wunderlich's arrest, police learned of the address of Mrs. Cohen at 11680 Blue street. When police went there and found the boxed machine-gun Mrs. Cohen disclaimed ownership of it, saying she did not know what the box contained. In addition to the suspicion of counterfeiting charge she, too, was booked for possession of a machine-gun. According to Detective-Lieutenant Robertson, Shirley sold the gun to Morris Cohen. Shirley denied this.

Cohen is said by police to be wanted by the Federal authorities as leader of a counterfeiting ring.

SUNSET FUND ALLOCATED

Council Approves Recommendation for $60,000 to Defray Boulevard Improvement Cost

Allocation of an additional $60,000 to the projected improvement of Sunset Boulevard between Normandie avenue and Laurel Canyon Road was voted by Council yesterday on the joint recommendation of its Public Works and Finance Committees. An allocation of $50,000 already had been made to the project on the understanding that the property owners would present a petition for a seventy-foot roadway. At present the roadway is sixty feet wide.

The Public Works Committee report yesterday pointed out that in the petition now being circulated the property owners agree to pay the full cost of the paving of the present sixty-foot roadway and also for a storm drain which it is estimated will cost $47,500.

The petition, however, requests that the city pay the full cost of constructing five-foot cement gutters and new curbs on both sides of Sunset Boulevard between Normandie and Fairfax avenues. The committee report pointed out that the cost of this gutter and curb construction is estimated at $110,000, and it was on that basis that the additional $60,000 allocation was recommended.

In recommending that the improvement be carried forward on the basis requested by the property owners, the Public Works Committee report characterized the request of the property owners as reasonable. Another request in the petition which received the Council's assent is that no trees shall be removed in connection with the work except the trees at curb intersections which would be affected by curb returns or in places where there is a double row of trees and an inner row will be left when the outer row has been removed.

Junior Chamber Omits Speakers

A lively program of entertainment, with all after-dinner talkers omitted, will feature the luncheon meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce today noon at the Biltmore. The luncheon is being given by the Young Business Man, the official organ of the Junior Chamber, according to Caine Farrell, editor and in charge of arrangements.

The program features Johnny Hines, who will serve as master of ceremonies; Lina Basquette, Myrna Kennedy, Dorothy Dwan, Barbara Kent, Mary McAllister, Edward Everett Horton and Sylvia Fields.

FITTS TARGET FOR NEW FIRE

er he took office. He had to cut down his staff to make room for more experienced men, he said.

"The people demanded a change," he declared. "I was acting according to my sense of public duty."

At the afternoon session of the hearing, a long procession of justices of the peace, Municipal and Superior Court judges took the stand, mostly to speak a good word for former Dep. Dist.-Attys. Heinicke, Ey and Fee. Heinicke had been in the District Attorney's office since 1910.

Among these character and efficiency witnesses were Superior Judges Edmonds, Blake, Hardy, Hanby, Schmidt, Collier, Westover and Rosenkrans, Municipal Judges Ambrose, Ballard, Frederickson, MacCoy, Haas and Russill and Justice Northrup of Alhambra, Justice Garrett of Santa Monica and Justice White of Pomona. A number of other judges previously had testified.

POLITICS SUSPECTED

Testifying for himself, Mr. Heinicke inserted the issue of "politics" into the controversy when he asserted he believes he was dismissed because he wasn't an active supporter of Fitts for Lieutenant-Governor.

Mr. Fee, in explaining what he said were reasons for his dismissal, declared that he had been told that Fitts resented the fact that his deputy, Fee, had filed fifty-six charges against slot-machine operators, thirty of which charges later were brought to trial.

"The cases not only were dismissed," Fee said, "but all the money and machines were given back to their owners, on their promise to be good and not violate the law any more."

Fee subpoenaed Charles Zaring, clerk of the Belvedere Justice's Court, to substantiate his assertions.

Mr. Hart also took the stand to show that his record in the District Attorney's office was not one of inefficiency. He convicted forty-nine out of fifty defendants he tried, he said, and offered records to prove it. The appellant also sketched his legal career.

Other character and efficiency witnesses called were Dr. Frank H. Chase, for Mr. Hart, and Bert Ramsey and Jack Dymond, former District Attorney's investigators, for the other appellants.

Another speaker at the hearing was Neal P. Olsen, who made a plea for the inclusion of sufficient funds in the appropriation for the police department to permit the department to station more policemen in the Wilshire district.

CITY'S RISE AMAZES VISITOR

Sanitation Expert of Shanghai Recalls Small Size of Los Angeles in 1904

Amazed at the tremendous growth of Los Angeles since 1904, the year of his last visit here, Herbert Bland, chief of the sanitation division of Shanghai, arrived at the Clark yesterday, preparatory to a trip to Europe and a visit to his former home in England.

"There was nothing here to indicate, in 1904, the stupendous progress Los Angeles was destined to make," he said. "I do not mean that the city appeared backward or sleepy, but there was nothing on the surface that would indicate that in twenty-five years it would become one of the really large cities of the world. I recall that, on the Pacific Coast, San Francisco was the great metropolis in those days."

PROUD OF SHANGHAI

Declining, because of his position with the Chinese government, to discuss anything of a political nature connected with China, the visitor, nevertheless, displayed genuine pride in the city in whose government he holds an important post.

"Sanitary conditions in Shanghai, while not of the best, are quite satisfactory, considering that the city has a population of 1,000,000 Chinese," Mr. Bland said. "Chinese, you know, have some rather curious ideas about sanitation, so the task of the city sanitation department is not an easy one. However, the death rate in Shanghai compares favorably with cities of America and Europe. Among the foreign population the death rate is about seventeen per 1000. Among the Chinese it runs from 18 to 20 per 1000. So you see, conditions are not so bad."

PROGRESS MADE

"The Nationalist government, now in control in China, has made more progress in the past six months than any other government that China has had in a similar period of time," Mr. Bland asserted. "The foreigner in China hopes for great things from the new government, and every indication is that the government will not disappoint," he declared.

Shanghai's population is divided into two groups, foreigners and Chinese. There are about 42,000 of the former and about 1,000,000 of the latter inside the city, while another 1,000,000 Chinese dwell within a small radius outside, he explained.

Mr. Bland, following a visit on the continent, expects to return to his duties in China in November of this year, and will return to his post by way of the Suez. He will be in Los Angeles for several days.

SONS AND FATHERS BANQUET

Good Will Industries Bring Two Generations Together for Better Understanding

"It's not always the questions, fired at them by their inquisitive sons, that make many fathers nervous. More often it's the answers," Grant Elwood Sheppard, a 13-year-old boy, told a group of fathers last night at a banquet for fathers and sons given by the Good Will Industries.

Young Grant, who debated with his father the question of responsibility for the difficulties of the younger generation of today, said that a lack of understanding was the greatest handicap boys of the present day had to battle against.

"We live in a world built by adults, for adults. We first wonder and later seek to learn," the youthful speaker said. "Often, however, our queries fall upon unsympathetic ears and are either answered in a vague or unsatisfactory way or else ignored."

In his plea for a better understanding between fathers and sons, the young speaker said that a boy admired his parent more for admitting that he "didn't always know it all" than for "assuming that boys were always wrong."

Nearly 100 fathers and sons attended the banquet which was held in the chapel room of the Good Will Industries building at 342 North Main street, at which Dr. Sheldon Sheppard, Grant's father, also spoke. F. H. Blair, superintendent of the industries, presided as toastmaster of the gathering which was composed of members of all departments of the institution.

The father and son banquet was preceded by a mother and daughter dinner some few weeks ago.

Foresters Pick Frank E. Hand for High Honor

Advices were received here yesterday announcing the unanimous election of Frank E. Hand, Sr., of Los Angeles as supreme chief ranger of the Independent Order of Foresters at Toronto.

FRANK E. HAND SR.

Mr. Hand has been a resident of Los Angeles more than twenty-five years and came to the coast as superintendent of organizers. He and Supreme Physician Dr. C. B. Dickson, also of this city, originated the medical, hospital and surgical system of benefits now general throughout the order.

He built the sanatorium in Lopez Canyon, the first Forester Building on Olive street, the present building at 1329 South Hope street and the Foresters Inn at Avalon. He is the originator of the order's Purple Cross relief work and is the official Santa Claus of the order.

Woman Flyers to Boost Derby

Helping to herald the women's air derby scheduled for next August, Marvel Crosson and Bobby Trout, holders respectively of the women's altitude and endurance-flight records, will hop off at 7 a.m. today on a good-will flight to Stockton and Modesto. They will go not as pilots, however, but as passengers in a party sponsored by Lee Cronk, president of the California Affiliated Exchange Clubs, the Santa Monica Bay District branch which is the organization behind the August derby to Cleveland.

The flight will be made in the Richfield Oil Company's tri-motored Fokker plane from Vail Field. After a landing at Stockton for lunch, the party will proceed to Modesto, where they will attend a banquet of the northern district exchange clubs tonight.

Besides Miss Crosson and Miss Trout, the party will consist of Mr. Cronk's son, L. W. Keith, president of the Santa Monica Bay District Exchange Club, Dudley Steel, in charge of Richfield's aviation department, Lieut. Duff Wilson, manager of Clover Field, and Mrs. S. W. Sweeley, wife of Lieut. Sweeley, commanding the Air Corps Reserve at Clover Field. The return hop will be made tomorrow morning.

BROKEN GUN UNDOING OF EX-CONVICT

Suspect Declared to Have Confessed Hold-ups After Tip Leads to Arrest

The bent trigger-guard of a revolver yesterday led to the arrest of Charles Boyle of 1502 West Pico street on suspicion of robbery, and an admission, according to the police, that he is an ex-convict and the perpetrator of two recent Los Angeles hold-ups.

Boyle left the damaged weapon with F. J. Jennings, a gunsmith, of 609 South Olive street, to be repaired. When Jennings asked him how the trigger-guard had been bent out of shape, Boyle offered no explanation. Suspicious, the gunsmith notified the police and Detective-Lieutenants Wessel and O'Connor of Georgia-street division went to the Pico-street address and took Boyle in custody.

Under questioning, the detectives reported he admitted having attacked Ernest Kirkbright of 155 Ingraham street, last week, and robbed him of $55 and a gold watch. Another of his asserted victims is William Griffin of 1038 South Union street, who was robbed of $5.

Further grilling, according to the officers, developed an admission by Boyle that he served a term of two years and seven months for burglary in Huntsville, Tex., and another of two years for the theft of an automobile in Arizona.

HARBOR-WORK AID ASSURED

Senator and Representatives Join Los Angeles Fight for More Government Improvements

Co-operation of United States Senator Shortridge and Representatives Joe Crail and W. E. Evans of California in aiding the Harbor Commission to get favorable government action toward completion of dredging for the inner and outer harbor of Los Angeles was assured in letters from the three read to the commission yesterday by Secretary Rouse.

The program consists of five important dredging projects, recently announced, which will widen all narrow channels, remove all shoals and deepen the east side of the main channel entrance by removal of more than 6,000,000 cubic yards of soil.

Senator Shortridge inclosed a communication from Brig.-Gen. Herbert Deakne, acting chief of engineers for the War Department, suggesting the request for action be included in the next rivers and harbors bill, authorizing the War Department to make an examination and survey of the proposed plan.

Representative Evans emphasized the importance of getting the matter before the Committee on Rivers and Harbors at the December session of Congress, by recommending an appropriation.

Representative Crail inclosed a letter from S. Wallace Dempsey, chairman of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors for the House of Representatives, in which Dempsey said he will be glad to bring the attention of the committee to the subject when California matters next come under consideration.

Funds Voted to Clear Way for Improvement

An appropriation of $10,190 was made by the City Council yesterday to allow work on the improvement of Gower street between Hollywood Boulevard and Melrose avenue to proceed at an early date. The Board of Public Works was requested to readvertise for bids.

The proceedings had been completed and the contract awarded to the Griffith Company when that company refused to sign the contract after learning that a five-foot strip on the west side of Gower street from Sunset Boulevard to a point 280 feet south of Sunset Boulevard never had been dedicated for street purposes and is the property of Mrs. Marie Blandeau. The amount appropriated yesterday is to be used for the purchase of this strip.

Sargon, however, far beyond the boundary foreign countries are clamoring for it. So insistent has become this demand that plans have already been made to establish a branch plant in Canada within the next sixty days. Plans are also being perfected and trade marks have been copyrighted in all leading countries so that it is easily within the realm of possibility that Sargon will become a household word throughout the entire civilized world, with an annual sales volume of from 25,-00,000 to 50,000,000 bottles. This requires no vivid stretch of the imagination, for the reason that this new scientific formula is now generally conceded to be unquestionably the one great outstanding health-giving remedy of the age, with an unsurpassed scientific background, bridging the gap between old-fashioned moss-grown beliefs and modern, scientific truths.

Why this phenomenal success? Why has Sargon become the sensation of the drug trade and a household word in every state and section wherever it is known?

The answer is simple. Sargon is a new kind of medicine. It is unlike any other medicine ever placed on the American market, representing, as it does, the very latest knowledge of medical science on modern therapy.

Back of Sargon's triumph in the drug stores is Sargon's triumph in the homes—for it is restoring health to untold thousands by methods undreamed of only a few years ago.

Not only has it restored countless thousands to renewed health, strength and vigor, but it has lifted other thousands of depressed, discouraged, half-sick men and women, out of the throes of despondency and has given them a new lease on life and a renewed zest for living.

Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

GILBERT JOINS EQUITY FOES

Actor Can See No Benefit in Closed Picture Shop

Believes Chances for Fame Better Without Union

Prefers Solving Problems in His Own Way

John Gilbert, another nationally known member of Actors' Equity Association, came to the front yesterday with a question as to why Equity officials are trying to force a closed Equity shop upon the motion-picture industry. He said he sees no need for Equity in picture work and pointed out that he rose to his present position in the film colony from $15 a week without any help from Equity. Gilbert pledges himself on the producers' side in event of a concentrated move on the part of Equity.

JOHN GILBERT

"Never in history," he said, "has individual expression played so great a part in the efforts of men as is true of the motion-picture business. Great stars rise from obscurity overnight into unheard of and undreamed of position and prestige. Such a condition is most certainly not the result of group control, therefore I do not see how control by Equity could benefit anyone in or connected with the motion-picture business.

STATEMENT UNBIASED

"I have been acting in movies fifteen years. I started at a salary of $15 a week. I solved all my problems by myself without the assistance of any group agency. I have been broke and hungry on many occasions. No one rushed to my assistance.

"What I am about to say is not through fear of any future action on the part of my employers. They cannot touch me in any way. My statement is entirely unbiased.

"The men for whom I work, despite our past differences in production values, have never heaped any injustices upon me, neither can I remember ever having suffered from privileges or rights denied me. This holds good not only of the recent years, but during my entire career in motion pictures. My present employers, in the past six years, have certainly been greatly instrumental in lifting me to the position which I at present maintain.

SPEAKS FROM EXPERIENCE

"I wish it understood that I am speaking from my experiences as a motion-picture actor.

"My principal worry at the moment is to conquer a new technique, difficult and exacting, which has entered my business. I should hate to have my desire to improve my work disturbed by any concentrated move on the part of Actors' Equity, of which I am a member. Should such a move take place I feel that my spirit of loyalty toward the men who have assisted me so greatly would direct my course of action."

At Equity headquarters it was announced that Powers Cinephone Equipment Corporation has pledged itself to Equity's side of the move to force a closed shop on the producers.

OLD GLORY WILL BE UNFURLED

Patriotic Society to Have Charge of Ceremony Tomorrow

Old Glory will be unfurled to the breeze atop the Broadway tunnel at 10 a.m. tomorrow, with formal ceremonies under the auspices of the National Society, United States Daughters of 1812.

The flag was donated by the city and it will be attended daily by the N.S.U.S.D. of 1812. Mazie Van Dergrift of 1725 South Normandie avenue will act as custodian of the flag.

New Plunge to Open Saturday

North Hollywood swimming pool, the latest addition to the system of Los Angeles municipal plunges, will be dedicated officially and put into service Saturday in an all-day celebration which will be held under the sponsorship of the Playground and Recreation Department and the citizens of the San Fernando Valley.

Free swimming for children and adults, diving and swimming exhibitions by members of the Los Angeles Athletic Club aquatic team, band music and other events will feature the exercises. Free swimming for everyone will take place from 9 a.m. to noon and from 4 to 9 p.m., according to the announcement of C. P. L. Nicholls, supervisor of aquatics.

The new swimming center includes a large plunge for regular swimmers and a smaller plunge for the children and instruction purposes.

KANSANS MEET TONIGHT

A popular program for Kansans will be offered this evening when they meet in the Veterans' Hall, 346 South Hill street. Every Jayhawker is included in the call. Following the program there will be dancing.

WALSH MAKES BRET HARTE STORY

Nance O'Neil Playing Featured Role in M.-G.-M. Film; Louise Fazenda Leaves Today for Alaskan Trip; Doris Keane May Sign for Talking Films

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Those authors whose stories will make good talking pictures will receive screen immortality, according to the present outlook. Among them is Bret Harte.

It is likely, we hear, that Raoul Walsh will make more than one of Harte's stories into talking films for Fox.

The first one to be made by the director, according to authentic report, will be Harte's "Salomy Jane," which is to follow "The Cock-Eyed World," if Walsh and Fox do not change their minds between now and then.

In the meantime, "The Cock-Eyed World" is nearing completion nicely, most of the scenes being made at the Westwood Fox studios, with Edmund Lowe and Victor McLaglen in the star parts.

NANCE O'NEIL WILL BE IN M.-G.-M. TALKER

It was quite a foregone conclusion that Nance O'Neil would remain among us and go into the talking pictures.

NANCE O'NEIL

We weren't surprised to hear, therefore, that the Belasco star, whom Simeon Gest brought from New York to appear in "The Silver Cord" and various other important stage productions at the Figueroa Playhouse, has been signed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to play a featured role in a talking picture.

Miss O'Neil has been cast in a featured role with Jack Gilbert in "Olympia," adapted from Ferenc Molnar's play, which Lionel Barrymore is directing, with Katherine Dale Owen in the leading feminine role opposite Gilbert. Miss O'Neil is a California girl who began her stage career with McKee Rankin, playing the classics. She became a Belasco star on Broadway in "The Lily."

Louise Fazenda Leaves Today

That lively young comedienne, Louise Fazenda, feels the need of a vacation, now that the hot weather is coming on and after spending so many sweltering hours under the Kleigs in the talking pictures.

LOUISE FAZENDA

She is leaving today, therefore, on a trip to Alaska, to be gone until July 9, next. She declares that she is taking the usual picture postcard trip, up to Muir Glacier and way stations.

Miss Fazenda lately completed a series of Christie comedies. She is a local hit in "On With the Show," current at Warner Brothers' Theater.

Doris Keane Takes Screen Test

While there is nothing definite yet about her signing with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, still the fact remains that Doris Keane, internationally famous stage actress, whose chief claim to fame perhaps rests on her long starring appearance in "Romance," is being given a screen talking test by M.-G.-M.

DORIS KEANE

Report is to the effect that M.-G.-M. officials, in common with the rest of the world, greatly admire Miss Keane, and it is said that a nice role awaits her in case the organization and star can get together regarding terms of contract in a picture to be made in the fall.

In the meantime, Miss Keane is proceeding with her preparations to spend the summer in her home near London. She is to sail from New York within two or three weeks.

Lupino Lane With Lasky

Lupino Lane having completed his series of comedies for Educational, and finding time hanging heavy on his hands, has signed with Paramount to play a featured role in "The Love Parade."

The comedian's work in the picture, which Ernst Lubitsch will direct, will be of the sort for which he is famous. He is known as one of the best of present-day pantomimists and stage clowns.

Kathleen Clifford in Talkers

Admirers of Kathleen Clifford will be delighted to know that there is every chance in the world that this amusing little comedienne, star of many musical comedies and vaudeville headliner, will return to pictures, this time in a musical comedy in which she was famous on the stage.

As it happens, Miss Clifford owns the rights to "Little Boy Blue," in which she appeared with so much success in New York several seasons ago under management of Henry W. Savage. Several picture concerns are at present negotiating with her, with a view to placing her in a talking adaptation of the musical comedy.

The piece was originally a Viennese operetta called "Baron Piccalo," the English version being written by A. E. Thomas and Paul West, while lyrics were by Grant Stewart, and music by Henry Berangi.

Noah Beery Sympathetic

At last, after a life of professional villainy, Noah Beery has been cast in a sympathetic role.

Beery is to play a featured part for Warner Brothers in "Under the Texas Moon," and it is said the role will afford him every opportunity to display his acting powers.

William Powell's New Role

In case you have been wondering what has become of your favorite actor, William Powell, it is with pleasure we announce that Mr. Powell bobs up as the third featured member of Paramount cast, which will interpret Mildred Cram's "Behind the Make-up." The other two featured players are Hal Skelly and Esther Ralston.

The story is based on Miss Cram's magazine story, "The Feeder," a tale of vaudeville life. Robert Milton is directing the production.

Jack Donovan is Starred

Jack Donovan is going serenely along his professional way. He has just been signed by International Films to star in a picture called "Why Women Love," which is being directed by Defider Tek, a young Hungarian director, who is a recent arrival in this country.

The film is being made at Tec-Art Studios, and Jean Porter is leading lady, while Tiber Von Jany is playing the heavy role.

Fan Bourke Leaves

Fan Bourke, noted Broadway character actress, who has been in the West playing in pictures, has returned to New York for the purpose of placing on the market her recent invention, a unique door-knocker which she has named "Fanny."

The actress recently completed an important role in United Artists' "Lummox."

Pictures Enjoy Wide Demand at Public Library

In this day of "saying it with pictures" it is to be expected that one of the popular public library collections is found in the picture room. Here are filed 25,000 mounted pictures and clippings on every land from Timbuctoo to Palm Springs, on every subject from embroidery design to Napoleon's snuff box with a goodly selection of reproductions of famous paintings. Eight hundred subjects are listed in the clipping subject file and the attendants have "an eye out" for every possible illustration culled from magazines, discarded books, gift books and Sunday rotogravure selections.

The motion-picture studios are apt to call on the picture room for a photograph of anything from a French telephone, or a stock ticker, to a laughing Buddha. Newspaper reporters ask for everything from a photograph of a California artist to a picture of San Francisco before the earthquake. Commercial artists request all sorts of design studies.

An unlimited number of pictures or clippings may be borrowed on a library card for two weeks. The average monthly circulation is 12,500 pictures and clippings.

Angeleno Makes College Record

Making the highest record in the medical school of the University of California at Berkeley, Maurice L. Horwitz of Los Angeles, a former member of the class of 1928 at the University of California at Los Angeles, compiled a record of a straight A average.

MAURITZ HORWITZ.

Horwitz graduated from the university with honors and in his freshman year at the Berkeley medical school carried the unusual amount of twenty units of freshman work.

Young Ensigns to Join Fleet

One hundred and fifty-four ensigns of the 1929 graduating class of 239 midshipmen at the United States Naval Academy have been ordered here for duty aboard fifteen units of the battle fleet, it was announced yesterday by the Navy Department. They will report to their respective ships by July 13, next.

John B. Webster, local boy who led the entire class with a four-year average of 902.96, will be attached to the U.S.S. California, flagship of the battle fleet, while Abraham L. Baird, of Ohio, who stood second with an average of 897.85, has been assigned to the U.S.S. Colorado.

RENT PAYMENT TURNED DOWN

Athletic Club's Check for Port Property Rejected by Harbor Board

Another attempt by the Los Angeles Athletic Club to get the Harbor Commission to accept payment of its quarterly rental on the lease of forty-five acres of frontage on the south side of Terminal Island, revoked by the commission the first of the year on the ground of failure to make certain improvements provided for in the lease, was turned down yesterday when Secretary Rouse was directed to return to the club a check for $600.

Three months ago $300 in gold was left with the commissioners as rental payment for the first quarter, the club insisting it did not violate the provisions of the lease. The gold was returned. The $600 offered yesterday was for the two quarters.

VARIETY BILL TO INCLUDE COMEDIENNE

Irene Franklin Will Head R.K.O. Attractions on Orpheum Stage

Emerging winner from competition with motion picture impresarios for Irene Franklin's immediate services, Radio-Keith-Orpheum announces the engagement of the celebrated singing comedienne and musical comedy star as the headline attraction inaugurating the new Saturday opening policy this week-end at the Orpheum. With Jerry Jarnagin, composer, at the piano, Miss Franklin will offer a distinctive program of new songs.

On the same bill will be the R.-K.-O. Collegiate Show, a rah rah revue staged by the R.-K.-O. production staff in New York. Included in the offering are twenty-five campus cut-ups, the Fourteen Brick Tops, a jazz band of vivacious red-headed girls; Clara Barry, Orval Whitlege, musical comedy favorites; the Runaway Four, mile-a-minute funsters; Ada Brown, "blues" songstress; Madie and Ray; Blomberg's Alaskans and others.

Paramount Will Offer Bancroft in 'Thunderbolt'

George Bancroft, the "he-man" laughing giant of the screen, appears at the Paramount Theater today in his latest, and said to be his greatest, talking or silent, picture, "Thunderbolt."

"Thunderbolt" brought together again Bancroft and Josef Von Sternberg, the young director-genius responsible for "Underworld," "The Docks of New York" and other artistic dramas.

In the role which Bancroft plays, that of Thunderbolt Jim Lang, he is seen as a gangster, racketeer, gunman and killer, who is finally captured and sentenced to death. The entire final sequences take place in the death-house at Sing Sing, where "Thunderbolt" remains brazen, without remorse until he is taken to the gallows. A strong and moving story for the picture has been written by Charles Furthmann and Jules Furthman.

Richard Arlen, who will soon make his debut as a star in his own right for Paramount, makes his talking debut in the new picture in the most important supporting role. Fay Wray plays opposite him. Other notables in the cast include: Fred Kohler of "Underworld" fame, Tully Marshall and Eugenie Besserer.

"Tunderbolt" will be augmented at the Paramount by a program of audible and silent short subjects. Chief among these is the two-reel musical revue, "The Ziegfeld Midnight Frolic," with Eddie Cantor starred. Milton Charles offers a new concert of numbers, and Raymond Page conducts the concert orchestra in the overture.

Hillstreet to Give Informal Midnight Show

A large array of screen and vaudeville talent will appear and entertain at the informal midnight premiere of Alice White's first all-talking, singing Vitaphone picture, "Broadway Babies," at the Hillstreet Theater tomorrow night.

Eddie Buzzell, Broadway stage and screen star, will officiate as master of ceremonies. Gus Arnheim and his Cocoanut Grove Orchestra, in addition to his specialty dancers and singers; Gus Edwards, Jack Benny, the comedy team of Buck and Bubbles and others equally well known, will be on the entertainment roster.

All prominent members of the cast, including Miss White, will appear in person. Among them are Charles Delaney, Fred Kohler, Sally Eilers, Tom Dugan, Marion Byron, Bodil Rosing, Jocelyn Lee, Louis Natheaux, Maurice Black and Director Mervyn Le Roy. The writers of the songs for the picture, Al Bryan, George Meyer, Harry Akst and Grant Clarke, will also be on the program.

Play Shop Will Show Puppets

"Yale Puppeteers," the first marionette show offered in many months, opens tonight at the Cordova Play Shop.

The personnel of operator includes Harry Burnett, Forman Brown and Richard Brandon. This nationally known troupe comes to the Play Shop direct from Prof. Baker's "47 Workshop," at Yale, on a transcontinental tour.

Their complicated and interesting show will close its engagement with Saturday night's performance. A special matinee for children will be given Saturday.

CONTRACT RENEWED

Clarice Gannon, youthful tap dancer from Earl Carroll's "Vanities," has renewed her contract with the Pom Pom, Hollywood, and will be featured at this popular after-theater rendesvous in "Hot Sands," current musical revue, under the direction of William Meiklejohn. Beginning tonight she will introduce the Cinderella Strut, new broken-tempo dance, with the Pom Pom show girls appearing in her support in startling costumes of moonbeam chiffon and rhinestone slippers. Clarice will also offer the breakaway, new jazz routine; the Louisiana Stomp, a slow-motion levee dance, and Hot Rhythm, fast tap number in which she scored in New York.

WESTLAKE SEES NOVARRO

"The Pagan," Ramon Novarro's newest and most picturesque film hit, comes to the Fox Westlake tomorrow for a three-day showing. This is the picture in which the popular Novarro makes his talkie debut and the star offers several song specialties during the action of the film. "Syncopation," Radio Pictures' latest triumph, boasting an all-star cast of players and a real line-up of vaudeville talent, closes at the Fox Westlake tonight. Waring's Pennsylvanians and Morton Downey are featured in "Syncopation."

Sisters of "Idle Rich"

Bessie Love and Leila Hyams
Take leading roles in the all-talking comedy starting today at Loew's State. When the daughter of a middle-class family marries her wealthy employer, the fun starts.

COMEDY TEAM AT CHINESE

Gala festivities will mark Saturday's midnight matinee of "The Broadway Melody" at Grauman's Chinese Theater, which has been designated as filmdom's and stageland's farewell frolic to celebrate the record-breaking run of the production, which has its final performances Sunday.

Appearing as guests of honor will be Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, Hal Roach's famous comedians, who will unveil new tricks in their impromptu presentations on the stage.

In the roles of star guests will be the trio of stars of "The Broadway Melody," including Charles King, Anita Page and Bessie Love, who will be seen and heard in extemporaneous novelties behind the footlights.

The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production has outstripped records for the length of run of any talking picture in Southern California, it is claimed, and large numbers of stage and screen celebrities are planning to take part in the frolic celebrating the achievement. With the final performance Sunday night, Sid Grauman's spectacular prologue, featuring Broadway stars, will pass into history.

PLAYHOUSE PUPILS IN "UNDER COVER"

Gilmor Brown Directs Old Play by Roi Cooper Megrue at Pasadena

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

Pasadena Community Playhouse has revived an old prewar vintage in that terse melodrama "Under Cover," from the pen of Roi Cooper Megrue, just by way of demonstration as to what the school of the theater has wrought in the manner of actual accomplishment.

The current offering of the playhouse, not valedictorian, although it comes from members of the school after but one year's tutelage, has roseate reflections. These young people acquit themselves with finesse and a nice sense of balance. They act with simplicity and naturalness and the drama does not suffer noticeably from lack of continuity. Curiously enough there is no boisterous declamation, no tendency toward overacting.

Perhaps at times a faster tempo would give a greater feeling of suspense. If there is a little lack of spontaneity and a touch of self-consciousness in spots, these superfluities will wear off as stage experience grows.

By the healthy and freshly vigorous complexion of their undertaking, Gilmor Brown and his associates indeed prove themselves. Their alignment is true. Clearness of vision and a fine sense of expediency are evident.

As for the play it is neither excursive nor discursive in the manner of its agitating revelations, which tumble pell-mell in tumultuous array, one upon the other. Smuggling among supposedly society crooks, intriguing and blackmailing customhouse officials, involving of a charming debutante of splendid character all form the raison d'etre for this really well-founded and humanly appealing melodrama.

The settings representing the Long Island country place are charming and well executed. Of the players, Mary Dukett, as Ethel Cartwright, gives a well-modulated and pleasing account of herself. As Michael Harrington, the jovial millionaire, Sherwood Walgamott is convincingly realistic. Mildred Stockwell, petite blond, as Nora Rutledge, is sprightly and blithely in the picture at all times. Laddie Knudson, though slightly self-conscious in the opening scenes, manages to give an even characterization of Steven Denby, the man of mystery. Wlyma Entwistle portrays the spoiled and pretty wife of the millionaire and as Monty Vaughn, scion of an old family, Parker Start manages good comedy.

"Paris Bound" Author Honored

Philip Barry, author of "Paris Bound," at the Hollywood Music Box, has been honored by Burns Mantle, who, in his "Best Plays of the Year," lists "Paris Bound" as one of the best ten seen in New York last season. Mantle also describes Barry as "a potential gold medalist," owing to the latter's originality in his authorship of "Paris Bound" and "Holiday."

O. D. Woodward reports that the new comedy is playing to larger crowds than were attracted to "Dracula." Contracts have been signed with Ralph Pincus for the July 1 San Francisco showing of "Paris Bound."

LITTLEFIELD YOUNG

For the first time in his career, Lucien Littlefield is to be seen by theatergoers shortly in a straight role, thus belieing his previous portrayals of old people. When "The Girl in the Glass Cage" is released by First National, Littlefield will be revealed as a young and gay Lothario, dapperly dressed in the latest of fashion.

CAST ASSEMBLING

Director Victor Schertzinger is assembling the all-star cast to support Jean Hersholt in his forthcoming Paramount all-dialogue production. Having recently completed a five years' contractural association with Universal, Hersholt is now free-lancing. Incidentally, this is to be Hersholt's fifth talking production since the advent of synchronized action.

Duffy Players Take Exercise in Many Ways

Every outdoor sport is indulged in by the members of the cast of "Skidding," which the Henry Duffy Players are presenting at the President and which is now in its fifth week.

Gale Gordon and Grace Stafford vote for horseback riding as the most exhilarating sport. Doris Brownlee is an expert swimmer. Emerson Treacy likes golf and tennis as do Walter Law and Bernice Elliott. Olive Cooper prefers walking to any other exercise, and is often joined by Clara Blandick, while Frederick Wallace, stage manager, is a baseball enthusiast. Edward McWade divides his allegiance between walking and riding.

"It's the most athletic outfit we've ever had at the President," says Ira La Motte, the manager. "All of them arrive at the theater in the evening in riding togs or sport outfits. And every member of the cast drives his or her own car."

Bosworth Gives Actress Praise

On the opening day of "Dancing Mothers" Paulina French, who plays Zola Massarene in the comedy which Belle Bennett and the Henry Duffy Players are presenting at El Capitan, received a letter from Hobart Bosworth, the screen actor, who wrote her:

"I remember with much pleasure your performance with Augustin Daly's company. To have been a member of that company, your status as a member of the dramatic aristocracy of America is assured. It was the greatest organization this country ever saw and there is only the Irving Lyceum in England and the Comedie Francais in Paris to compare with it."

Miss French was a member of the Daly company at the time Ada Rehan was the star, and such actors as John Drew, Mrs. Gilbert and James Lewis were in the casts. She sang the role of Lady Constance in Daly's production of Leslie Stuart's "The Geisha" and one of her favorite plays was Pinero's "The Magistrate."

Elmer Ballard in New Drama

As a result of his portrayal of "Soft Malone" in "Alibi," musical melodrama which is now in its final week at the United Artists Theater, Elmer Ballard has just been signed for a principal role in "The Woman Afraid," all-talking mystery drama, which goes into production at the Pathe studios in a day or two.

Ballard played the role of "Soft" in the third-degree scene of "Nightstick" on the stage here, and this portrayal resulted in his selection for the same role in "Alibi," when it was adapted to the screen.

The actor has only a brief scene, but it is effectively done, it is said. When Ballard went to see Paul Stein, director of "The Woman Afraid," in regard to the role, the director said, "I had you cast the minute I saw your portrayal in 'Alibi.'" The role in the new picture will be somewhat similar to that in "Alibi."

Following "Alibi" John Barrymore's new picture, "Eternal Love," is scheduled to open at the United Artists Theater Wednesday. The film is presented with a brilliant musical score by Hugo Riesenfeld.

CLAUDETTE COLBERT IN GANGSTER DRAMA

Beginning today, "The Hole in the Wall," a picture of crooked mediums and their antics, starts for a week's showing at Lazarus's Million Dollar Theater.

The story, which has a unique mystery element, concerns the experiences of a small-town girl who is plunged into the maze of a gang of metropolitan crooks. The girl is played by Claudette Colbert, with Edward G. Robinson cast in the leading male role.

The remainder of the program includes a selection by Abbey Krause, organist; a novelty act and an edition of Pathe sound news.

"COQUETTE" ARRIVES AT EARLY DATE

Helen Hayes Vehicle Will Follow "Bachelor Father" at Belasco

Helen Hayes will appear in the original version of the drama "Coquette" at the Belasco Theater July 1, immediately following the present engagement of "The Bachelor Father," now current there, according to an announcement.

Helen Hayes, one of the younger generation of stage stars, made her first appearance in the then new play "Coquette," by George Abbott and Ann Preston Bridges, under the management of Jed Harris at the Maxine Elliott Theater, New York, in November, 1927. Both the star and the play made an outstanding hit, it is asserted, and the piece played for more than a year at the theater.

Jed Harris is sending to Los Angeles the original company and production intact. The final performance of "The Bachelor Father," with June Walker, C. Aubrey Smith and Geoffrey Kerr and others of the original David Belasco cast will be given the 29th inst.

Conan Doyle in Sherlock Holmes Talk

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, famous author and creator of the fiction detective character Sherlock Holmes, is both seen and heard on the new program at the Fox Carthay Circle Theater via the Movietone.

In this interesting feature, which is an added attraction with Janet Gaynor's first talking feature "Four Devils," Sir Arthur is seen in his country estate in England and heard in an informal talk in which he discusses how he happened to create the character Sherlock Holmes more than forty years ago. After telling about the great detective he branches off into a discourse upon his reasons for becoming interested in Spiritualism which he admits is going to be his chief interest and study during his remaining years.

"Four Devils" is F. W. Murnau's latest achievement and besides Miss Gaynor its cast boasts such players as Mary Duncan, Charles Morton, Barry Norton, Nancy Drexel and Farrell Macdonald.

Theater Record Established by Follies Revue

The Fox Movietone Follies of 1929 enters its fourth week at the Criterion Theater today. All "In Old Arizona" records have been broken, it is announced.

At the Roxy Theater, New York, the Fox Follies hit the $110,000 mark on its second week, after having been held over from a tremendous first week which established a new eastern record, announcements said.

Fanchon and Marco in Los Angeles have decided upon a "Breakaway" campaign, which will include a nation-wide stage presentation of the famous dance. Starting at Loew's State, Los Angeles, the Fanchon and Marco "Breakaway" unit, based on the Criterion Fox Follies number, will tour the country, ending in New York.

On Friday afternoon the cast of the "Let Us Be Gay" company from the Mayan Theater will be the guests of the Follies girls at a special performance of the Fox Movietone Follies at the Criterion.

Yiddish Theater Booked at Mason

The Yiddish Art Theater of Maurice Schwartz is now definitely booked for its summer tour to the Pacific Coast which has been tentatively in the offing ever since the season closed on the home stage a month ago. The first season of this theater in California, booked by Edward Relkin, will begin at the Mason Opera House, July 7. The engagement will extend through the following Sunday evening.

On July 16 the Yiddish Art Theater will start its engagement in San Francisco at the Columbia Theater, playing through July 21. Other engagements to follow on the Pacific Coast are still under negotiation. The exact repertory for the California season has not been definitely decided but will include a number of the outstanding hits of the theater's eleven seasons, interpreted by all of the first-line members of the permanent company, such as Mr. Schwartz himself, Celia Adler, Lazar Fried, Ben-zvi Baratoff, Bina Abramovitz and others.

'Danger' Player in Routine Day

Doris Phillips divides her day into four parts. The 17-year-old actress who plays Ruth in "Danger" with Edmund Breese and the Henry Duffy Players at the Hollywood Playhouse, must attend school, according to law, so she starts out each morning with her books under her arms.

After luncheon she practices an hour at the piano.

From 4 to 5 she takes a lesson in dancing and in the evening she plays Ruth, the daughter, in the comedy at the Playhouse.

"I find that routine is the best thing in the world for a person," says Miss Phillips. "Of course, this does not leave much time to see friends or to meet social obligations but I feel well, my dancing gives me the necessary amount of physical exercise and I am always glad when the evening comes for the performance."

SUE CAROL AT RITZ

"Girls Gone Wild," the William Fox synchronized jazz film, starts at the Fox Ritz tomorrow for a two-day showing. Nick Stuart and Sue Carol are featured in the film and the cast also includes John Darrow. Tonight marks the final showings of "The Voice of the City," M.-G.-M.'s all-talking production by and with Willard Mack, famous playwright.

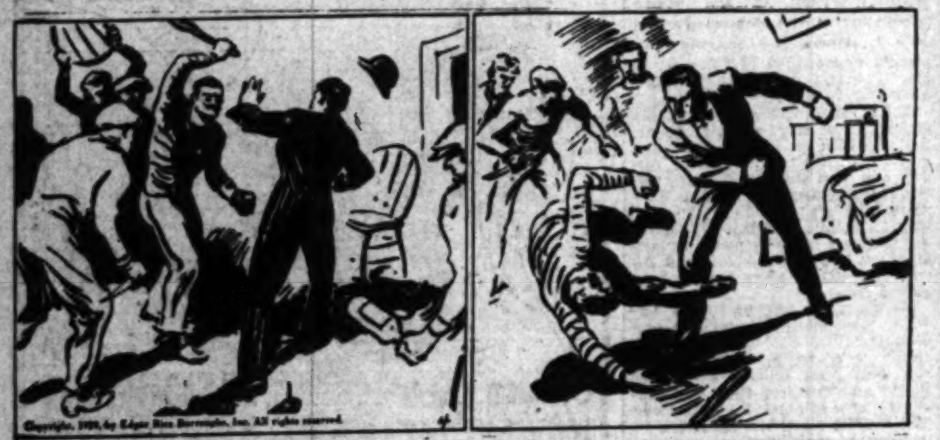
THE RETURN OF TARZAN

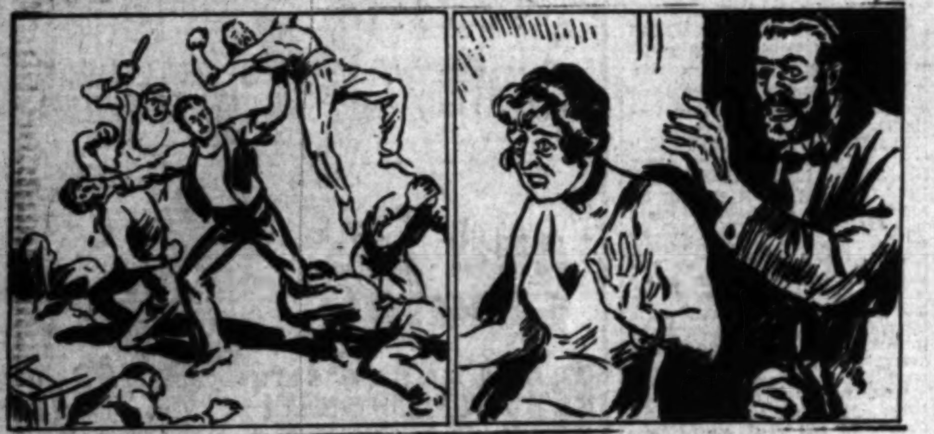
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Copyright, 1929, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

Tarzan turned just in time to see a burly brute of a man poised with upraised club, the others, drawing evil knives, now rushed upon him. But the brain, agility, and muscles that had coped with the mighty strength of apes and lions were not to be so easily subdued as these Apaches of Paris believed.

Tarzan, the ape-man, charged full upon his most formidable antagonist. Dodging the descending weapon, he caught the man a terrific blow that felled him in his tracks. Then he turned upon the others. This was sport. He reveled in the joy of battle and the lust of blood as the thin veneer of civilization fell from him.



His strong white teeth found the throat of one assailant. He fought as he had learned to fight the great bull-apes of the tribe of Kerchak. Panther-like, he leaped about the room. Bones broke in his iron grasp. Shrieks came from the bleeding Apaches.

The woman's face had undergone a number of changes as she watched the savage fight. From pretended distress it changed to horror. This man her cries had lured to what was to have been his death had turned the tables. She looked upon a veritable Hercules gone mad. And outside the door Rokoff awaited the outcome.

UNDER THE MORNING SUN

The way wound pleasantly in a cool shade between limes and firs. A dry-stone dyke overgrown with moss and lady-ferns bounded the road. On one side the hill rose steep, gray with brackens and splendid in morning sunshine; while on the other level water-meadows, from which the scent of meadowsweet and mint was carried, stretched away toward Tweed.

Curlew's were crying on the hill, and a few belated grouse; in the fields the singing of the lark was varied by the loud, twanging calls of snipe. The most charming scent in the world was all abroad—thyme and meadow-grass, fir and lime-blossom, and the indefinable fragrance of morning.

Sometimes a rabbit darted across, or a great ewe stared mildly at us as we passed. Stonechats flitted about; meadow-pipits (moss-cheepers in the picturesque Scots) made a continuous pipping over the bent; and in the short tufts below the pines grasshoppers were chirping as merrily as on that morning long ago when Theocritus and his friends went on their way to Pyxus. Between the straight fir-stems one could catch glimpses of bright water from the pools which Tweed had left in the haugh.

In winter these are not to be distinguished from the river itself when swollen high with rains; but in summer, when the stream has shrunk to a silver trickle, they lie fringed with flags and green rushes, the haunt of gorgeous beetles and innumerable wild-duck.—[From "Scholar Gipsies," by John Buchan.

PROSECUTOR ORDERS QUIZ IN ASSAULT

Vernon Police Inaction in Case of Injured Man Evokes Investigation

A controversy between District Attorney's investigators and Vernon police yesterday followed the reporting of an unexplained assault case taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

John Stath of 3544 East Fifty-eighth street took to the hospital a man recorded as Ben La Rosa, 40 years of age, 3234 Long Beach Boulevard, who had been beaten so severely that his skull was fractured. Doctors said he may die of the injury. Stath reported he found La Rosa lying unconscious at the rear of the Vernon police station.

When no information could be obtained from the Vernon police, the matter was taken up with Acting Chief Investigator Matthews of the District Attorney's office. Matthews telephoned to the Vernon police but could obtain no information, he reported, so he detailed Jack Chriss to make an investigation. Following this move, Police Chief Giles of Vernon reported his force had arrested E. C. Walker, 36, 15841 South Vermont avenue, on a charge of suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

Both La Rosa and the man who found him are employees of the Oil Well Tool Manufacturing Company.

Phone Company Moving Office of Information

Removal of the Southern California Telephone Company's information switchboard from the Central Office Building at 622 South Hill street to 433 South Olive street, is under way, E. E. Manning, division manager, announced yesterday. The change, costing approximately $103,000, is necessary to care for Los Angeles' 25,000 daily information calls.

There will be no interruption of information service during the transfer. The new system will make for more efficient information service. The change has been made necessary by the tremendous growth of the Los Angeles telephone system, which has tripled in size in a decade.

Cable containing thousands of these wires is being laid underneath Los Angeles streets at present to care for this project. In the Mutual Building, the operating unit will be inclosed in glass partitions, through which interested spectators may watch the proceedings of one of the most modern and efficient information telephone operating units in the country.

TRANSPORTATION BODY FIGHTS TRUCK CHARGE

Opposition to the truck tonnage charge provided for in the findings of the harbor rate committee, appointed by the Harbor Commission to investigate the commerce rate situation at the port, was expressed in a communication to the commission yesterday by the Motor Transportation Association of California. The association held that the charge would be passed on to the shipper in the form of increased rates and urged the board not to impose the charges as suggested. Secretary Rouse was directed to notify the rate committee of the protest.

Federal Bureau Experts Sail on Navy Transport

Will Spend Year in Gathering Pacific Ocean Data

Complete Revision Planned of Present Information

BY WALDO DRAKE

Weather data of the Pacific Ocean is to be completely revised by a group of United States Weather Bureau experts that sailed for Manila yesterday morning aboard the Navy transport Chaumont, to spend the next year aboard the transport as she makes her regular voyages back and forth across the Pacific.

A complete weather station has been installed on the Chaumont, together with a modern radio equipment for interchange of weather information with merchant and naval vessels traversing the ocean. The floating weather bureau will study continuously the winds, currents, barometric pressures, sea and water temperatures and storms peculiar to the Pacific.

Efforts also will be made by the group to develop a regular radio weather information service from certain merchant vessels plying in regular trans-Pacific service. Upon completion of its work, the floating bureau expects to completely revise existing weather and current charts of the Pacific.

Following departure of the Chaumont yesterday, Lieutenant Commander R. J. Weeks, in charge of the Navy Hydrographic Office at Los Angeles Harbor, stressed the need for a marine weather bureau at the port.

"We have hundreds of calls from merchant captains for barometer comparisons and we are not even able to give them that information because the United States Weather Bureau is twenty-five miles away."

Officials of the Weather Bureau in Los Angeles yesterday indorsed the efforts of local shipping interests to secure a branch weather bureau at the harbor, to be maintained by that bureau or as an adjunct to the Navy Hydrographic Office.

LOWER CALIFORNIA WHALE CATCH SHORT

Whaling off Lower California this spring and early summer has fallen off to almost half that of last year for the Mexican Whaling Company, according to Capt. M. Kiel, superintendent of the expedition. Capt. Kiel arrived here yesterday after bringing a sick engineer to San Diego

His factory ship Esperanca and four killer boats have moved up from Magdalena Bay to Cedros Island, and may soon follow the mammals farther north to Coronados Islands for another month. To date, he said, the harvest by his fleet had been around 7000 barrels, blue varieties dominating of late.

The California Sea Products Company, a San Francisco concern, has a similar fleet at Cedros Islands, and it is the prevalence of so many craft it is said, which is splitting results. The San Francisco fleet is expected to move soon to San Clemente Island, sixty miles off Los Angeles Harbor. The Mexican fleet, being Norwegian-owned is forbidden to whale in American waters.

All-electric auxiliaries frequently have been installed in big bait boats, but the first purse seiner to be so equipped will be commissioned by the San Pedro Boat Building Company within a week. It is the "Venus," an eighty-five-foot craft being built for James Elias and associates, to fish for the Southern California Packing Corporation. Electric auxiliaries include a cargo winch, turnable roller winch, refrigeration unit, and a thirty-horsepower Atlas Diesel generating set. Main power will be from a 250 horsepower Atlas Imperial Diesel. The craft will carry ninety tons of iced fish, and have a cruising radius of 5000 miles and a speed of eleven knots. The cost is $45,000.

Legal procedure to acquire the Plaza Park site for the proposed $675,000 Federal Building at San Pedro, was started yesterday according to officials of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce after conference with Samuel W. McNabb, United States District Attorney.

The procedure is expected to require at least nine months. Ninety days has been allotted a Los Angeles firm to secure an abstract of title, which will be followed by recommendations of McNabb to Washington, D. C., then the case will be placed on court calendar, and perhaps four months will be required for a decision.

The structure will house the San Pedro postoffice, branch customs and other Federal offices now scattered in the port city.

Basil Woon, novelist and humorist, with Mrs. Woon, will be an arrival from New York this morning aboard the Panama Mail liner Ecuador. Mr. Woon has been making a tour of the Spanish Americas in search of material for a new book on travel. Others of prominence arriving on the Ecuador will include the Misses Pauline and Lucy Sullivan, prominent socially in San Francisco; Mrs. C. D. McGee, returning to her home here from Persia, where her husband is engineer for American petroleum interests, and Thomas B. Main of Tryon, N. C., with Mrs. Main.
